THOMPSON URGES THE GOLDEN RULE

Strong Sermon on Capital and Labor Delivered Yesterday Morning.

GRACE TOWNSHIP PIONEER IS DEAD

Mrs. Thomas Steadman Passed Away at Larimore Sunday—Funeral Today

The application of the golden rule to the disputes of labor and will bring the golden age to both parties, according to Rev. A. H. Thompson, pastor of the First M. E. church, who preached on "An Experiment in Industrial Harmony, or the Golden Rule in Relation to Labor and Capital" Sunday morning.

"The struggle between labor and capital has been age long," declared Mr. Thompson. "A few usurped what belonged to the many, and the many have been engaged ever since in trying to get back what belongs to them."

"Coal for instance is a natural possession owned by all. A few have seized it, and charge not only for the mining and transportation, but for the coal itself. The same is true of water and other natural possessions. Foodstuffs are cornered, and the few enriched at the expense of the many."

"These, and other things, have caused a spirit of hostility, expressing itself in civil war, such as prevails in Montana and has prevailed in Colorado, West Virginia and other places. Capital and labor are the two hands which we must build the country, and this we can only do when they work together. As long as the laboring man is made to feel that he is not getting a fair return for his labor, or the capitalist feels that labor is holding him up, there will be war. We can only meet and co-operate on the basis of good will."

"Now all this the simple Galilean peasant told nearly 2,000 years ago. Moses led the way in his legislation for Israel, and Jesus summed up all previous legislation in that nugget of wisdom known as the golden rule."

Mrs. Thomas Steadman, aged 79, one of the pioneer residents of Grace township died of illness incident to old age early Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. McDonald of Larimore.

The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Larimore Presbyterian church, Rev. H. P. Case, pastor of the church, conducted the services.

Mrs. Steadman is survived by four sons, Thomas Steadman, David Steadman, Alex Steadman and William Steadman and two daughters, Mrs. C. McDonald and Mrs. Dan Crearer. Her husband died three years ago, and since that time Mrs. Steadman has resided with her daughter in Larimore.

She was an old resident of Grand Forks county, having settled in Grace township over 30 years ago, and has a large number of friends throughout this part of the state.

Schneeweiss Held—H. Schneeweiss, aged 19 is being held by the local police on a vagrancy charge. He is said to have pawned several pieces of jewelry "borrowed" from friends.

Gone Hunting—O. T. Blahoff left last evening for Gary, Minn., where he will spend several days on a hunting expedition.

CATHOLICS WILL FORM NEW PARISH

Plans for South End Church Discussed at Meeting Sunday Afternoon.

LANGDON PRIEST TO BE IN CHARGE

DeMers Avenue to be Boundary Between Old and New Organizations.

A new Catholic parish, with Father M. J. O'Driscoll as priest in charge, is to be formed in the southern portion of the city of Grand Forks.

Arrangements to this effect were made at a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the K. C. hall, at which the preliminary plans for the formation of the new parish were made by a large number of residents from the district affected.

Another meeting is scheduled to be held Thursday night at which plans for the erection of a church, and the selection of its location will probably be taken up.

DeMers Avenue Division. The new parish will comprise all of the territory lying south of DeMers avenue, the part of the city lying north of that line remaining to St. Michael's church.

The chief reason for the organization of the new parish is the long distance which many of the Catholics residing in the southern portion of Grand Forks now have to traverse in order to attend services at St. Michael's church. This is especially true in regard to the children.

The plan of the formation of a new Catholic parish to remedy these conditions has been discussed for some time past, and permission for its formation has now been received from Rt. Rev. James O'Reilly, bishop of the diocese.

Father O'Driscoll here. Father O'Driscoll, who presided at the meeting held Sunday, and is staying in this city as the guest of Monsignor J. A. Lemieux, said today that no definite arrangements regard to the location of the new church had as yet been made.

The matter has been put in the hands of a committee, which will probably report at the meeting Tuesday evening when definite arrangements for the erection of the new church will be taken up.

CHARLES ALGUIRE DIED LAST NIGHT

Paralysis Caused Death of Old Resident of City—Funeral at Home.

Charles G. Alguire, aged 62, died of paralysis at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his home, 121 North Fifth street.

He was taken sick at his store Saturday and was taken home. He had suffered two previous strokes of paralysis, and when the third stroke came late Sunday he succumbed.

No time has been set as yet for the funeral service pending the receiving of word from the brother of the deceased, Mr. A. Alguire of Barbary, Ill. The funeral will be held from the family residence, however, and Rev. J. K. Burleson, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church will officiate.

Besides his brother, Mr. Alguire is survived by one sister, Mrs. Richard Finley of Kincaid, Sask. His wife died some six years ago.

Mr. Alguire was born in Athens, Ontario, and came to North Dakota with his father over 30 years ago. They settled near Kellys, and engaged in farming.

Later Mr. Alguire moved to town, and for the last six years has conducted his second hand furniture business, still retaining his farming interests.

During his life in Grand Forks Mr. Alguire took a prominent part in the affairs of the community, and was universally respected as a citizen and a business man.

The Russian - a Strong Influence in the Fall Styles

That "Paris sets the styles for the world" is an oft-repeated statement, but the sources from which Paris herself gets her inspiration is not always clear. With the simple Russian dress as the inspiration, Paris with a deft touch has given America one of the most attractive styles that have appeared in years. The Basque, the Russian overskirts, the long, set-in sleeves, the semi-fitting bodice as originally produced in Paris, have been reproduced and adapted with thousands of delightful and characteristic styles by New York, and some of New York's leading makers have supplied us with the choicest garments of their designing. The past two weeks have seen dozens of large express shipments arrive in our Cloak Department direct from these designers.

We now invite you to view these models. You will find a surprising range of styles and a price to fit your purse.

The Best Ladies Sweater in the Country for $3

It is a big statement but big comparison with every line known to us we feel fully justified in making it.

Head of the Department in Model High School Will Arrive in City Soon.

V. E. Sayre, the new head of the manual training department at the model high school at the state university, will arrive in the city very soon to take up his new duties. He will succeed T. T. Lindsay, who resigned last spring to go into business in the state of Florida. Mr. Sayre will come here from Pasadena, Cal.

Business is very dull around the county jail at the present, only three prisoners being confined there. Jack Eglund was sentenced to 30 days for breaking into a house at Thompson. Frank Morgan was arrested at Devils Lake for larceny committed on the train while in this county. The third prisoner is Mose Harstisaw who was arrested at Kempton on a charge of assault and battery and later sentenced to 30 days. The terms of all three men will be up in a few days.
