HUNGARIAN MINISTER WOULD HONOR DEAD

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 8.—The Hungarian minister of justice has determined upon a little revolution in the legal phraseology for the sake of honoring men who have lost their lives in the war. He has ordered that in all legal proceedings and in documents respecting the estates of such persons they are to be referred to, not as "the deceased" or "the departed," as hitherto, but that the following words must be added instead: "Who died a hero's death for the Fatherland."

The Toledo Blade says that "there were nearly 14,000,000,000 telephone calls in this country last year, only two of which got us out of bed at 11:30 o'clock," but it does not state how much ball the two needed.

The cotton states have a larger crop of cotton this year than last year, notwithstanding the low price. A real southerner will raise cotton anyhow, whether he can sell it or not.

CITIES RESTORING RAVAGES OF RUSS

Berlin, Aug. 8.—No less than twenty-four communities—cities or districts in most cases—throughout Germany have established aid associations to take over the work of rebuilding and rehabilitating the places in East Prussia that were partially or entirely destroyed by the invasions of the Russians. Each community through its aid organization becomes sponsor for some one city or district in the east and as soon as possible will do away with state assistance.

SWISS WILL CARE FOR WAR ORPHANS

Solothurn, Switzerland, Aug. 8.—A woman, who thus far is known only as "Frau Gertrud," is interesting her Swiss sisters in a proposition to take over, for the balance of the war, orphans from the neighboring countries. The Swiss authorities in this canton already have been able to approach the governments of two or three countries at war, and have been told by the German authorities that "Frau Gertrud's" plan is thoroughly acceptable to them. A number of orphans probably will be sent here from the southern German states.

BELGIANS DRESS IN KHAKI CLOTHES

Dunkirk, France, Aug. 8.—The Belgian army is now clothed in khaki instead of the dark colored and conspicuous uniform of the earlier months of the war. It has been a popular change, since the khaki of the British soldier has been much admired by the Belgians as both smarter and a military advance.

The sanitary situation along the Belgian front is excellent, and the sick report is exceedingly small. The bodies of dead horses and men floating in the area covered by water have been fished out and destroyed, and the country in general cleaned up back of the lines.

Belgian officers have established little chicken yards back of the trenches for fresh eggs, and angling for carp in the canals is one of the chief recreations of officers and men when off duty.

HE WOULDN'T WEAR IT.

"What are you studying now?" asked Mrs. Johnson.

"We have taken up the subject of molestation," answered her son.

"I hope you will find it very attentive and practice constantly," said the mother. "I tried to get your father to wear one, but he could not keep it in his eye."

HIS MISFORTUNE. A horse dealer sold a horse to a farmer, assuring him it was a beauty, without a single fault. The farmer met the dealer some time after, and said, "I consider you fairly swindled with the horse you sold me, and I must have compensation."

"Oh," said the dealer, "what's the matter with him? He is just what I said he was, ain't he?"

"No," said the farmer, "you said he was without a fault, and the horse is stone deaf."

"Well," said the horseman, "that isn't his fault—that's his misfortune." —Weekly Telegraph.

"I paint things as I see them," said Dobbert, complacently, as the critic inspected his "Moonlight on the Hudson."

"Interesting!" said the critic. "Have you ever thought of consulting an occultist, Dobbert?" —Life.

BAD ENOUGH. "Bathing suits are one-third of the week. Next week, though, they may be one-half off."

"Then buy now," suggested her husband. "One-third off is had enough." —Louisville Courier-Journal.
