What an Irishman Means by "Machree"

Pray come and interpret this Gaelic for me.

And tell what an Irishman means by "Machree."

What an Irishman means by "Machree."

'Tis the white of the day,
And the warmth of the sun,
The ripple of waters that laughingly run,
The sweet bloom of youth,
And the harvest of years,
The gold of all smiles, and the salt of all tears,
'Tis the thrill of the hand,
And the light of the eye,
The glow to the cheek, and the lips' parting cry:
'Tis father, 'tis mother,
'Tis brother or wife,
The music of woman's, the wine of man's life,
'Tis all that he lives for,
And hopes for above,
'Tis an Irishman's heart making vocal his love,
'Tis the whole of creation,
And that's what an Irishman means by "Machree!"

What an Irishman means by "Machree!"

SAYS SHI-KAI CONTRACTS DEBT

Yunnan says he Spent $200,000,000 Without Letting the Public Know It.

Peking, Feb. 25.—Leaders of the revolution in Yunnan province which insists it is the only legal government in China and is the protector of the republic, are issuing almost daily manifestos decrying Yuan Shi-kai and his advisors.

The full text of Yunnan's emancipation proclamation charges Yuan Shi-kai with having contracted foreign debts aggregating $200,000,000 (Mexican) without letting the public know anything about expenditures, with vicious appointments to high office and with the weakening of China's relations with foreign nations in such a manner that they are able to interfere in Chinese internal affairs.

Yuan Shi-kai's crimes are described by the revolutionists as "high treason."

After proclaiming "these misdeeds, the revolutionists declare their support of the republic, urge the limitation of the power of the central government by constitution in such a manner that the provinces may be free to develop, and declare for a strengthening of China's foreign independence in such a way that she shall take standing among world powers."

Wanted Peace. The manifesto says: "During the first year of the republic the entire country was so eager for peace and progress that patriots sacrificed everything in order to assist Yuan. Was it because they were so attached to him that they had chosen to act? Nay, it was because they wished—through him—to save the imperiled country. Yet in spite of the sacred trust reposed in him, he has failed to do aught that is great and abiding during the past four years. For the purpose of seizing power and strengthening his position, he has unceasingly played with political parties in his 'soft-handed' manner, crushed the national assembly, banished by mean methods those who were opposed to him, prostituted public opinion either by coercion or inducement, and oppressed and directed the nation whom he has encouraged with rewards and privileges.

"Since the day he was placed in his position of trust, he has contracted upwards of $200,000,000 in foreign loans and yet not a single item of expenditure he dares truly to disclose to the public. On the outbreak of the war in Europe, the resources of foreign loans was cut off. He then devoted his attention to in-gathering all he could within the borders of China. Unreasonable taxes have been levied, the people have been forced to subscribe to domestic loans, and excessive fiscal burdens have been imposed on the country. In addition, he has encouraged the extortion of the taxgatherers who are offered high rewards in their work of impoverishing the people.

Defeated Many Times. "Where has the money, thus scraped up, gone to? It has been spent for 'capturing the minds of the patriots and officials' and guarding against 'indoor thieves.' As far as the real affairs of the state are concerned, nothing has been done. The resources of the nation have never heard of Yuan doing anything to strengthen the national defense or making any attempt at preparing for the intrusion of a foreign invader. What he has actually done is to invite the derision of friendly powers by the exercise of short-sighted cunning and vain tricks. No wonder that we have been defeated at every turn in matters diplomatic. Internally, he has never paid any respect to the welfare of the provinces and local centers or sympathized with the sufferings of the people. Robbers have been over-running the country, yet he has failed to suppress them. People have been unjustly harassed, yet he has failed to deliver them. Education has been neglected, while the restoration of old institutions has been advocated. All the money-making industries have been monopolized by the officials and turned into official enterprises. The policy of the Ch'in dynasty to 'keep the people in ignorance' has been followed, and the people have been kept in a state of ignorance of the rights of the sovereign no matter what the condition, has been obeyed to the letter. Laws and regulations are as numerous as the hairs on the back of a cow; and an order given in the morning is often changed in the evening. If the law-maker himself can break the law as often as he likes, how can the people have any definite principle to follow?

Spies Destroyed. "The spirit of law, therefore, has been destroyed. In the employment of men, those are accepted who are unscrupulous and cunning. Patriots have been hunted and men have been placed under suspicion. If one is as pliable as a weak concubine, he may expect a speedy rise to high position; but on the other hand, if he shows that he is 'stubborn' in the law, his manly spirit has been smothered and the sense of self-respect abused to the dust.

"These things are known and seen by myriads of eyes; and, verily, they are worse than the evil deeds of the T'ang dynasty.

"During the last few months—as a result of the terror struck into the mind of the people—many messages have been sent to the central govern-

A Proposed New York Law

Says in part:

"No food or drink, save coffee, tea and cocoa, containing any habit forming drug except alcohol, shall be sold within the State."

—From New York Journal of Commerce, Jan. 17, 1916.

This bill, recently introduced in the New York Legislature, amply attests the well-known fact that coffee, tea and cocoa contain the habit-forming drug, caffeine.

But why discriminate in favor of caffeine when it has been proven beyond a question of doubt that this subtle, habit-forming drug, sooner or later spells ill health, and frequently disaster for many coffee drinkers.

Caffeine is a powerful irritant. It disturbs the regular functioning of the vital organs, often causing headaches, biliousness, heart flutter, nervousness, insomnia, or some other symptom of caffeine poisoning.

The easy, sure way out of coffee troubles is to quit the coffee and use
