

LOCAL ENGINEER ROBBED VICTIM

W. J. Frye Loses $8 to Pair of Toughs in Larimore Railroad Yards.

W. J. Frye, a Great Northern engineer residing in Grand Forks, was held up and robbed of $8 while in the yards at Larimore last evening.

Frye had left his locomotive, going for a lunch, and was accosted while so doing.

Two men turned the trick, putting an electric flash light on him and leveling a pair of revolvers at him while they went through his pockets.

Capture Gunman.
A gunman, giving his name as Ralph Stahl, was jailed by Larimore authorities last evening, and was brought here today charged with carrying concealed weapons. On being searched a revolver was found on the man.

Chief of Police LaBine of Larimore brought the man here.

TO CONTROL TIME SIGNALS

University Radio Station Installs Special Clock for Regulating Daily Signals.

The University Radio Station has recently installed a special clock for controlling the wireless daily standard time signals sent out by the station from 5 minutes to 12:00 until 12:00 mid-day. The new clock is an instrument of great precision and is carefully adjusted to the National Observatory time by daily observations on the wireless signals sent out from the station at Radio, Virginia, commonly known as the Arlington station.

The university has been sending standard time signals for nearly two years but some inaccuracies have occurred in the past owing to the impossibility of regulating the old clock to the desired degree of accuracy. Various time receiving stations in North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota and Manitoba will now be assured of a daily service accurate to the nearest second. The time signals are followed, as hitherto, by the weather forecast for North Dakota and Minnesota.

ANALYSIS IS NOT COMPLETED

Inquest Into Death of Joseph Cools Cannot Be Held Until Stomach Examination is Completed.

The chemical analysis of the stomach of "Belgian Joe" Cools, who was found in a dying condition on the Riverside line street car tracks last week, has not been completed. At least, "there is nothing to report" in regard to the analysis, it was said at the public health laboratory today. Just as soon as a report is made to Coroner McLean regarding the examination, an inquest will be held.

WAS AT GOPHER UNIVERSITY

Elmer A. Daniels, Instructor at North Dakota, Working for Ph. D. at Minnesota.

Mr. Elmer A. Daniels, instructor in chemistry at the University of North Dakota, spent the summer at the University of Minnesota. He carried on research work in organic chemistry and bacteriology. The work during the summer will apply toward a degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Minnesota.

MANY RESERVING DINNER PLACES

Trefz Will be Greeted by a Large Number at Club This Evening.

Edward F. Trefz, field secretary for the Chamber of Commerce of America, will speak at the Commercial club's first bi-weekly dinner of the fall season tonight. Mr. Trefz, who is making a special trip west, will arrive in Grand Forks late this afternoon from the twin cities. He leaves tomorrow morning for Minot.

The club will have as its guests tonight, aside from Mr. Trefz, Dr. A. E. Winship, well known lecturer and educator of Boston and the male students of the senior classes of the state university, Wesley college and the high school.

Aside from discussing the work of the National Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Trefz will touch upon civic affairs in the Grand Forks. He also will speak of commercial and industrial affairs as affected by European occurrences.

The dinner begins at 6:15 o'clock and there is every indication that it will be attended by a large number.

NIGHT SCHOOL BEGINS SOON

Third Annual Session to Open About First of November—Many Ex- pected to Enroll.

According to an announcement by Superintendent F. E. Linton, the East Grand Forks night school will open for its third annual session about the first of November. This is a part of the regular public school work, and is the only school in the two cities that affords employed boys and girls an opportunity to improve their education along practical lines, without interfering with their regular work.

There will be courses in shorthand, typewriting, sewing, cooking, book-keeping, penmanship, commercial law, commercial arithmetic, English and any other subjects for which five or more persons might apply.

BOOK BY UNIVERSITY MAN

Dr. Geo. P. Jackson of German Department to Publish Volume on German Folk Songs.

A new book which is to appear in the near future is the "Rhythm of the German Folk Songs," by Dr. George P. Jackson of the university German department. The book will be published in serial form coming out in four installments in Modern Philology. Dr. Jackson has examined minutely over two thousand folk songs and the results of his research will appear in the new book. Modern Philology is the foremost journal of America devoted to research work in the field of English, romance and German philology. The magazine is published at the University of Chicago by a board composed of the most prominent American scholars in the modern language field. The first installment of the new book will be published in the October number.

SHAW FUNERAL IS HELD TODAY

Impressive Services at Ma- sonic Temple—Remains to be Shipped Tonight.

Funeral services over the remains of Holten A. Shaw, who died suddenly Sunday morning, were held at the residence, 510 1/2 street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The services were in charge of Acacia Lodge No. 4, A. F. and A. M.

At 2 o'clock the impressive services of Blue Lodge Masons were conducted in the Blue room of the Masonic temple. These services, of course, were attended by masses only.

