

WHAT THEY ARE DOING IN SOCIETY

The Plea. God, You made us, they say. Then You know that we can't forsake;

God, if he loved her best. You know that I wouldn't complain; To buy him pleasure or rest;

God, I don't like to beg. I never was one to whine. Why should he marry Meg. When his heart's all mine, all mine?

And, God, if You'll help me now. It means so little to You. I'll be so good, I vow.

And, God, if just for a while. You'll make him be good to me. If I lose him again, I'll smile.

So, God, in heaven so high. If You can feel for men. Stop it or let me die.

To enjoy a much needed rest Mrs. J. E. Stevens left this city this morning for her home at Lawton and will remain there until after the opening of the North Dakota legislature when she will go to Bismarck. The winter lecture campaign for the North Dakota Anti-Tuberculosis society is over, not to be resumed until April 1, 1915, and while in Bismarck Mrs. Stevens will work in the interests of the state tubercular sanatorium at Dunsmuir, several bills which the Anti-Tuberculosis society hopes to have brought before the legislative body and also will attend the society's annual meeting which will be held Tuesday, Feb. 2, 1915, in that city.

Mrs. Frank Van Fleet of Larimore who has been assisting Mrs. Stevens with the field work of the society left this morning for Minot, where she will spend three or four days in charge of the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. She will then go home for her vacation to remain until the lecture campaign is resumed in April.

Mrs. Stevens pronounces the field work of the society as having been extremely successful since the first of September. More people have been reached than ever before and there has been a much greater evidence of interest in the work of the society. The adopted plan of spending at least four days in each city or community rather than one or two days has been fruitful and will be continued when the field work is resumed in the spring.

The past two weeks have been the hardest of the winter campaign for Mrs. Stevens and her assistant, but they feel well repaid for their labors as every meeting they held was largely attended. They opened tuberculosis camps in Cavalier where they spent four days. They then went to Wahpeton on the invitation of Superintendent Fred Smith of the North Dakota science school and addressed several large gatherings in the state school, public schools and churches. They closed the work in Devils Lake where they worked with the women's federated clubs and presented the society's aim before every school child in that city, having meetings in the public schools, the state school for the deaf and dumb, and the Catholic academy.

A social item in the Minneapolis Journal yesterday that is of interest here is that George B. Clifford, a former Grand Forks resident, is to have his brother, Joseph E. Clifford, and family as his house guests during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clifford are Minneapolis residents but have just closed their summer home at Northome, Lake Minnetonka, and will spend the winter in California, leaving about January 15. Miss Ruth Clifford, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clifford, will come from Westover school in Middlebury, Conn., to spend the holidays in Minneapolis and their son, Herbert, will come home for the vacation from Occidental college in Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. L. Davis of Crookston, who has been visiting here with her daughter, Miss Helen Davies of the high school faculty, prior to leaving for Chicago to spend the winter, spent yesterday and Saturday on a farewell visit to other relatives in Bemidji, Minn. Mrs. Davies is accompanied by her son, Kirk Davies of Chicago, who will return to that city with his mother in a day or two.

A Christmas "kid" party will be the social event of next Friday evening at the Y. W. C. A. and it will be open to all club and all association members. There will be a brilliantly lighted tree, gifts, candy and popcorn and a real live Santa Claus. So there must be "kids." Therefore the guests will have to dress as little girls and be a child again just for that night.

Kappa Alpha Theta girls at the university will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Charles Hart of Portland, Ore., has been honored by Theta's national body with the appointment as chairman of the arrangements for the sorority's national convention in June 1915 to be held at Gearhart-by-the-Sea, near Portland. Mrs. Hart was formerly Miss Mabel Stoughton, one of the most active members of Kappa Alpha Theta during the four years she attended the University of Minnesota.

A chapter of the national domestic science sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, has been established at the North Dakota agricultural college at Fargo, the girls admitted to membership being the group known as Chi Gamma Psi. This national sorority was founded at the University of Minnesota and the installation was attended by a party of sorority girls from the sister state, chapter including Miss Beese Rowe, Miss Agnes Norton, Miss Charlotte Hilliard, Miss Inez Foster, Miss Georgia Elmer and Miss Baumgartner.

