

Brother Farmers, Attention!

At a meeting of farmers held in the home of Ben Conant, of McHenry, on Saturday, October 28th, representative farmers of Nelson, Griggs and Eddy counties authorized the publication of the following statement as the sense of the meeting:

In the past, all the powers of government have been so organized as to be against the people.

All important offices, in state and nation, have been filled by Machine Controlled Politicians.

Today the organized intelligence of the Farmers is pitted against the organized intelligence of Big Biz in a mighty struggle to control the machinery of government.

Two sets of candidates seek election.

One set chosen and supported by the corrupt Big Business machines.

Another set chosen by delegates representing the great mass of Farmers.

If farmers realize the situation and stand solidly behind their candidates they will capture every branch of the legislature—executive, legislative and judicial.

There must be no swerving from the line laid down for them to follow. The course of action was determined by the collective intelligence of the farmers of North Dakota as expressed by their duly appointed delegates in convention.

Concerted action at the polls will give the farmers of this state the most signal victory, and will demonstrate that farmers can think and act collectively.

Solidarity in voting is imperative. Vote as one man. Brand the names of the candidates on your minds. Don't miss one. The principles involved in this struggle are greater than any candidate.

Above all, select the Supreme Court candidates. Make this your first business in the polling booth. Learn by heart the names of Birdzell, Grace and Robinson. They must be elected, for a judiciary controlled by Big Biz can and will defeat the people's entire program.

Now, Brother Farmers, stop and think. It is up to the voters of this state to exercise a choice in the matter of electing a U. S. senator; and they are to decide which to vote for on evidence furnished by interested parties.

Both McCumber and Burke are "Big Biz" politicians. It makes no difference to us which is elected. They are the candidates of the party machines, and the fight between them is to determine which shall do the System's work at the National Capital.

The other candidate for the U. S. Senate is a man of different caliber. He is a clean, wide-awake, intelligent farmer, thoroughly in sympathy with the farmers' movement. We lack representation at Washington. Let us elect E. R. Fry, the people's candidate.

Let us do this and show the Bosses that farmers can take political action on their own initiative.

Mr. Fry is a member of the N. P. League

A strong pull and a pull altogether will send a Real Farmer to the United States Senate

We urge this with no other consideration than the cause of the North Dakota farmers

A REAL FARMER WHO KNOWS THE FARMERS' PROBLEMS FOR U. S. SENATOR

Fraternally, N. O. HAGAN, Chairman of the Meeting. H. J. TRELEASE, Secretary.