Tonight the body will be shipped to Waldo, Wis., where burial will take place Thursday. Casala Lodge of Plymouth, Wis., about six miles from Waldo, will have charge of the funeral. The remains will be interred at Waldo, beside those of deceased's father and brother.

Charles Allen will accompany the body to Wisconsin. The officers in charge of the services at the Masonic temple and the residence were: J. B. Wineman, acting master; Charles Allen, senior warden; Theodore B. Elton, junior warden, and Dr. C. E. Coles, chaplain.

At the residence, the regular Masonic ritual services for the home were conducted. Dr. C. E. Coles gave the invocation and spoke briefly. The pallbearers were D. M. Holmes, Charles Allen, P. W. Spaulding, A. M. Lodmell and W. H. Alexander.

FARMERS URGED TO SAVE CORN

All Players Competing for Golf Trophy Must Present Their Scores at Once.

Grand Forks golfers who have been competing for the Palmer trophy and who have not yet handed in all of their cards, must have such cards in the hands of Mr. Murphy this week. Play in the event has been suspended and the announcement of the result will be made when all cards are turned in.

MEN ARE KEPT ON THE MOVE

Grand Forks Police Pick Up Sus- picious Transients and Make Them Continue Journey.

Residents of Grand Forks are experiencing little difficulty with undesirable transients because of the inclement weather, simply because the local police have promptly arrested all suspicious characters and kept them on their way.

This morning there were but half a dozen "jags" and "vags" in the city jail, and they were given suspended sentences on condition that they leave the city at once. They all decided to go.

The transients are being watched carefully, and all suspicious characters are promptly arrested. By doing this, the police have prevented several men, armed and equipped with burly outfits, from plying their trade hereabouts.

GETTING READY FOR WORK

Physical Director Carpenter of Y. M. C. A. Preparing for Opening of Fall Classes.

C. C. Carpenter, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., is completing arrangements this week for the opening of gymnasium classes next Monday. Mr. Carpenter has arranged for classes in every department.

The gymnasium equipment has been improved and increased during the past month, so that the work of the director will be much more effective. Mr. Carpenter also is preparing for the special activities of the physical department, such as the basketball and volleyball leagues, and indoor baseball league also may be formed.

CHEMISTRY CLASS IS LARGER

Larger Number of Students Taking Organic Chemistry—Testifies to Growth of "Varsity."

An interesting evidence of the increase in university activities this year is the growth of the organic chemistry class. The class has doubled in size. A considerable number of students from the colleges of liberal arts have elected this class. These students in addition to the medical students who are required to take the course make the class larger than it ever has been before. One of the serious problems which confronts the chemistry department is room. This lack of room is felt in the conduct of the organic chemistry class.

ARDOCK MAN TO CONVENTION

Dr. John Montgomery on Way to In- dianapolis to Attend Tubercu- losis Conference.

Dr. John Montgomery, of Ardock, N. D., passed through Grand Forks today enroute to Indianapolis, where he will attend the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis as a representative of North Dakota. He was appointed a delegate by Governor L. B. Hanna.

The meeting promises to be one of the most important anti-tuberculosis conventions ever held in America. Over 1,000 delegates from the middle western states are expected to attend. It is estimated that approximately 100,000 men, women and children in the Mississippi valley lose their lives annually as a result of tuberculosis. It is estimated that there are 500,000 consumptives in the valley.

Debts or Dollars

One of the tendencies of the age is the desire of people to live beyond their means—to make credit take the place of cash—to have debts rather than a balance in bank. Credit has ruined thousands. A Bank Account has never ruined any one. You can always get credit when you have a Bank Account. You cannot always get credit without one. Why not begin your account here? Debts or Dollars—you can accumulate either.

The Passing of the Horse

Paris, Mo., Mercury: The University Missourian notes that the buggy is passing, and in an excusable jeremiad laments the fact, doubting if John can court Agnes with the same inspiration or Agnes cuddle up to John with the same effectiveness in a motor car. The buggy is a debatable article used to be a commonly accepted sentiment that all love matches were made in heaven, but this was a mistake, due like that which declared that the baby was left as a head of cabbage under the kitchen stove the night before, to the habit of elderly people of adhering to tradition long after it had been found to be groundless; of the unaccountable human twist that persists in substituting the most unwarranted fiction for the facts of life.

Up to ten years ago all love matches were made in buggies, driving along shady lanes or summer roads, reaching June and a bank of wild roses near the country church to September and the snowy climatic clambering over the old front porch at a pair of yellow kid gloves. There was no hurry—there never should be in such matters—and the buggy just rambled leisurely along, sometimes through the yellow and mellow sunshine amid far-reaching vistas of gold and green wrapped in potential silence and again down leafy alleys and amid the rustle of leaves it were a sacrifice to speak. It may have been an August night with the stars hanging in silver shewn down the street, it may have been amid the precinct calm of an afternoon in early October, with the gold filtering into drab and the world drowsing into restful sleep. It may have been on the way home from the protracted meeting, with the whippoorwill crying plaintively from the foliage near the old covered bridge.

