

WHAT THEY ARE DOING IN SOCIETY

SENATOR'S DAUGHTER TO 'COME OUT' SOON

Miss Grace Overman.

Miss Grace Overman, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Lee S. Overman of North Carolina is one of the pretty young women who will formally become members of Washington official society this winter. She has been a leader in the younger set.

The Christmas sale at the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon and evening was a very successful one and was very gratifying to all those who attended.

One of the special features of the bazaar was the scriptural cake, which was made by Rev. A. H. Thompson, pastor of the church. All the ingredients of the cake were taken from the verses of the bible in which the word appeared. A slice of the cake and its recipe were sold to every one who wanted to buy, and a substantial sum was taken in by this means.

Aunt Sally was there with her many pockets and was always surrounded by those who were ready to receive her packages. The fancy work, aprons, dolls, Venetian beads and other articles were always ready for sale. About $250 will be added to the church fund as a result of the bazaar.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gibbs, who have been residents of Grand Forks for a number of years, will leave for their home in San Diego, Cal., where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs have been prominent in the business and social life of the city and their friends here regret to see them go. They have been here for some time and their best wishes go with them to their new home.

Mrs. E. Kelly of Minneapolis, who has been here enjoying a farewell visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, will also return to her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. G. Leonard, 387 Belmont avenue, returned Wednesday evening from Chicago, where she has been visiting for some time. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. M. Randolph, mother of Miss Mabel Randolph of the university. Mrs. Leonard is now at Madison, Wis., where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lacy.

Miss Louise Swanson has returned to her home in Fargo after spending several days here with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Marcoux, 211 North Sixth street, entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner at her home last evening. The company consisted of her brother, Fred Pickett, who is expected to return home this week. Red carnations were used as the centerpiece for the table and covers were laid for 20. The party was a social hour enjoyed after the program.

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association of the Wilder school last evening was attended by a large and interested audience. Rev. R. G. Pien's talk on "Winter Fairs" was well received and created much discussion. Ben German of the expression department of Wesley college gave a reading. The social committee served light refreshments at a social hour enjoyed after the program.

Among the social events of the evening will be the informal dancing party to be given by the Elks in their club room on Myrtle, Fourth street. The hours for dancing will be from 9 until 12.

The Ought-To-Be club was entertained last evening by Miss Laura Campbell and Miss Clara Struble at their home, 822 Belmont avenue. The evening was spent in sewing and needlework and the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. Alice Turcotte of Michigan City is the guest of Mrs. H. F. Phelps, 615 North Seventh street.

Mrs. E. Y. Saries, 111 North Fifth street, has returned from a visit with friends in Fargo.

Miss Ruby Hall returned to her home in Cavalier this morning after spending a few days here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Davies, 820 Walnut street. Miss Hall is enroute home from a visit to Hankinson.

The December meeting of the Franklin club was held last evening at the home of President Mrs. H. Frank I. McVey at the university. "Impressions of the California Fairs" was the subject for the evening and papers were read by Mrs. C. S. Marsden, Dean Ella Puffon, Prof. E. J. Babcock and Rev. Burleson. Mrs. C. A. Abbott was the assisting hostess for the evening.

The Ladies Aid society and the Priscilla club of the First Lutheran church will have their annual Christmas sale in the church parlors on Wednesday, December 8. Fancy work and home baked goods will be offered for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Root of the Illinois farm, will arrive home the last of the week from their visit in Illinois and Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Root have visited with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Root, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Henning at Tonica, Ill., and at Morrisville, Wis., where they were guests of Mrs. Root's relatives.

Miss Jean Robbins, 824 Walnut street, celebrated her birthday anniversary yesterday afternoon by entertaining a company of ten of her friends. The party was from 4 until 6 and games and other amusements were the pastime. The Christmas colors of red and green were used in the decorations. Mrs. Robbins was assisted in caring for the little folks by Miss Mabel Davies. A miniature Christmas tree and the birthday cake marked the center of the table. Covers were laid for Miss and Henrietta Growing Old. A little more tired at close of day; A little less anxious to have our way; A little less ready to scold and blame; A little more care for a brother's name.

And so we are nearing the journey's end, Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold; A little more zeal in the days of old; A broader view and a sadder mind; And a little more love for all mankind.

A little more careful of what we say, And so we are faring a-down the way.

A little more love for the friends of youth; A little less zeal for established truth; A little less thirst for the daily news; And so we are folding our tents away And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream; A little more real the things unseen; A little bit nearer to those ahead, With visions of those long loved and dead.

And so we are going where all must go, To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a little more tears, And we shall have told our increasing years; The book is closed and the prayers are said, And we are a part of the countless dead.

Thrice happy, then, if some soul can say, "I live because he has passed my way."

—Springfield Republican.

Mrs. George E. Duis was hostess to a company of 150 ladies at her home, 141 Revere avenue this afternoon. The entertainment was provided by Miss Irene Cross, who sang a group of songs and Miss Geraldine Jacob, who read the play, "Disraeli" by Louis N. Parker.

