CROP PROSPECTS ARE FLATTERING

Montana Farmers Optimistic over Outlook for This Year's Output.

Sidney, Mont., June 27.—This section was visited by one of the best rains of the season last week and, as a consequence, crops will be benefited, although conditions prior to the downpour in every particular were promising. This rain, however, assures a sufficiency of moisture for some time to come, and with a little warm weather bumper crops will be realized. With the heavy increase in crops this season, there is no doubt but that Richland county will see its most productive crop in 1916, which will mean a heavy influx of settlers the coming year, while land values are sure to advance steadily. There is no better opportunity in Montana for land seekers than is offered in Richland county, where the vast number of farms that have been sold so far this year is evidence that farmers of other states realize the advantage of prices here, and are seizing the opportunities and locating in this county in preference to counties where the land is much higher. With productive soil, this section of the state is destined to be advertised more thoroughly at the several competitive grain and vegetable displays also, which will add to the prestige as an agricultural country and result in a more rapid development.

GOLDEN WEDDING NOVELTY HERE

First Celebration of Fiftieth Anniversary of Marriage in Glenburn.

Glenburn, N. D., June 27.—The first golden wedding anniversary ever celebrated in this vicinity occurred Sunday, June 25, when ten children and twelve grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Reiquam helped them commemorate their marriage.

Nels Reiquam and Olive Birkedal were married at Vevring, Norway, in 1866. With two children they migrated to America in 1889, and settled on a homestead at Bloomer, Wis. In 1890 they moved to Georgeville, Minn., and lived there thirty-five years. In June, 1915, the old folks came to Glenburn, where three of their sons reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Reiquam have eleven children, all of whom are living. The oldest son, Ole Reiquam, is located in Alaska, and was unable to attend the anniversary celebration.

McCLUSKY MAN IS SUDDENLY STRICKEN

McClusky, N. D., June 27.—C. F. Sperber was suddenly stricken with an attack of apoplexy while eating breakfast, falling from his chair and fracturing his collar bone—a doctor was called, but for several hours was unable to relieve the sufferer. However, Mr. Sperber has been slowly mending, and while his left side is partly paralyzed it is thought that he will be able to be up and around in a few days.

YOUNG BOY HAS VERY BAD RECORD

McClusky, N. D., June 27.—John Engel, 15 years old, has already stolen clothes, raided neighboring homes and ran away from home. He was arrested on a complaint charging him with theft and brought to this city by Sheriff Schaeffer. He became tired of confinement, crawled out of a window and rambled away. However, Sheriff Schaeffer was not long in locating the recalcitrant one, and he was taken into camp. At his trial before Justice Callahan, he was bound over to the district court.

LIVERY BARN IS BURNED TO GROUND

Reeder, N. D., June 27.—Gascayne is again a fire victim, this time it is the livery barn belonging to Gilbert Davidson which was burned to the ground. The horses and best harness were saved, loss partly covered by insurance. It is a serious blow to Mr. Davidson as he had only recently purchased the building and in addition had spent quite a sum in improvements.

New York, June 27.—John B. Foster, secretary of the New York National league club, announced last night that Manager McGraw of the Giants had offered to the St. Louis Nationals, Patcher Charles Tesreau in exchange for Pitcher Harry Salee. Geo. B. Caley of Valley City will give a stirring address on the subject "Meeting the Needs of the Boys and Girls in Our Rural Communities."

There were about 30 people at the picnic here last year. Other Union picnics are: Roth—Wednesday, June 28th. Peabody—Thursday, June 29th. Bottineau—Friday, June 30th. Rugby—Saturday, July 1st.

The soldiers who go to the front now will be the old soldiers of 1910 to 1915.

SOCIALISTS TO MOVE FOR PEACE

New Activity in Germany is Predicted by Member of Parliament.

Rome, June 19. (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A renewed socialist activity for peace is predicted by Jules Destree, socialist member of the Belgian parliament from Charleroi. Mr. Destree has been in Italy for a number of months, lecturing and writing on socialist questions but particularly with the view, it is understood, of maintaining the relations among the socialists that existed before the war, to prevent the dismemberment of national political organizations.

There are at present three distinct movements among the socialists of Europe," said Jules Destree to The Associated Press, "and these lines are rapidly being drawn tighter. In Italy, in France, and in Germany, has existed for some time those socialists who have supported war and those socialists who have held aloof from it, though passively. The new alignment of the three movements consists, first, of those nationalists who are taking an active part in supporting the war; secondly, those who are in sympathy with the work of the international socialist bureau, now located at the Hague, the officers of which are seeking to bring about peace discussions; and thirdly, those socialists who recently met at Zimmerwald, Switzerland, and who therefore may be termed 'Zimmerwaldens.' These latter want peace at any price.

"The two latter groups are sending invitations and arranging meetings for the summer to examine if there are not some terms on which peace is possible, and these meetings will be attended by socialists from all the belligerent countries, and possibly from the United States.

BODY RECOVERED FROM DEVILS LAKE

Devils Lake, N. D., June 27.—Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's church for Rohus Stous, son of Mrs. Joseph Meyers, whose sad death by accidental drowning last week cast a gloom over the entire community. Many friends gathered to join the family and relatives in mourning the untimely death.

