THE WATER THAT HAS PASSED. Listen to the water mill. Through the livelong day. How the clanging of its wheels. Wears the hours away. Languidly the autumn wind. Stirs the greenwood leaves; From the trees and shrubs sing. Binding up the sheaves; And the proverb haunts my mind. As a spell is cast: "The mill will never grind With the water that has passed..."

Work while the daylight shines. Man of strength and will; Never does the streamlet glide Useless by the mill. Wait not till tomorrow's sun Beams upon the way. All that thy canst call thine own Lies in the past; Power, intellect and health May not, can not last; "The mill will never grind With the water that has passed..."

Oh, the wasted hours of life That have drifted by; Oh, the good we might have done, Lost with a careless sigh; Love that we might once have saved. By a single word; That's conceived, but never penned. Perishing unheard. Take the proverb to thine heart, Take it to thy soul; "The mill will never grind With the water that has passed..."

JUST POLITICAL KICKS. Madison State Journal: Ex-President Taft scores President Wilson on the ground that the latter's Mexican policy is "neither watchful nor waiting..." Ex-President Roosevelt misses no opportunity to denounce President Wilson's foreign policy in toto. It is time that a good-sized, courageous, justice-loving audience hissed these ex-presidents off the stage when they made such attacks. Taft, as president, has a right to say what he got nowhere, settled nothing and he handed our relation with Mexico over to Woodrow Wilson in the rankst sort of condition. He should have kept his mouth tightly shut about Mexico from the date that he was turned out of office, by a country unanimous, save as to Utah and Vermont. As president, Roosevelt's most important action toward foreign nations was his "taking" of Panama, an act of such dubious character that it is questionable whether he will not have to make a public apology and pay $25,000,000 in order to ease the national conscience and conserve the national reputation for common honesty...

But even if the foreign policies of these two men, both tried as president and both later repudiated, had been above criticism, the fact remains that there is no improvement on policies which they so vigorously condemn. They do not say what they would do were they in President Wilson's place. They do not say what they assume the capacity of experts but declare no remedies for the alleged evils. Anybody can make a kick. The expert who kicks in, in justice and reason, bound at least to suggest a remedy. If the public is to draw its own conclusions as to what Taft or Roosevelt would do, it is necessary that they should strongly resemble Wilson's and that Roosevelt would "take" Mexico, Germany, Austria and Turkey...

The Taft-Roosevelt criticisms of Wilson's foreign policies are purely

The Quality Goes IN Before the Name Goes ON. Price. PRICE should not be the main consideration in the selection of a piano or any other musical instrument. Unless the musical qualities are present, it is worth nothing. A piano is selected for the home not because the price is low, but because of what you hope to secure from it, namely, music, pleasure, entertainment, refinement, and a musical education for the children. Cheap pianos give neither music nor enjoyment. Their disproportioned, poorly finished cases suggest anything but refinement, and their sluggishness of action and lack of tone not only discourage the pupil, but absolutely deprive him of the proper conceptions of music. Crown Pianos are essentially musical instruments. Their fine tone qualities cannot but produce good music. And this good music means endless hours of pleasure and entertainment for family and friends. The artistic designs and finely finished, beautifully marked woods suggest culture and refinement—the kind of piano you are proud to have in your home—to have your friends see—that brings you prestige and their respect. Beauty of tone, ease and responsiveness of action, give the child the proper conceptions of music. Ear and fingers are trained perfectly from the start and the pupil is encouraged to master the greater difficulties of a musical education. And the careful manner in which Crown Pianos are built, the selection of materials, skilled labor, sound ideas and high ideals, make them the lifetime kind. And please remember the investment feature. A well made piano, like a well built house, lasts longer, gives greater service and enjoyment, and brings more cash when finally disposed of. Do you want a piano of the lifetime kind? Send for our booklets which explain piano values, also what to look for in the selection of an instrument for your home. These booklets contain real piano information, and guided by them you are sure to select a good piano. They are FREE for the asking. Mail the coupon TODAY.

If Coffee Came in Capsules

as its drug, caffeine, is frequently sold, coffee drinkers would wake up to the fact that coffee is not a food but a drug.

Yet in spite of the warnings of reputable physicians, many persons fail to realize the harmful effects of caffeine, coffee's subtle, habit-forming drug. Taken regularly this coffee drug—the frequent cause of nervousness, heart-flutter, headache and other ailments—sooner or later gets its hold.

Look coffee in the face—read what physicians and health experts say: (Names on application)

- "Coffee is a dope and narcotic almost equal to opium. Slowly but surely it gets control of its victim and holds him in its grasp a pitiful, helpless victim." "Coffee is a drug. Those addicted to its use are drug addicts." "Some people get the craving for alcohol by first taking tea or coffee." "They (the tea and coffee drugs) are comparable to opium in that they induce a habit and should be avoided."

Right now, Mr. Coffee Drinker, is the time to find out whether or not coffee has a hold on you. It's simple and easy—quit coffee ten days and use
