

CONVENTION ECHOES

Members of the League returning from the great Fargo meetings gave editors of their local papers many boosts for the big movement. Among the many the Leader reprints the following:

ALL PREDICT VICTORY

Among our farmers who were in attendance at the Nonpartisan League convention at Fargo last week were Messrs. W. J. Norris, Asle Green, E. C. Fernow, P. Solum and wife, Alfred Aasheim, Geo. Olson, J. W. Kaber and Paul Lindemann. Those whom we have interviewed seem well pleased with the working of the convention and prophesy a sweeping victory for their candidates at both the June primaries and the general election next fall.—ENDERLIN INDEPENDENT.

WHAT MCKAIG SAYS

Ray McKaig, who was the delegate from the 30th legislative district and had a voice in the nomination convention of the Nonpartisan League, when asked if the meeting was entirely harmonious had the following to say: "I have never seen a group of men more united in one purpose than at this convention. It was composed of some of the strongest farmers of the state. To clean up the old politicians and put into office real farmers was their ambition. Forty-four of us met on Thursday afternoon and elected our own officers and tellers and after discussing the qualifications of the different politicians we elected a group of men who are genuine farmers and leaders in their communities. With three or four exceptions every man indorsed met with unanimous approval. It was a crusade spirit that dominated this convention, from naming the governor to the supreme court candidates and was a general cleanup. All this talk of frameup is bosh. When we took this slate and went before the massmeeting on Friday and Saturday there was one round of approval. There was no feeling that we had shoved a program on them but what they wanted. Ask Steve Tokash of St. Anthony or any others present from this locality."—MANDAN NEWS.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

The recently organized Farmers' Nonpartisan League, which promises to be the greatest political power of the state of North Dakota, held a great and rousing convention at Fargo last week, Friday and Saturday. Many speeches were delivered during the two-day convention and band music was freely dispensed. Those who attended from Sharon all agree that it was a fine and highly successful gathering.—SHARON REPORTER.

SOLID FOR THE LEAGUE

Many of the farmers near Binford went to Fargo, last Thursday, to attend the state convention of the Nonpartisan League, held there Friday and Saturday. They returned home Monday greatly enthused over what they saw and heard, and are better boosters for the cause. The convention was the greatest political gathering ever held in North Dakota. The farmers, practically to a man, are solid for the League, which means that the reign of the political bosses of the state is doomed to defeat.—BINFORD TIMES.

ALL ENTHUSIASTIC

A number of farmers of this vicinity were at Fargo last week to attend the Nonpartisan League convention, and are very enthusiastic over it. At this meeting the candidates indorsed by the League for state officers were announced. Lynn Frazier of Hoople was given the indorsement of the League for governor, and legislative candidates indorsed for the 16th district, comprising Griggs and Steele counties were Steve Nelson, A. M. Hemerlin and E. W. Everson.—GRIGGS COUNTY SENTINEL-COURIER.

TOO BAD.

Another step toward the final dissolution was taken by the misnamed Nonpartisan League at its state convention at Fargo last week. There are indications the sucker club business in North Dakota is nearing its close.—WILLISTON HERALD.

BELIE OWN WORDS

After telling how little the Nonpartisan League amounts to, a number of newspapers of the state belie their own argument by devoting columns of their papers to abusing the only political farmers' organization in the state which has a fair chance of being successful.—WELLS COUNTY FREE PRESS.

FARMERS: Stand By Your Friends

When the Equity Exchange was attacked and was fighting for its very life, the only daily newspaper in the state to give it a square deal was the

Devils Lake Daily Journal

When George Loftus challenged the enemies of the Equity to debate, the only daily in the state to give a truthful report of the meeting was the

Devils Lake Daily Journal

When the Nonpartisan League was attacked the only daily newspaper in the state to give it a square deal was the

Devils Lake Daily Journal

As a result of the Journal's friendship for the Equity, its fairness to the Nonpartisan League, and its fight for a square deal for the farmer from the grain thieves, the word has been passed along that the editor of the Journal must become a "hired man" rather than continue to be the boss of his own newspaper. The Devils Lake Daily Journal has stood by you, has been your friend when in need, without price or pay, or hope or expectation of reward. At this time it needs your help, and it needs it mighty bad if it is to remain a free newspaper. Your subscription is all it asks. It is entitled to that. With your help in the way of a subscription it will be in position to pay off those who are attempting to unfairly coerce it and force it to "consult" with the friends of the chamber of commerce and enemies of the Equity exchange as to its policy. The price of the Journal is $4.00 per year, $2.00 for six months, $1.00 for three months. Send in your subscription for a year if you can, if not send it in for six months, but in any event send it in for three months.

Now Listen, Mr. Farmer:

Every word of this advertisement is written in dead earnest, and every word is true. There are few newspapers that do not owe money. The Journal is making money, but it is not making it fast enough to satisfy those who are unfair enough to take advantage of their opportunity to "squeeze," in order to force it to "be good." YOU, Mr. Farmer, can put the Journal in position to show a clean pair of heels to Big Business, and enable it to make a better fight for YOU. We seek your cooperation—not one-sided cooperation either. We will do as much for you as you will do for us—and a little more.

But now is the time to do what you can for the Journal. Do it now. Don't delay. If it is not convenient for you to send the money now send your order anyway. We will trust any farmer in the state of North Dakota until another crop is harvested if need be. We can use the order for subscriptions for obtaining credit in raising money to pay off those who are swinging the club.

If you have any doubts as to the Journal being your friend, ask George Loftus, John M. Anderson, Mr. Townley or any of the men who are leading your fight. They will tell you that you are taking no chances in subscribing for the Journal and helping to put it in condition to make a better fight for you.

Address all communications to

Devils Lake Journal

Devils Lake, N. D.

P. S.—Please realize this: it is important that you do it right away. This ad will not appear again. It is our first and last call for your cooperation. And YOU can do a big thing by acting quickly.