The body was found by Mr. Rondeau who was walking along the shore about three-quarters of a mile from the spot which the friends of the boy had designated as the place where he went under. The body had been washed over the rocks into the next bay and was scarcely recognizable because of the long repose in the water and the washing against the rocks. Suspecting that the electric storm would send the body the surface, Captain Ford and Ross Moore took parties out in launches and both passed very near the body. The latter launch happened to be in the vicinity when the discovery was made and they sighted the body with a telescope.

MONOCLES ARE MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

London, June 27.—Since the beginning of the war the use of the single eyeglass has been spreading slowly but significantly—"monocles are becoming fixed in the public eye," as one newspaper says. "There has never been a greater demand for monocles," says a London optician, "but certainly we have sold more than usual during the last few months. The fashion seems to have declined in the army and our chief customers are men just over military age."

"Why do men wear monocles? Undoubtedly the single eyeglass confers distinction on the right sort of man, but scarcely one man in a thousand can sustain the distinction. "To wear a monocle successfully a man must be perfectly dressed. A monocle and baggy trousers are an impossible combination. Probably one of the reasons why monocles are becoming popular with middle-aged men is the reluctance of the man of forty to be eclipsed by the glamor of uniform."

"Undoubtedly in the right sort of man the monocle conveys a subtle distinction of superiority. It either emphasizes or obscures personality; there is no middle way."

Surely an encouraging degree of preparedness for national defense is now being accomplished.

WHY FRAINE WINS

At the close of the campaign, after publicity statements have been read, platform planks explained and understood, records scanned and scanned closely, special trains sent across the state in a vain effort to make the voters believe each train a "band wagon," the Republicans of North Dakota fully realize that there is only one candidate before them today who can meet the needs of our party, and that man is John Fraine.

The Republican party requires a man to stand upon the platform formulated by its committeemen in convention assembled. The Republican party has proven that it can and will draft a platform advancing the interests of all the state and all its people.

John Fraine pledges himself to stand on such a platform. His record, as written in the history of the state guarantees the future.

Mr. Voter, think this over, and, with a mind unbiased by class or sectional prejudices, you will agree that John Fraine is the one safe and sane candidate of our great Republican party.

Vote for John Fraine, thereby guaranteeing to yourself, your wife and your family, two years of sound government, administered by a man who has proven that his loyalty to North Dakota is greater than any personal ambition.

ADVERTISING OF HELP TO CHURCH

Should Have Services Worth Boosting in the Papers, Says Speaker.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Churches should advertise and should have service worth advertising, the Rev. William E. Barton, editor of a church paper and pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, Ill., said in an address before the convention of the Associated Advertising clubs of the world, here today. He said: "I believe in advertising church services. But I wish it understood in advance that I believe first of all in having something to advertise, and that the thing advertised should not be meretricious, or cheap, or theatrical, but fundamentally and invariably the gospel of Jesus Christ."

THREE BOYS GET INTO TROUBLE

Bowman, N. D., June 27.—Sheriff Norton had the order in the persons of John Radke, aged 19, of Detroit, Mich.; John W. Kolbert, aged 17, and Steve Ladowski, aged 19, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will remain with him fifteen days. The boys were arrested at Reeder, by Deputy Sheriff Oelkers of Scranton, on a charge of breaking into a railroad bunk car at Scranton, Pa., and stealing a quantity of money, some money and a quantity of food. They entered a plea of guilty before Judge Diehl, and were sentenced to the county jail. The boys were traveling by beating their way on trains.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OPENS CONVENTION

Indianapolis, June 27.—The Anti-Saloon League of America held the opening session of its annual convention here today when Superintendent E. S. Shumaker of the anti-saloon league of Indiana welcomed the delegates.

Mr. Shumaker said the fight in Indiana had brought about a saloonless population in that state greater than prohibition in any other state, as great as in prohibition Maine. "Allowing twenty-five feet to a saloon, we have permanently buried in this state nearly sixteen miles of saloons," he said. "Yet, in spite of this Indiana is one of the worst rum-ridden states in the union."

"Indiana," he continued, "is second in the manufacture of spirituous and eleven in the manufacture of malt liquors. Many of our large cities are under the corruptest kind of brewery rule. Liquor interests in this state have actually controlled, at times in the past, in the selection of the chief executive of the state of legislative assemblies and even congressmen, including some United States senators."

"As a result, public opinion has been outraged, laws have been trampled under foot and what amounts to a state of anarchy has ensued in some places."

"The people of Indiana have been very patient and long suffering amidst such indignities and have given the liquor interests every opportunity to make good, but the liquor interests have mocked at justice and have spurned mercy, defied law and public sentiment and at length the people in this fair state have made up their minds that the liquor traffic must go. Hence they have raised the banner of state-wide prohibition and have determined to elect a legislature this autumn which will liberate our state from the blight of liquor traffic forever."

Robert Herrick, a writer of considerable note, finds that there are several different kinds of alleged Americanism in this country, each claiming to be the only real kind. He says that the cost of it is not always to be admired. It indicates conflicting side issues.
