If you like good film pictures you do not want to miss "The Conquering Hero" at the Grand tonight and tomorrow. Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry stars in this picture and make an even better impression on theatre goers than they did as stars in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse". E. C. Hilborn got a surprise for himself yesterday. He saw what he supposed was a flock of Canadian honkers passing over near his house in Victory Park and they looked good to him as his mouth watered at an imaginary goose dinner. He grabbed his trusty gun and went down the river apiece and let fly at the bunch bringing down a couple—only they were not geese—they were pelicans, and Ernie says he is not much on pelican as a side dish.

Sheriff Larson and Deputy Lippold followed their noses last night and wound up two and one half miles southwest of Tower City at the farm home of Ed. Mr. Hicks was informed that he was seriously fracturing the prohibition act and would be forced to face Judge I. J. Moe sometime today to explain his actions. For safe keeping they brought Hicks back to the city with them and he is now lodged in the county jail.

According to Robert J. Flaherty, F. R. G. S., explorer, discoverer and engineer, and producer and photographer of the Pathe novelty feature, "Nanook of the North," showing Friday and Saturday at the Grand theatre the Eskimo is the happiest human being in the world. Up there, at the top of the world, where man has nothing that he does not risk his life to catch with his naked hands, lives a race whose sole life is the pursuit of food. And his only food is the raw meat of the walrus, seal and deer, the salmon and wild birds. Yet the Eskimo is happy, content and peace loving. He never displays temper nor impatience nor anger. He never punishes his children. He speaks in a low voice, and his language is musical, and contains no swear words! He is wealthy only in the amount of food he has. Food is wealth, health happiness—life itself! Nanook, the hero of "Nanook of the North," is famous throughout all Ungava as a great hunter. In Nanook's language, his name means the bear. Nanook's wife and children share honors in "Nanook of the North."

The High school football squad is hard at work these days in preparation for their game at Casselton on Saturday. Reith, the Green township basketball star of last year, reported for work this week and is trying out for the back field. While he lacks experience he has weight and speed and should be a valuable addition to the team. Belknap will be eligible for next Saturday's game and is working hard for quarterback position. He is a heady player, is quick and, while small, is all beef and can keep most larger men busy. It is thought that his addition to the line-up will strengthen that position a lot. Jacobson is back in school and is working out for a position on the regular line-up, which his work seems to assure him. His weight and speed, coupled with his natural football ability, should land him either in the back field or in an end position. Indications at the start of school were discouraging for football prospects but the addition of new men in school and strenuous practice brightens the local's chances. The high school squad will have a practice scrimmage against the S. T. C. squad tonight.

There are traffic signs placed near the new high school building warning the automobile drivers to "Slow down to 15 miles per hour." Some person has changed one of the signs to read, "Slow down to 75 miles per hour." Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw received the sad news this morning of the passing away of the wife of her brother, F. A. Haskell, of Tracyton, Wash. Mrs. Haskell had been back to Herkimer, N. Y., visiting her relatives and former acquaintances at that place, and had expected to return west in a few days. Since going back to Herkimer she developed some serious ailment and an operation was to have been performed, but before that could be done, complications set in very quickly and she passed away suddenly. F. A. Haskell is the brother of Mrs. Trubshaw and the passing away of his helpmeet is sorrowful news for her and a heavy bereavement for him.

Those who attended the show at the Grand last night are unanimous in their praise of Viola Dana in "Glass Houses." Miss Dana appears as Joy Duval, who loses the money she has inherited and is faced with the necessity of going to work. After making herself up as a caricature office type in "sensible" clothes and horn-rimmed glasses she lands a job as companion to Billy Norton's Aunt Harriett. Returning home late one night she goes to the garage to sleep. Upon awakening she finds that Billy has also been sleeping in the garage. To save her reputation Billy marries Joy. The latter then appears in a chic frock, much to the delight of her husband. And, by the way, the lady patrons were heard frequently to "Oh" and "Ah" at the exquisite display of the latest styles by Miss Dana, and they attracted no less attention from the male portion of the audience. It is at this point that there occurs a series of complicated adventures with Billy laboring under the impression that his wife is a notorious crook. However she clears herself and the subsequent developments in doing so gives Viola Dana the merriest opportunity of her career, as patrons of the Grand theatre will readily testify.

