

ONE KILLED WHEN N. P. PASSENGER AND STOCK TRAIN MEET HEAD-ON AT ANGORA, N. D. THIS AFTERNOON

(Herald Special Service.)
Jamestown, N. D., Oct. 16.—Engineer John Wandland of Jamestown, was instantly killed and Fireman Martin Fitzjar and Conductor P. F. Delmore, also of Jamestown, were slightly injured when the passenger train they were running crashed into a stock train standing on the main track at Angora, N. D., between Starling and Driscoll. The wreck occurred at 2:05 o'clock.
The exact cause of the wreck is not determined, as railroad officials have not completed their investigation. The stock train was standing on the main track and the passenger train was supposed to go through the siding. The switch was closed, so that that theory is done away with. Officials are endeavoring to determine why Engineer Wandland did not stop his train before reaching the siding. The two engines are badly damaged and the main car and one or two freight cars were badly broken up. The engines did not turn over. It is not known whether Engineer Wandland was crushed to death in his cab or whether escaping steam scalded ties that are coming to this state through the operation of the Smith-Lever bill and the advantage of the federation supplementing that work by furnishing aid to new clubs not provided by other agencies.

Resolved, that we endorse the good roads movement, believing that the success of the rural extension and the development of the state depend in large measure on proper condition of highways, and the easy accessibility of the market, the school, the church and social amenities.
Resolved, that we favor the establishment of an art commission in North Dakota as recommended by our governor to the last legislature, so that our public buildings, statues and memorials to be erected may prove a wise expenditure of money—under artistic supervision which shall enhance the natural beauties of the state.
Resolved, that we approve the movement for a community center and teachers' manse in connection with the consolidated township school, as advocated by President Pennybacker of the general federation.
Resolved, that we have greatly enjoyed the presence at this nineteenth federation in North Dakota of so many officers from the general federation, Mrs. Pennybacker, president; Mrs. O'Keefe, secretary, and Mrs. Winter, chairman literature department, by their gracious personality and practical assistance have given us new inspiration and an increasing realization of our opportunity for service.

Resolved, that we deem a special vote of thanks is due the city of Minot for the many courtesies and cordial hospitality extended through the federated clubs of Minot, the state normal school, the Commercial club, the Elks' lodge and the musicians and the other individuals who contributed so much to the programs and to our entertainment.
We especially appreciate the kindness and ability of the author, the director, and the participants in the playlet which has added so considerably to our enjoyment—and to all participating in the preparation and production of the unique and beautiful entertainment staged at the normal school.
Respectfully submitted, Josephine M. Lederal, chairman; Nellie B. Hanna, Mrs. Guy Grove, Mrs. E. B. Page, Mrs. E. M. Butts, Mrs. Elizabeth Harman.

M'ADOO MAKES VIGOROUS PLEA

Asks for Navy that Can Face any of World Powers in Case of War.

Kansas City, Oct. 16.—A vigorous plea for a navy which would make the United States able to face any other world power and in addition a forty million dollar merchant marine to be used as a naval auxiliary in case of war, was made by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in an address before the Kansas City Commercial club yesterday.

"Mechanical and military developments of the last few years have destroyed our natural barrier of three thousand miles of ocean," said the secretary. "It is not for aggression that we must have an adequate navy, but to take the place of this former barrier and to be able to say to the world that we are prepared to uphold the honor and majesty of this great republic."
Auxiliary Needed.
"Fighting equipment alone, though it be of the best that the resources and brains of the country can prepare, will not accomplish this purpose. A navy can be no better than its auxiliary, since battle cruisers and submarines are not built to operate long without a renewal of supplies and men. Supply and hospital ships, with a speed equal to that of the fighting ships, and a tonnage sufficient to replenish the fighters whenever and wherever called upon, are as necessary to a navy as the guns of the decks of the battleships."
The plan of the administration, Mr. McAdoo said, is to appropriate forty, or possibly fifty million dollars to be put into a merchant marine to be used in extending the commerce of the nation in times of peace, but so constructed, equipped and manned to become immediately the necessary naval auxiliary.

"There is one advantage our neglect of ocean commerce in the past now gives us," Mr. McAdoo said. "That is that we can now start fresh and outdo anything ever done by any nation in the same line. The commerce of South America and the orient is ours for the taking, and we must take them."

ONE POWER CAN STOP ATROCITIES

Germany is Only Nation that can do Anything for Armenians Says Bryce.

London, Oct. 16.—"There is only one power that can stop the Armenian atrocities, and that is Germany," declared Viscount Bryce at a meeting yesterday at the Mansion house, in support of the lord mayor's fund in aid of the Armenian sufferers. He declared that the only remedy was to bring the pressure of world opinion, particularly of neutral opinion, to bear on Germany and force her to take action.
Viscount Bryce, who proposed a resolution condemning the reported atrocities, paid tribute to the intelligence and progressiveness of the Armenians, who, he said, were far superior to the Mohammedans, and he declared the case was not so much one of religion, fanaticism as it was of deliberate extermination of a people of whom the Turks were envious.
The horrors of the massacre exceeds anything in the history of persecutions, declared the speaker. Women and children, he said, had been driven across the Arabian desert with whips by the Turks, who went mad and at Trebizond carried their victims out to sea in boats and drowned them.
"Women, many of whom were as highly civilized as any of us," he declared, "have been sold into slavery and Mohammedans, who are the most untruthful excuse offered by Germany for the Turks to the effect that the Armenians had rebelled, the speaker declaring that the Armenians were 'quiet and inoffensive until forced to defend themselves.'"

SUFFRAGE GETS PLACE AT MINOT

Featured at Final Day's Session of the State Federation.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 16.—The state suffrage meeting, with Mrs. Clendenen presiding, was an enthusiastic one, even though the suffragists had been having a long full week of business and speeches at the federation. A number of resolutions were presented and discussed, among which was the decision to stand by their political friends in all future elections. Also to support papers who were friendly to the cause and published propaganda news. To stand by the work of women and juvenile officers in the different communities to work for permanent and constructive peace, for better civic conditions, better educational advantages for all better babies, and for better environment for the youth in both rural and city communities.
Many Inspirational Features.
The meeting was full of other inspirational features, such as a talk by Miss Marshall, the Minot policewoman; Mrs. Blough, who is same officer in Grand Forks, and Mrs. Poppler of Fargo.
Mrs. Quain of Bismarck talked on the work of the last legislative assembly in its relation to suffrage, and Miss Ward, also of Bismarck, spoke of the necessity for a suffrage organ and its support of suffragists. A program committee was appointed to draft the year book for the 150 leagues in the state.
The only new officers elected were vice president at large, Mrs. J. M. Gillette of Grand Forks, and press secretary, Miss Satterlund of Washburn.
A supper dinner was served at the Leland hotel in the evening and a ride around the town and surrounding country was given to the members of the party.

Resolved, that fully appreciating the relation that the babies of today bear to the future welfare of our great nation, we endorse the week of work for the better baby movement beginning March 4, recommended by the general federation of women's clubs. We further endorse the efforts being made for the extermination of tuberculosis by the observance of the week set apart for that work.
Resolved, that we endorse the action of the board of directors in arranging to extend the facilities of the federation for rural extension work. We appreciate the importance of the extension movement, the opportu-