The installation was followed by several handsome social functions. The officers of the Dakota chapter are: Miss Elsie Stark, president; Miss Mabel Leet, vice president; Miss Lena Honnet, secretary; Miss Louise Fitzgerald, treasurer.

Miss Hazel Edison, the daughter of Mrs. Jamison Larimore of Larimore, who frequently visits in this city and is to wed Alton Farrell of Ansonia, Conn., early in January was made the honor guest Saturday afternoon at the most handsome and perfectly appointed luncheon that society folk of that city have enjoyed for a great many years. Mrs. Charles H. Doyon of Doyon, N. D., and Miss Emma Ashbrooke of Larimore were the hostesses and among their hidden guests were two Grand Forks ladies, Mrs. C. H. Madison of Sixth avenue and Miss Melvina Deltoche, a teacher in the Winship school, both returning home Saturday evening.

The residence of Mrs. Mary Ashbrooke, mother of Miss Ashbrooke, was the scene of the elegant function and twenty guests, all intimate friends of the bride-elect, assembled there. A wealth of cut flowers almost transformed this home into a garden of fragrance, blossoms for the season being used lavishly in all the rooms. The library had a color note of yellow and white with carnations of both hues predominating while the dining room was in pink and white. The luncheon tables were arranged in these two rooms and the guests found their places of means rings. Another pretty feature of the exquisite decorative scheme was the large freshly cut chrysanthemum at each place which held the small nut dishes.

The luncheon courses were delicious and in the serving the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Owen Ashbrooke.

A party of ladies from Hatton, who were week end Christmas shoppers in Grand Forks, included Mrs. Martin Stenno, Mrs. Gust Mellas, Mrs. S. Sando and Mrs. Tans Tensid.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jerome returned today to their home in Crookston after enjoying a pleasant week end visit here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Ford and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nockels.

Miss Blanche Holt of Blabon, a former university girl who visited the past week with Miss Eva Murphy at Larimore hall and attended the Alpha Phi festivities, has returned to her home and on January 1 will take up the duties of the new office to which she recently was elected, that of superintendent of the school in Steele county. While on her vacation trip Miss Holt also visited with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Johnson in Williston.

Bishop Samuel Cook Edsall of Minneapolis, who at one time was head of the Episcopal diocese of North Dakota, has just returned to his home after spending a week in New York city attending the meetings of the National Episcopal board of missions, he being a member of the board and also the executive committee. Bishop Edsall was accompanied home by his daughter, son-in-law and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Bands Hetherington, nee Mary Louise Edsall and Master Ferris, Jr., who will be holiday guests at the Edsall home.

On Wednesday, December 30, the marriage of Miss Coral Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox of 421 South Fourth street and Mr. Harry Banks of 1215 1/2 North 1st place in the city, the ceremony to be a quiet family affair at the residence of the bride's parents. The announcement was made by a parcel shower given at the Fox home by Miss Belle Hetherington and Miss Myra Fox.

The bride is a graduate of the Grand Forks high school and last year was principal of the Arvilla schools. The groom is a well known farmer of the area, vicinity and the couple will make their home in Fargo.

Mrs. Eleanor Haskett of Bottineau, wife of the late John F. Haskett, who was editor of the Bottineau Courant, was an interesting visitor in the city while enroute east to spend several months with relatives in Indiana and various points in eastern Ontario. Mrs. Haskett is now editor of the Courant, having taken full charge of the paper since her husband's demise and shows the marks of business as proven taxing to her strength she has made a splendid success and her paper is one of the best weeklies in the state. For several months Mrs. Haskett's health has been falling and she is taking this vacation trip in the hope that the change and rest will prove beneficial. While here Mrs. Haskett visited with her late husband's aunt, Mrs. John Nolan of University avenue.

Announcement cards reached the city Saturday evening bringing news of the marriage of Miss Frankie McDermott, a former Grand Forks resident, to Walter G. Bradley, a well known traveling salesman, who makes this city his headquarters. The wedding took place Dec. 1, at Manakato, Minn., where the bride's parents reside, and they will reside in this city, their at home date being January 15. When the bride formerly resided here she held a position as trimmer at the Vogue Millinery.

Miss Bertha Wold, of Hatton and Nichol Davidson, also of Hatton, were wedded at the Arlington Park hotel in this city Saturday afternoon, the ceremony taking place at 2
