IRISHMEN NOT EMIGRATING. (Hartford Courant.) Lady Aberdeen told an audience in Boston that emigration to Ireland is on the decrease, and that instead of being a country of old men and children it is becoming a country of sturdy manhood. Ireland has no doubt suffered much in the past through the loss of many of her best young men and young women through emigration, but as the speaker said, the land purchase acts and other similar measures have greatly transformed the country.

Plans are being made to give a short entertainment at the annual turkey supper and bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Mendenhall Memorial Presbyterian church in the church parlors on Wednesday evening. Excellent specimens of needlework, besides a great variety of cooking and fancy articles will be offered for sale by the ladies on that evening. The proceeds will go into the general church fund.
FIFTEEN APPEAR IN COURT. Hedburg Pleaded Guilty to Vagrancy Charge, But is Given Suspended Sentence. Business remained brisk in municipal police court this afternoon when fifteen prisoners were arraigned before Judge William Rasmussen on various charges.
Andy Hedburg, a transient, arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of vagrancy pleaded guilty to the charge. His sentence was suspended on condition that he leave the city. He gave his promise to leave this evening for Bemidji.
Hedburg was accused of making his living from the proceeds of gambling among the saloons of the city, enticing laborers to play poker games.
The rest of the prisoners were given suspended sentences and marched across the N. P. bridge into North Dakota, where they were handed over to Chief of Police Lowe.

Workmen's Union Send Memorial to Governor Pleading for People.
Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 13.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Pleading that three million persons dependent on the industries of Poland are starving, the Workmen's Union of Poland has sent to the governor general, Herr von Beseler, a memorial urging the reopening of the factories, the adoption of a protective tariff, and the return of machines, mechanical fittings and especially belts and gears, which were taken out of the factories and work shops during the early days of German occupation.
The memorial states that "the working population of Poland includes 30,000 workmen in factories." Included in the families of these workmen, the industrial population reaches a total of three million persons, with a normal income of about $150,000,000 a year.
A certain proportion of this population, it is stated, has been sent to Germany, and another section are receiving aid from their former employers—where the latter are still able to help them. "But there is still a great mass of people who are actually starving," says the memorial, "and for the sake of these persons it is advisable to put at least some of the factories into operation, especially the sugar, vinegar, and yeast factories, mills, breweries, sawmills, brick yards and foundries."
The memorial deals briefly with the question of articles commandeered by the German military authorities, stating that the complete confiscation of all raw material would paralyze industry, and that enough machinery should be left in the factories to enable them to continue in partial operation.
The customs tariff promulgated on June 22 by the German commander is criticized as unsuitable, because it fails to protect Polish industry, and even in normal times would bring about its ruin. Therefore the establishment of the old tariff is asked. There is a further demand for lowering of railway rates, which are alleged to be now on a burdensome and impossible scale.
A SETBACK. In Evangeline—How do you like my new hat?
Caroline—I think it is charming. I had one just like that last year.—(Philadelphia Evening Ledger).

FRANK BRANGWY'S STRUGGLES. (Christian Science Monitor.) Frank Brangwyn, whose frescoes are such a remarkable feature of the decoration of the exposition at San Francisco, is an artist with literally a world reputation. His reputation has just won for him, in Paris, the compliment of the presentation of a Breve vase from the French government. Like most great artists, however, Mr. Brangwyn had his struggles in earlier days, and on one occasion he made an effort to raise what Mr. Jeremy Diddled would have termed the ridiculous small sum of $19 on one of his pictures. The dealer looked at it, and proposed 10 shillings. The artist indignantly replied that the frame was worth that, only to receive the crushing reply from the dealer that he was aware of that, and that was what he was buying.

There are two sides in the war now. When there is only one side, the war will end automatically. It does not.

WHAT HE MIGHT DO. "Ma, may I go out to play?" "No; must sit still where you are." "Ma, may I go down into the kitchen?" "No; I want you to sit perfectly quiet!" "Ma, mayn't I sit on the floor and play marbles?" "I have told you twice that I want you to sit just where you are and be quiet, and I mean exactly what I say." "Ma, may I grow?"
