SADIE P. MATHEWS IS KILLED AT LARIMORE

NECK BROKEN IN RUNAWAY TODAY

Is Daughter of Late Co. J. H. Mathews—Graduated From State "U."

LIVED ONLY THREE MINUTES AFTERWARD

Knocked down and Dragged 40 Feet by Animal—Thos. Munro Badly Injured.

Miss Sadie Mathews of Larimore, a graduate of the state university and prominently known over North Dakota, was killed almost instantly at 10:30 o'clock this morning, having her neck broken in a runaway accident. The accident occurred near the Great Northern railway station at Larimore. She was otherwise severely cut and bruised.

Colt Frightened. Miss Mathews alighted from her buggy at the railway station and asked Thomas H. Munro, who was standing nearby, to hold her horse. The latter took the horse by the bit. The colt suddenly became frightened at some object and made a dash to get away. Mr. Munro tried to hold the animal and Miss Mathews grabbed up the reins.

The animal succeeded in getting away from Mr. Munro and dragged Miss Mathews for about 40 feet. She was thrown under the animal, between the front and the hind legs. The colt, terrified, kicked and jumped, crushing and cutting the victim in a horrible manner. Miss Mathews was picked up under the buggy just as she and the horse and she died three minutes later.

The body of the victim was cut and badly bruised and received several bad cuts about the head and face, as well as having her neck broken. The horse was stopped after running behind a telegraph pole and the sidewalk.

Prominent Family. Miss Mathews was the daughter of Col. J. H. Mathews, who died at Larimore, where he attended college. Her father was well known throughout the state and was commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. of North Dakota.

Miss Mathews received a B. A. degree from the state university, graduating in 1900. She was an exceptionally fine young woman and was loved by all who knew her. She had complete charge of the New York farm, which includes over 1,100 acres of land. The farm was known all over the northwest for its fine breeds of stock. The animals raised on this farm have won prizes at many state and county fairs.

The deceased was one of the best known horse raisers in this part of the country. She was noted for her ability to raise the best and to handle a horse as well as almost any man.

Born in New York. She was born in Newburg, N. Y., in 1881, and came to North Dakota with her parents when only 3 years of age. She is survived by her mother and two sisters, Miss Maude Mathews and Mrs. Walter Larimore, all of them living at Larimore.

No funeral arrangements have been made yet.

Word received from Larimore states also that Mr. Munro was badly hurt while making an effort to stop the runaway colt. One arm and one leg were badly injured.

Two Released—Two negroes who said they were hunting for a lantern last night and who were picked up by the police who thought they were already sufficiently intimidated from within to need no artificial aid, were released this morning.

Infant Died Today—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill, 123 North Third street, died this morning. The funeral will be held at the family residence Saturday morning.

More Hunting Licenses—The number of hunting licenses issued by County Auditor Hans Anderson today reached 1,150. It is expected that at least 1,500 will have been issued before the end of the season.

Shopping in City—Mrs. S. Osborn and Miss Christine Bender of Thompson were shopping in Grand Forks today.

COMMITTEE TAKES NO ACTION

Another Session of Uniformity of Text Books to Be Taken Before Meeting at Bismarck.

No definite action regarding the uniformity of books in public schools of the state was taken by the text book committee of the North Dakota Educational association meeting at Fargo yesterday.

Another session of the committee will be held at Bismarck October 20, the day preceding the meeting of the state association at the capital city, and it is probable that recommendations will be prepared at that time, which will be presented at the general meeting.

Although the committee failed to act at the meeting Thursday, the matter was thoroughly discussed, and much valuable data contained in the reports of members from the various schools of the state was examined.

Plans were also made for the general meeting of the association next month.

DAY NAMED FOR FIRE PREVENTION

Governor in Proclamation Urges General Clean-up October 9.

Friday, October 9 will be observed in Grand Forks and North Dakota in general as "Clean Up and Fire Prevention Day," according to a proclamation issued Thursday by Governor L. B. Hanna, and received here today.

The governor urges that school children and adults observe the occasion by clearing up the rubbish in all parts of the city.

The text of the governor's proclamation follows:

Proclamation by the Governor. Today we are living at a time in the history of our country when the question of the preservation of our resources, natural and otherwise, is receiving a great deal of attention. The question of the preservation of any sort of property from extravagant or needless waste, should receive a kind of recognition in the general public. One of the vital problems which should be called to the attention of our people for a proper solution is that of the waste of resources to the immense waste of property and resources in all parts of the country by fire.

A year ago last winter our state legislative assembly saw fit to authorize a Fire Marshal Department for the State of North Dakota and from that time their action, along these lines, were a very wise and beneficial measure. Our fire marshal department is a new institution and it would seem that they are entitled to every aid and help in the preservation from and the prevention of fires, and remember a less number of fires means a reduction in the premium rate for fire insurance.

For reasons set forth, and deeming it eminently right and proper that we should call our special attention to the unnecessary loss by fire in this state, and in order to arouse the people to a more active interest in this matter, I, L. B. Hanna, Governor of the State of North Dakota, do hereby proclaim that Friday, the ninth day of October, 1914, be known as State Fire Prevention Day, and I earnestly recommend and ask that the children in our schools and the adults in their homes and places of business, observe this day by a general cleaning up and removal of waste and rubbish.

And, further, I would especially recommend and ask that the teachers in our schools and those at the heads of our other institutions and factories see that proper fire drills are on this day inaugurated and held at stated intervals thereafter, in order to prevent a horrible loss of life in case of fire.

Done at the Capitol, at Bismarck, this tenth day of September, A. D. 1914, L. B. Hanna, governor.

NEW PARISH HELD SECOND MEETING

Work on Catholic Church May be Delayed Until Next Spring.

Work on the new Catholic church which is to be located somewhere in the south end of the city will probably not begin before next spring, according to W. V. O'Connor, chairman of the committee which has been appointed to select a site for the proposed church.

Another meeting of the members of the projected parish was held at the Knights of Columbus hall Thursday evening at which the committee, headed by Mr. O'Connor, was selected to look into the question of a suitable location for the church.

It is known that a number of sites in the southern part of the city are being considered for the new church, but no definite selection has as yet been made.

Mr. O'Connor pointed out today that it would probably be impossible to get the work far enough advanced this fall before the coming of cold weather to make it worth while to begin construction during the present season.

It is probable, however, that a meeting of the committee will be held during the next few days, and the site for the new church definitely chosen.

AMUSEMENTS

The Minstrel Show. Reputation is a great thing, but once made it cannot be neglected and left to rest on its laurels. It must be carefully nurtured.

Richardson & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels their reputation years ago, thirty to be exact, and that reputation has been most zealously guarded ever since. It seems as though the fame of perfection must have been reached by them years ago, each each season they bring a still better show.

The press in the territory where they have appeared this season is loud in their praise, and when these talented colored boys start the fun rolling at the Metropolitan on Monday evening we may expect to sit up and take notice.

They will parade the principal streets, and "Bismarck's" Challenge Band, which accompanies them, will give one of their splendid concerts.

YOU DON'T HAVE to pay war prices if you trade with us. New Fall and Winter Goods have been arriving daily for the past few weeks and our stocks are complete in all departments. We will be pleased to show you our entire stock whether you buy one cents worth or not.
