

WHAT THEY ARE DOING IN SOCIETY

The New Year. A song for the old. While its knell is tolled. And its parting moments fly. But a song and a cheer For the glad New Year.

SPEAKER CLARK'S DAUGHTER TO WED

Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Clark of the House of Representatives, who is the best known young woman in Washington, has announced her engagement.

Mrs. Walter J. Brekke gave a charming afternoon at her Cherry street home when she entertained for her two guests, Miss Alfreda Brekke of Churchs Ferry and Miss Alice Hagen of Sharon.

Miss Luella Lee of Bagley, Minn., formerly a teacher in Reynolds, this county, will become the bride this evening of Roy S. Dean, son of Representative and Mrs. W. S. Dean of Holmes, this county.

Mrs. Dean and daughter Mayme, and L. D. Wyman of Northwood, grandfather of the groom, were held the head party and left this morning for Bagley to attend the wedding.

Miss Grace Henry, a former well known resident of Grand Forks who she was for several years connected with the millinery department of Benner & Begg, was a visitor yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrow of North Fourth street.

As has been the custom with the B. P. O. E. for years, that order will dance the old year out and the new year in, and the function will be the annual of this evening's social calendar. A large company of friends will join the Elks at this celebration, and from 9 o'clock till after 1 o'clock there will be merry-making in the ball room of the Elks' home.

Miss Lillian Hill, of the Northern Fire and Marine Insurance office force of this city, has been confined to her home at 409 North Fourth street with a severe attack of tonsillitis. Miss Hill will be unable to spend the New Year, as she had planned, with her parents at Erskine, but hopes to be able to resume her office duties in a few days.

Miss Clara Hyslop, of 317 Cottonwood street, will have as her New Year's guest, Miss Hazel Neilson, a member of the faculty of the valley city schools. Miss Neilson is a former classmate of Miss Hyslop's, being a graduate of the University of North Dakota.

Miss Blanche Webster left today noon for Crookston where she will visit friends and relatives for a few days and from there she goes to Twin Valley, Minn., to be the guest of her brother, Earl Webster. Miss Webster will be away about ten days.

Miss Pearl M. Snell of the Great Northern Loan company, has returned to her office duties after enjoying a pleasant holiday visit in Hamilton, where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Rickleby.

The Messrs. Gertrude and Florence Healy and Grace Loughlin of this city, and Winnifred Nelson of East Grand Forks, were guests at a most enjoyable house party given by Miss Merle Rutherford.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Olson at Hoopie will be interested in the news of the arrival of a nine pound baby girl at their home on Christmas morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McKinnon of Miss City, Mont., left today noon for their home, after enjoying a delightful holiday visit with Mrs. McKinnon's mother, Mrs. John Dinnie.

Howard Royce and sisters, Misses Grace and Agnes, of 815 University avenue, will leave tonight for Wahpeton to spend New Year's with their father, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Connelly.

Miss Lucy Beatt will leave Friday morning to spend the New Year with her cousin, Miss Emma Buck, of Manvel.

The annual dancing party given by the junior class of the high school was a largely attended social function of last evening. The party was given in the ball room of the Elks' home of Columbus hall and was attended by fifty couples, the younger society of the city including a group of boys and girls coming from eastern schools for the holidays.

The ball room was made attractive in the colors of the class of 1916, green and gold. The electric lamps were shaded, and pillars twined with paper ribbons of the two colors. The happiness of holiday time was in the atmosphere and the pleasure of the dance was enjoyed until 11 o'clock.

The following young people made up the company: Misses Maud Griffith, Adeline Heazlett, Glenna Griffin, Ruth Jacoby, Helen Routzahan, Pearl Reading, Ann Briggs, Hazel Dinnie, Dorothy Wells, Marie O'Gorman, Cora Webster, Mildred Westad, Estella Deichner, Frances Pierce, Louise Schwam, Ann McMahon, Elizabeth Kelly, Pearl Cranley of Cavalier, Marie Sully of Cavalier, Cronia O'Gorman, Thelma Terrie Thompson, Thelma Florence Reid, Lillian Wolf, Etta Bell Knowles, Dorothy Wright, Grace Asbury, Helen Terry, Pearl St. Lawrence, Aleda Roby, Rose Fischer, Pauline Lazier, Anastasia White, Nellie McMullen, Lillian Valeyly, Mabel Westacott, Eva Fairchild, Louise Whitbeck, Muriel O'Keefe, Thelma Thompson, Evelyn Maher, Bratrude of Reynolds, and Florence Spriggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Beatt of 519 Cherry street have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Etta Belle, to William Umlauf. Miss Beatt is a Grand Forks girl, having been born here and attended school in this city and is at present the very efficient assistant in the Thomas 'Porte' optical establishment. Mr. Umlauf was formerly a resident of Ashland, Penn., but for the last four years has been connected with the Red River Power company of this city.