Once it was one glorious and never-to-be-forgotten Sunday morning in June. Whenever it was, field, sky and stream seemed in subtle sympathy. About you, as the commonest, re-echoed the eternal harmonies. Buggies were truly divine instruments, in unending tune with the infinite, and, admitting some reservations, they have really been part of that "heaven" which elderly folks, always obscure, and tired doubtless of the increasing frequency with which the aged were being placed under the kitchen stove, alluded. That an automobile, of necessity the instrument of despatch, which is used in a hurry and eliminates the pastoral impact essential to correct results. To a romance by the river's brim is just a primrose and nothing more and that the stars are but the diamond studded pins which hold together the atoms of the sympathetic night has never occurred to it. It never stops to bark to the cry of the night bird or watch the evanescent glow of a firefly, and, even if you go to hold hands, will just as like as not come up short with a puncture. It prevents the old man from being a part of the cosmic forces acting in sympathy and precludes inspiration. What can be done at best with the smell of gasoline, the heat of the motor, the scent of night and hedonic laughter rasping the vast and intimate silences amid which all beautiful things find birth. Nature, whose hosts and armies are hedonism. We should not be surprised because the cabbage heads being placed under the kitchen stove are not near so numerous as formerly.

SOCIAL SURVEY OF UNDERTAKING

Pictorial Review: In the United States there are today something more than 30,000 undertakers. Attracted by the enormous profits to be made in the funeral business, they are constantly swarming into the business. At the time the school of philanthropy made its investigation there were according to a check paper, 410 undertakers in Chicago. On the average, each undertaker secured a trifle more than one funeral a week. In New York City there were 1,100 undertakers and about 74,000 deaths annually, which gave each undertaker an average of less than four funerals in three weeks. For the country as a whole, the average was less than one funeral a week for each undertaker. Some undertakers got more than one-half of all the business during a given period, leaving 420 undertakers to divide the other half. Many undertakers had no funerals at all during these two weeks. In the course of an entire year they would secure only a handful. Others would get only one or two funerals a month. Yet each undertaker had to keep up his establishment, where he had one—pay office rent, bills for light and heat, clerk hire and other expenses, and in addition make a living, all from the profit of one or two funerals a month.

But it is not the lack of business alone that makes necessary this great margin of profit. One of the leading undertakers of New York City said to me: "There is every cent of $50,000 in unpaid bills on our books. We have to make up that loss or we could not stay in business. So we have to charge high prices and the people who do pay make up for those who don't."

At a recent chautauqua, I heard a man deliver an address demanding better treatment for convicts in penitentiaries. The speaker was in the enjoyment of a liberal salary for acting as a penitentiary director. I demand better treatment for gentlemen who are not in penitentiaries; for gentlemen who have liberty, and use it to be industrious, useful and decent. I declare that the gentlemen not in penitentiaries are robbed too much; that they pay a tax rate that is unnecessarily high, and that they are bothered in their legitimate and useful work by laws enacted by idle politicians.

WHAT HE THOUGHT.

A barber, after scraping away industriously for a few minutes, made the usual inquiry: "Razor all right, sir?" "My good man, if you hadn't mentioned it, I should have never known there was a razor on my face."

SEND 246 MEN TO FRONT.

Suva, Fiji Islands, Sept. 28.—Out of a population of a little over 4,000 Europeans, the British colony of Fiji has officially sent 115 men to the front, and another 130 have gone independently. The total is thus 246 or about one-sixteenth of the entire white population.

Right Now Is the Vital Period

This is the vital period in the development of Grand Forks. The next two or three years will see determined, to a large extent, the future position of this city in the state. Now is the opportune time to be constructive. This is the time of all times to lay the foundation for future greatness.

There is abundant work to be done. Real constructive work which will mean more and more to Grand Forks as time goes on. In the final analysis there is just one factor that will determine what this city is to be. THAT FACTOR IS ITS CITIZENS. The men and women of Grand Forks, with proper organization and co-operation, can make this city the leader in this state in all lines, and keep it there.

Ambition, energy, hard work, initiative are necessary. Each citizen must see that his own business or other form of activity is developed to the fullest possibilities. And collectively we must work unitedly along constructive lines.

Are you allied with this Club? This Commercial Club is using its best endeavors to work out future greatness for Grand Forks. Every form of human endeavor is open to criticism. None of us are perfect. Are you giving of your time and thought and money in the working out of Grand Forks' future? If you are not allied to this Club, we need you.

The Commercial Club of Grand Forks has over five hundred of the leading citizens of Grand Forks in its membership. There are a few who, for one reason and another, are not members; not many, but a few, and we want that few to help us.

The Commercial Club of Grand Forks

This club has nothing to sell. Its business is to promote Grand Forks city and county and North Dakota. It represents all interests alike.
