THE WORK WILL GO ON.

The Herald has at all times been confident that, in some way or other, the work which was given such an impetus by the Better Farming association in this county will go forward.

Plans and methods may be changed, different forms of organization may be adopted, many things may be done in a different way, but the work will live and prosper.

The reason for this confidence is a firm conviction that, in spite of occasional halts and setbacks, progress is the order of the world.

Our resources in soil and climate are capable of producing much more than we are getting out of them.

The farmers' meeting in Grand Forks on Saturday gave a clear indication of the estimate placed on the Letter Farming work by practical farmers and representative men.

This is about the time of the year when predictions of an open winter or one of the other sort are made, based on the firmness of the goose's wishbone, the fur on the beaver, the slidity of the musk rat's house, or such other natural phenomena as the prophet has elected as his measure of the severity of the approaching winter.

And, when it is all done, we find that none of the prophets knew anything about it, and that all the predictions are quite likely to be wrong, except when, as is often the case, they are so contradictory that some of them must be nearly correct.

The early supposed flight of the waterfowl is often supposed to be a prediction of the early closing in of winter. It is not a prediction, but the sign of an accomplished fact.

When a man boasts of being slow but sure we are at least sure about the slow part.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR. Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop each itching and falling hair.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, thus avoiding a lot of muss.

THE PEOPLE'S WAY. New York Times: The quelling of the Roosevelt revolt in the republican party is a good thing for the country, it is a good thing for the democrats, and of course it is a good thing for the republicans. We are inclined to think it is a good thing for Mr. Roosevelt himself, although he can hardly be expected to take that view of the matter.

Since he left the White House Mr. Roosevelt has made a bad mess of it in politics. He set out to destroy the republican party and the republican party has renewed its strength.

It was the first day of school and the teacher was making up her records. "How many of you are tuition pupils?" she asked—meaning, of course, those who lived out of the city district, and must pay tuition.
