THE PARTY BUGABOO.

The New York constitutional convention drafted a document which is not perfect, by any means, but which is believed by many eminent and level-headed men to be a vast improvement over the present constitution.

FOREIGN TRADE.

For the first time in the history of the nation the value of American exports for a year exceeded the sum of three billion dollars.

Of course the exports of war materials have aided in swelling the total but it must be remembered that the vast bulk of American trade in war munitions exists in the form of contracts yet to be filled.

In the matter of imports the figures may surprise many readers. From Germany and her allies we have imported very little.

And military controversies whose merits are outside of strictly American interests. In a word, can the would-be debtors probably pay their bills when due, and is it to our advantage to let them have the credit they ask?

ARMENIAN MASSACRES.

The astounding statement is made that within a few months nearly half a million Christian residents of Armenia have been put to death by Turkish authority, and that another half million have been rendered homeless.

The treatment of the Armenians by the Turks is one of the foul blots on civilization, and the responsibilities for it rest largely on the nations which call themselves Christian and civilized, for they have permitted the butchery to go on, and the Turkish government, under whose authority these crimes have been committed, has been propped up and perpetuated.

It would be a mistake to suppose that the eastern people who are called Christians are all suffering innocents and the Turks all ravening marauders. Those who may have entertained such an opinion must have had their eyes opened during the two wars in the Balkans.

The atmosphere of southeastern Europe has been an atmosphere of violence and brutality. And the strong have persecuted the weak, have pillaged and killed to their hearts' content, and the greater nations have permitted this to go on.

THE REJUVENATION OF YOUNG JOHN D.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., seems to be beginning life all over again. We are apt to get a false impression of his age from the fact that he is commonly known as the son of his father rather than a citizen in his own right.

The student of human nature and sociology found material plenty in Grand Forks and East Grand Forks last night. The student of the western air seems to have got into the quiet districts of the north-west and marched into the province of East Grand Forks.

And it was a motley crowd that paced the damp streets and alleys looking for a night's berth. Some found it in jail; some crawled into barns and old buildings; some stretched themselves under the eaves of shanty-shedding tenements.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION'S WAR ON LIQUOR WILL BE MEETING KEYNOTE

Marion Lawrence, commander-in-chief of North America's Organized Sunday School forces, will speak to the citizens of Grand Forks on Friday, October 5, concerning the great war on the liquor traffic now being waged by the International Sunday School association.

Marion Lawrence, International Sunday School Association.

The particular occasion of Mr. Lawrence's visit to Grand Forks, is to head the International Sunday School association's general secretary, Dr. Geo. H. Lau of Detroit, Mich., director of music. The party will hold a series of educational and inspirational meetings for the uplift of all phases of work in the Sunday school.

Mr. Lawrence believes that the way to hold the boys and girls in the Sunday school is to build a strong wall of men and women around them, and the way to hold the adults is to give them a definite program of service for the uplift of their community.

Mr. Lawrence is a man of authority. He speaks from years of experience. He says that the Sunday school work is growing so fast, it is necessary to read the daily papers to keep informed.

Born of humble parentage in a small Ohio town, he has made his way to the very pinnacle of Sunday school fame. From 1889 to 1899 he served the Ohio Sunday school association as its secretary and has served since 1899 in his present position as the general secretary of the International Sunday School association.

Associated with him in the International Sunday School association are men and women who are experts in elementary and teen age work, adult bible class work, temperance, missionary, purity, evangelistic, teacher training, home visitation and all other branches of Sunday school endeavor.

The International association, of which he is the general secretary, through its subsidiary state, provincial, and county associations, conducts annually 20,000 conventions, has about 200 paid workers who devote all their time to Sunday school organized activities, and has 1,800,000 volunteer workers who serve as superintendents and teachers in 175,688 Sunday schools with an aggregate membership of more than 18,400,000 persons. It is interdenominational—helping all and hindering none.

A. I. Hunter and J. R. Carley of the First National bank of this city, have disposed of their interests in the First National bank of Towler, N. D., controller of which is just being disposed of in the hands of T. L. Belsaker of Pesendun and H. H. Bergh of Towler.

Others who were associated with Mr. Hunter and Mr. Carley in the Towler bank and who disposed of their interests, too, are: D. N. Tallman of Willmar, Minn., and R. A. Fox of Towler.

J. N. Kuhl, a former member of the state legislature, who has been cashier of the bank for a number of years, also passes from the institution. He is considering offers from Alton, Iowa, and Emerson, Neb., and probably will accept one of these.

T. L. Belsaker succeeds Mr. Carley as president. Mr. Belsaker is the active head of a number of North Dakota financial interests. Mr. Bergh becomes cashier, succeeding Mr. Kuhl.

WILL ISSUE SEMI-WEEKLY. Norman Changes From Weekly Publication—New Plan Becomes Effective in October.

Announcement of an important change in the publication plans of The Normandean, the Norwegian newspaper publisher in Grand Forks, was made today, the new plan contemplating a semi-weekly issue, beginning the first week in October.

This plan has been decided upon by the publisher because of the rapidly growing opportunities in this field, and Mr. Thorndyke to fill the demand that is being created.

Under the semi-weekly plan, The Normandean will have a greater advantage over its competitive Norse papers.

honestly and hard to earn money enough to advance themselves—men who do not care for the life of the saloon. These men gave no trouble and got away from East Grand Forks early. A few, of course, were caught in the maelstrom and went under.

For the most part, though, the crowd that thronged DeMers avenue after 11 o'clock was made up of men who had no other object in life but to remain in front of a beer and whiskey-drenched bar, peering into huge mirrors with blurred eyes and looking upon seared and hardened faces.

When the clouds dissipate and farmers again are able to resume their work, these men will go back to the fields—but only for a few days. Alcoholism will come again, and they will march forth. Again will they go about, sans friends, sans money, sans everything.

HORACE NELSON DIES IN CHICAGO

Former Larimore Resident, Son of Deputy County Auditor, Passes On.

Horace Conrad Nelson, aged 48, second oldest son of Deputy County Auditor John Nelson, and the late Charlotte Eleanor Nelson, died Friday at his residence, Charlotte apartments, 326 Madison boulevard, Chicago, after an illness of some months.

Mr. Nelson underwent an operation two years ago under the famous brain specialist, Dr. Cushing, of Boston, for tumor on the brain. Since then he has fairly good health, until last March, but he has failed since that time.

The funeral will take place Monday, and interment will take place at the Forest Home cemetery in Chicago. Mr. Nelson was born at Morristown, Ill., and came with his parents to Larimore, where he was reared until he was 18 years old. He then went to Chicago, and shortly became manager of the Lee Drug house, in which capacity he served for a number of years.

He then founded a prosperous drug business of his own, but retired two years ago on account of ill health. Mr. Nelson was a graduate of the Northwestern university of Chicago, and a prominent member of Masonic bodies.

He leaves his wife and one son, Horace Conrad, his father, John Nelson, and sister, Mrs. Alice Nelson Page, of this city, and four brothers, Clement Nelson, St. Louis; Albert T. Nelson, Breckenridge, Minn.; H. R. Nelson, Jackson, Tenn., and Vance W. Nelson, of Salt Lake City, Utah.