The wedding will take place some time in January and the young couple will make their home in this city.

Master Richard Sterrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sterrett, former well known residents of this city, was a visitor between trains yesterday on his way to spend the New Year with his parents at Capota, South Dakota. Their many Grand Forks friends are glad to hear that they are pleasantly located and were pleased to have Master Richard for a visitor.

The Masons will give this evening in honor of the coming of the New Year and the party will be just for members of the order and their families. The Masonic ball game in the Pilsener National bank building and the committee in charge is doing a little extra in order to give the party a holiday dignity. The hours of the dance will be from 9 to 1 o'clock and at midnight a splendid lunch will be served. Excellent music will be furnished by the orchestra orchestra and a jolly good time is assured all.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Dinnie gave an informal dinner at 9 o'clock last evening at their home in the Dinnie apartments on Chestnut street in compliment to Mr. Dinnie's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. McKinnon of Miles City, Mont. D. McKinnon and perfectly appointed repast was served and covers were laid for the family members, including Mrs. John Dinnie and daughters, Alice and Hazel, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryan and two children, Louise and Charles, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Robertson entertained a small company of friends last evening at their Seventh street home. The pleasure was a delicious roast goose feast and the bidden guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Monley and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Paulson. Mrs. Robertson served at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. L. D. Crawford and daughter, Miss May Crawford, who have been holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thalle, 735 North Fifth street, returned to the city from a holiday yesterday morning. Miss Crawford, who is one of Caledonia's efficient teachers, will resume her school work on her return.

The wedding of Dr. A. M. Fisher and Miss Arline White of Mapleton, was solemnized at the home of the bride on December 26. Rev. H. M. Fisher, brother of Dr. Fisher, performed the ceremony.

Little Bedtime Stories

ROUGHLEG THE HAWK ARRIVES.

By Thornton W. Burgess. (Copyright, 1911, by J. G. Loyd.) When Mistress Spring arrives on the Green Meadows she brings with her a host of old friends who have been spending the winter in the sunny southland, and such a welcome as they receive from the little people who live on the Green Meadows the whole year through! But when Jack Frost comes down from the northland with rough Brother North Wind, and they bring with them a few who have spent the summer just on the edge of the Always Cold, there is no warm welcome for them. No one is eagerly waiting to give them greeting. You see, everybody is too busy trying to get enough to eat and to get ready for winter.

But there is one of these visitors who is not watched for by the Jack Frost arrivals. Not that any one is really glad to see him. Oh, my, no! But it is very necessary to see him; first, that is, it is for many of the little people, especially the littlest ones. So it was that the first thing every morning Danny Meadow Mouse anxiously looked up the edge of the that way up in the sky before he made the least move to run about, or before he would allow Nanny Meadow Mouse to so much as put her nose out of the door. Peter Rabbit was another who kept a sharp watch, particularly when he stayed over long in the Green Forest so that he could not reach the dear Old Brier Patch before daylight.

"He's here!" exclaimed Danny Meadow Mouse early one morning, quite as if he was glad. "Who's here?" asked Nanny Meadow Mouse. "Roughleg the Hawk," replied Danny. "Oh!" Nanny shuddered just a little. "You speak just as if you were glad to see him, Danny."

"I am," replied Danny. "I am glad to see him."

"Why, Danny Meadow Mouse, how can you say such a thing? You know perfectly well that he is just terrible. He's terrible, all right," replied Danny; "but just the same I'm glad to see him. Danny's eyes twinkled as he said this, for he saw that Nanny didn't believe a word of it. She didn't believe because she didn't understand. Nanny made a funny little face at him, as much as to say, 'You sb-