ROTARIANS LUNCH

Yesterday was hospital day at the local Rotary Club, the program urging the necessity of adequate hospital facilities here. Frank Ployhar was the principal speaker for the meeting and gave a very good talk on the benefits which the city would derive from the establishment of a hospital which would be up-to-date and modern in every particular. Frank's talk was very good and brought home to the members the realization that this city is sadly lacking in that very essential particular. Another hospital program will be given in two weeks at which time John Tracy will speak on the financial aspect of the club's effort to get a good hospital established here. Len Ward spoke for several minutes on the second paragraph of the Rotary Code of Ethics, illustrating his talk by reciting incidents which had been brought to his attention by other Rotarians. Len's talk was thoroughly enjoyed by the members. It was announced that next Tuesday night the Rotary Club would be host to the teachers of the city and the Rotarians at 7:00 o'clock in the Guild rooms of the Congregational church, the Methodist Ladies Aid serving the dinner. The teachers of the high school, the State Teachers College and St. Catherine's Academy have all been extended an invitation to be present that night.

ALLIES MUST OCCUPY THRACE

London, England, Oct. 4—Allies must occupy Thrace to prevent a wide spread Turkish massacre while the Greeks evacuate, according to former Premier Venizelos of Greece, who informed American ambassador Harvey in a conference here today. Venizelos asked that Harvey inform Secretary of State Hughes of the situation and make suggestions that he impress upon the Allies the necessity for such occupation. It was authoritatively stated that Harvey has forwarded to Secretary of State Hughes such a cablegram. Harvey will confer with Foreign Minister Curzon this afternoon to get his opinion on the proposal. Venizelos admitted to Harvey that Greek evacuation of Thrace was inevitable. The Allies soldiers should march into Thrace as the Greek soldiers march out to prevent the massacre of Christians.

GRAIN LABORATORY IS ESTABLISHED

Geo. C. Jewett, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' Association, spent a day in Grand Forks recently conferring with officials of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' Association. Mr. Jewett informed the local officials that a laboratory for grading and testing grain has been established at the Minneapolis Sales Agency of the Wheat Growers', and that those in charge are in a position to grade and test sample grain for North Dakota members of the Wheat Growers' Association. The equipment was installed primarily for the purpose of making a grade and gluten test of all association grain that is received at the sales agency for storage and ultimate sale. Mr. Jewett stated that at the sales agency for storage the grain is given the gluten test as it arrives in Minneapolis, and is stored in separate bins according to the test. Millers are then in a position to know just what they are buying, and are always willing to pay a handsome price for high gluten wheat. It is a common occurrence, Mr. Jewett stated, for the association to get the top of the market for its fancy segregated grain.

Gaston J. Levy, who has been in charge of the Wheat Growers' laboratory in Portland, Oregon, for the last two years, is in charge of this department at Minneapolis. The equipment consists of grain grading apparatus, as well as machines for making the protein or gluten test. This department is able to handle as many as 100 samples per day, according to Mr. Jewett.

Mr. Jewett also stated that the seat obtained on the floor of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, was found to be a great aid in the selling of the membership wheat, as it enabled the association to get in touch with buyers, and gave an opportunity to display its wares by samples, that otherwise would be impossible.

Mr. Jewett stated that considerable over one-half million bushels of wheat had been received by the association in Minneapolis so far this season much of this wheat being direct shipment from farmers in North Dakota.

The Allies and General Ismed Pas-hac, commander of the Turkish western forces are meeting today at Mudania to conclude the preliminary peace parley agreement according to an exchange of telegraph dispatches from Constantinople. It was expected that the protocol will be signed this afternoon.

It was also reported that the Angora government had agreed to the terms of the treaty sent by the Allies last week. The result of these agreements has sent further orders to the Turkish troops to avoid further clashes with the Allied forces.
