

RURAL CHILDREN MOST DISEASED

More Ill Health in Country Districts Than in the Cities.

Deville, Ill., Oct. 24.—There is more ill-health—more disease—among children and adults in rural America today than in our cities, said Dr. Thomas D. Wood of New York, chairman of the Committee on Health Problems in Education of the National Education Association, in an address before the Illinois State Charities conference here.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Quickly Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about 25¢ as compared with the store-bought kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

of country people and children over those living in the city, have been reversed, and now it is confidently affirmed that for the entire population city dwellers are more healthy than those who dwell in rural districts; city life is more healthful than that of the country.

"It is just as true, however, and startlingly significant in view of the preceding statements that most of our best human material for the future and for the nation still come from the country. If rural America is still to be a satisfactory nursery for human life, it must be made healthful and attractive. It must furnish a generous fraction of the best of the population and it must provide conditions favorable for the cultivation of the best, at least so far as the biologic and all the fundamental qualities of life are concerned.

"The problem, then, of bringing about sufficient improvement in the healthfulness of rural life to provide a worthy birthplace and nursery for the best human stock, is not simply a problem of the rural school of the farm or of rural life in general, but it is a great, pressing problem of the nation affecting national safety, national prosperity and national perpetuity.

GERMAN WORKING MEN WHO DO NOT ENTER WAR MORE PROSPEROUS NOW

Wages Paid Laborers and Men of Trades Has Never Been Equaled in History—Some Workers Are Unfit For War.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The huge drains and losses of thirteen months of war have had the paradoxical effect of placing the German workingman in a position of prosperity unexampled in his history; of raising his wages by and before, and of almost completely solving his non-employment problem.

The faster men at the front have fallen and holes in the ranks had to be filled, the better has become the situation of the men at home, the higher have mounted the savings banks deposits of the few doing the work of the former many.

employment bureau, on the one hand during the week ending November 2, 1914, and on the other during the week ending August 21, indicate as suggestively as anything else how unemployment has dwindled with the advance of the war. The following figures covering some of the more important trades serve as good examples:

Unemployed metal workers received in the November week 6,879.39 marks in August 276 marks; building trades workers in November 1,858.85 marks in August 220 marks. Lithographers, 616.40—8.50 marks; painters, 279.85—12 marks; textile workers, 744.10—52.69 marks; printers, 1,750.80—8 marks; tobacco workers, 67.50—4 marks; wood workers, 11,081.35—470.39 marks; transportation company employees, 4,322.15—19.10 marks.

AMERICAN PAPERS GET NEWS FIRST

Complaint is Made in Germany—Think they Should get news Ahead of U. S.

Amsterdam, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The German newspapers have widely reproduced an article in the Kiel Nachrichten, complaining over the alleged tendency of the government to give out news to the American papers which ought first to have appeared in the German press. A reply to the complaints has now been made through the semi-official Frankfurt Zeitung.

Germany is, the action seems so sagacious and such a matter of course that it is surprising that anyone should dare to speak of preference being shown to the foreign press. It was most essentially a matter of political expediency that Dr. Helfferich's statement should be made direct to the American newspapers.

RUSSIA-SWEDEN RELATIONS, TALK. Stockholm, Oct. 26.—A long semi-official statement has just been published here with a view to reassuring public sentiment regarding relations between Russia and Sweden over the question of Russia's extensive fortifications in the Aland islands. The statement merely announces that Russia informed Sweden fully regarding the nature and object of these defenses before beginning them. Presumably the defenses are not to be maintained after the conclusion of peace.

The organized trades are piling up small fortunes in their treasuries against the time when they have to begin paying out the non-employment benefits that just now have dwindled to the vanishing point. And the government is practically pledged to supply millions of marks, if necessary, toward this same end.

The labor situation in Berlin today is more than a fair measure by which to gauge the situation throughout the empire. The needs of the army therefore, which have called for most of the men who are fit, has created a greater shortage of workers in the small towns than in the cities, and the labor situation, from the men's point of view, in the former is in general even better than in the latter.

In Berlin the situation never was so bad as from the standpoint of the worker—as the following figures will attest. At the great central employment bureau maintained by the principal branches of labor in Berlin, between 45 and 50 trades are represented.