American Beauty roses, southern smilax and small colored electric globes were for the adornment of the living room, where the guests were received and where the program was given.

The mantel was banked with tall vases of the flowers and the lights were strung among the festoons of the greenery. Limousine vases, containing a single rose were placed about the walls of the room, while large bouquets of the flowers in bronze vases were arranged at either end of the platform. Sprays of smilax were draped over the piano.

The assisting ladies in the living room were Mrs. J. Nelson Kelly, Mrs. Frank Stokes, Mrs. C. A. Greenleaf and Mrs. N. B. Black. The following program was given:

Soloist—Miss Irene Cross. Reader—Miss Geraldine Jacob. Alma—H. T. Burlingh. Volo Sa-Pete, Ommama from Cavalleria Rusticana—Mascagni. Dismell. A play by Louis N. Parker.

Note: This is not a historical play, but only an attempt to show a picture of the days, not so long ago in which Disraeli lived, and some of the racial, and political prejudices which he fought against and conquered.

Characters in the Play. The Duke and Duchess of Glastonbury. Lady Clarissa, their daughter. Charles, Viscount Duford, a suitor to Lady Clarissa.

The Rt. Hon. Benjamin Disraeli, prime minister. Lady Beaconsfield, his wife. Sir Michael Provert, governor of the Bank of England.

Mr. Hugh Meyers, a wealthy private banker. Mrs. Traverser, a Russian spy. Mr. Foljambe, her husband, also a Russian spy.

Act 1—Scene at Glastonbury castle, where the duke and duchess are giving a house party.

Act 2—Scene: Disraeli's private office in Downing street.

Act 3—Scene: Disraeli's study in his own home.

Act 4—Scene: A great reception in the queen's palace.

Caro Mio Ben—Giuseppe Giordani. Psyche—E. Paladilhe.

The Eagle—G. A. Grant Schaefer. American Beauty roses and smilax were used in the dining room, where light refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. E. Handy of the Dinnie block will be among the Grand Forks people who will spend the early winter away from the city.

Mrs. John P. Gorman, 801 Sixth street, has as her guests until after the holidays her mother and sister, Mrs. Henry Miller, and Miss Margaret Miller of St. Cloud, Minn.

Mrs. A. J. Andye, 116 North Sixth street, went to Crookston this morning to enjoy a short visit with Mrs. W. G. Lytle. Mrs. Andye will return home tomorrow evening.

The Monday Night Bridge club will enjoy a penalty party in the Domino rooms this evening. The hours will be spent in playing bridge. The losers will have to entertain the winners.

The weekly supper given the boys of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at 6:15 in the dining room of the Congregational church. Covers will be laid for 30 and those in charge of the supper are Mrs. H. K. Geist, Miss Lila Heapy, Miss Lou Davis and Miss Susie Mizisin.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson, 418 Walnut street, who have resided here for some time, will leave Monday for Fargo, where they will make their home. Mr. Nelson, who is a mail clerk, will have a run out from Fargo.

The Friday "500" club was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. James McHaffie, 112 North Sixth street. Prizes were awarded to the holders of the high scores and after the games the hostess served light refreshments.

Miss Mabel Wickler, formerly of this city, will become the bride of Arthur Krueger, of Aurora, Ill., at 6 o'clock this evening. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's father, J. V. Wickler at Lyons, Ill.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal church entertained at a covered luncheon at 1 o'clock this afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. H. W. Gibbs, who leaves Tuesday evening to make her future home in San Diego, Cal.

A basket of fruit was used as the centerpiece for the table and covers were laid for 2 guests. After the luncheon the regular business meeting of the auxiliary was held and a social hour was enjoyed.

St. Paul's Guild will hold their annual sale in the Parish hall Wednesday, December 8. There will be on display embroidered linens, fancy work, aprons, fancy and plain. Japanese articles, and a variety of home cooking. The ladies will also serve light refreshments during the afternoon.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson, 303 Walnut street, left on the Great Northern today noon for Fargo where they will spend the week-end as guests of Mr. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Minnie Hawkins. From Fargo Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will go to Detroit, Minn., where they will visit Mr. Johnson's parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson. They will be absent from the city about ten days.

Mrs. E. B. Clark will arrive this evening from her home at Omaha, Neb., for a two weeks' visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sorlie, 611 Sixth avenue. Mrs. Clark will go from here to Rollette, where she will spend the holidays with her sister, Mrs. R. T. Simons and her mother, Mrs. A. J. Stadheim. Mrs. Stadheim will accompany Mrs. Clark to this city and will visit for several weeks at the Sorlie home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murphy of Santa Monica, Cal., who have been spending a few days here as the guests of Mr. Murphy's aunt, Mrs. Lawrence Kennedy, 1408 University avenue, left last evening for Orr, where they will make their future home.

The Women Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. met this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. parlors for their regular meeting. Routine business was transacted.

Mrs. A. F. Clark has returned to her home in St. Paul after visiting here with her parents, Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Schmidt, 2908 University avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Durocher and son, Sanford, 317 North Seventh street, have gone to Minot, where they will make their home. Mr. Durocher will engage in business there.

TAUGBOL'S Everything Reduced $1 DAY Snappy Snaps For DOLLAR DAY SATURDAY Listed below are a few hot shots from our Dollar Day bargain counters. HURRY—don't be out-bargained. First choice is always best. We are right in the midst of our pre-holiday sale now and each and every day we are making greater offerings in order to reduce our stock. You'll be satisfied with the great bargains we are offering.

Program. Soloist—Miss Irene Cross. Reader—Miss Geraldine Jacob. Alma—H. T. Burlingh. Volo Sa-Pete, Ommama from Cavalleria Rusticana—Mascagni. Dismell. A play by Louis N. Parker. Note: This is not a historical play, but only an attempt to show a picture

FURS! FURS! Very Appropriate for Christmas Our Entire Line Now at 25% Discount This is your opportunity now. Included are handsome Seal, Beaver, Civet Cat, Wolf, Rat, Fitch, etc. Pillow and round muff. Your choice now at 25% discount. Either separate muffs, scarfs or the set.

Patell DRY GOODS AND LADIES WEAR THE STORE OF SERVICE. Write Us What You Want. Samples on Request. TOO SOON. A well-known Scottish architect was traveling in Palestine recently when news reached him of an addition to his family circle. The happy father immediately provided himself with some water from the Jordan to carry home for the christening of the infant and returned to Scotland. On the Sunday appointed for the ceremony he duly presented himself at the church, and sought out the beadle in order to hand over the precious water to his care. He pulled the flask from his pocket, but the beadle held up a warning hand and came nearer to whisper: "No the noon, sir; no the noon! May be after the kirk's oot!"—Tit-Bits. HIS OWN PRIVILEGE. Manager—What do you mean by talking like that? Are you the manager here, or am I? Clerk—I know I'm not the manager. Manager—Very well, then. If you're not the manager, don't talk like an idiot! HAY'S VIEW OF MCCLELLAN. Patiently Hay and Nicolay labored for 15 years on their monumental life of Lincoln, receiving $50,000 at last from The Century for the serial rights alone. The correspondence of Hay and Nicolay themselves is most interesting in the light it throws upon their methods. One of Hay's letters, indeed, is so frank that the wisdom of its publication, even now, may be questioned. It reads in part as follows: As to my tone toward Porter and McClellan—that is an important matter. I have toiled and labored through 10 chapters over him (McC.). I think I have left the impression of his mutinous imbecility, and I have done it in a perfectly courteous manner. Only in "Harrison's Landing" have I used a single injurious adjective. It is of the utmost moment that we should seem fair to him while we are destroying him. The Porter business is a part of this. Porter was the most magnificent soldier in the Army of the Potomac, ruined by his devotion to McClellan. We have this to consider: We are all alone in condemning him. We believe him guilty; but I don't think we need go further than say so dispassionately. A single word of invective, I think, would be injurious to us rather than to him. Gilder was evidently horrified at your saying that Lee ought to be shot; a simple truth of law and equity, I find, after a careful reading of a dozen biographies and all his reports, that Stonewall Jackson was a howling crank; but it would be the greatest folly for me to say so. I am afraid I have come too near saying so in what I have written about him. We will not fall in with the present tone of blubbery sentiment of course. But we ought to write the history of those things like two everlasting angels who knew everything, judge everything, tell the truth about everything and don't care a twang of their harps about one side or the other. There will be one exception. We are Lincoln men all through. IT IS FOREVER ENGLAND. If I should die, think only this of me— That there's some corner of a foreign field That is forever England. There shall be In that rich earth a richer dust concealed; A dust whom England bore, shaped, gave once her flowers to love, her ways to roam; A body of England's, breathing English air, Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home. And think, this heart, all evil shed away; A pulse in the eternal mind, no less Gives somewhere back the thoughts by England given; Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day; And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness; In hearts at peace, under an English heaven. —Rupert Brooks. Many a man owes his success in the social "free-for-all" to joggles administered to his elbow by his wife at critical moments.

No Milk Needed Now! You can save the price of milk when you make pancakes from Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour. Because the Milk is already mixed in it—in powdered form together with all the other needed ingredients. Now, Aunt Jemima's Pancakes—the crisp—tender—golden brown kind—are easier to make and cost less to serve than ever before. All you have to do is add enough cold water to make the batter of the right consistency and then it is ready for the griddle. In a minute a heaping plate of piping hot, light, delicious pancakes, is ready for the table. Try Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour. Serve this delightful dish for breakfast tomorrow. Hear what your family says. See what you save in money, time and convenience. Aunt Jemima's PANCAKE FLOUR "Made in a minute—the milk's mixed in it"