THE OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE.

The future prospect for WILLMAR TRIBUNE is flattering so far. Subscriptions are coming in from distant parts not only in this congressional district but from the State at large, and even other states and Canada. A political friend of sagacity and foresight writes us that WILLMAR TRIBUNE is destined to be more than a mere local paper. Be that as it may, the city of Willmar and the surrounding territory, and Kandiyohi county especially, constitutes the basis of it as a business enterprise. Our ambition is to make WILLMAR TRIBUNE the best newspaper west of Minneapolis, and we will do this if present indications are to be realized. We assure the business men of Willmar and elsewhere who have patronized our columns, that we duly appreciate the generous reception given us. And this is not only true of the Editor personally, but of leading farmers alliance men of the county who have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the generous treatment of WILLMAR TRIBUNE. We wish to say, however, that in starting and developing this enterprise we ask no bonus, and beg no special favor from anybody. We calculate to give value in full to our subscribers and advertisers as we go along. But this is the least part of the service of a live and wide awake newspaper to the community. A newspaper if it fulfills its duty should be the moving spirit in the development of the resources and industry of its locality. It should not lag behind but be a little ahead and point out the way of progress. Every place of any consequence has been built up by a leading newspaper. Now Willmar and Kandiyohi county possess natural resources and advantages hitherto to a great extent overlooked and neglected. WILLMAR TRIBUNE will show them up to the world so as to cause them to be duly appreciated and understood. This will draw capital hither to develop them. Such development of our resources will increase the value of every holding in village or country, as well as every business enterprise. In this way alone, WILLMAR TRIBUNE is apt to repay ten dollars for every one contributed to its support by the people here at home.

FURNISHING GOODS!

The largest and newest assortment west of Minneapolis.

A marvel of Beauty, Style and Excellence

Royal Bargains for the Spring of 1895.

WE have just returned from an extended trip in the Eastern

Markets and have made heavy purchases in certain lines of goods for Spring and Summer, especially in the lines of

DRESS GOODS,
CLOTHING, CARPETS

AND

JAPANESE MATTINGS,
LADIES and MISSES

Capes and Jackets.

WE have endeavored this season to obtain a line of goods exactly suited to your wants in variety, style and price. You can thus make an easy selection without waste of time or feeling that you have not procured just what you wanted. To make a list of all the various goods comprised in our new spring stock as well as prices would require the size of an ordinary newspaper alone and hence no prices will be quoted. Suffice it to say that our bargains this season will far exceed those in the past, and we can guarantee you lower prices right here in Willmar than can be procured in either St. Paul or Minneapolis. Come and see for yourself and let our goods and prices TALK

As will be seen elsewhere, a new business firm has been organized under the name of Johnson, Quam & Karwand, for the purpose of conducting a real estate agency. It is well known that many of our farmers have more land than they can conveniently and profitably cultivate since the collapse of wheat prices. It is also now thoroughly understood by most of our farmers that less land and better tillage, and diversified crops, is the coming system of profitable agriculture. The panic has, moreover, scared people of debts, and everybody is now trying to get out of debt and henceforth stay out. These circumstances combined have caused a large quantity of superior improved farming land to be offered for sale—land that a few years ago could not have been bought for money. Nor are there buyers wanting for land at present prices in this county. Since Willmar Tribune referred to this state of affairs here several inquiries have come from the East to our office in regard to this matter. As the Editor has no time to spend to properly tend to this, the firm above mentioned has been formed for this purpose. A regular real estate office will be opened at once where property can be properly listed, and regular correspondence attended to. Systematic efforts will be made to advertise the superior advantages of this section of country in places where buyers may be found, and when those who want to buy come here the firm will be in a position to give them information, and direct them to find what they want.

Brother Crowley wonders that anybody is so uninformed as not to know our ditching laws. But it takes a Philadelphia lawyer now-a-days to keep track of law-making and law-changing. Besides the State takes money out of the general revenue fund for ditching, why is it so unreasonable to suppose that the county might do the same thing. Of course if the newspapers kept their readers posted such misconception would not exist. Willmar Tribune published the letter to have been sent to the State. Thus the Tribune has done everything.

Died, March 23rd, at 12 o'clock noon, Mrs. N. P. Rice, mother of O. P. and H. P. Rice, aged 78 years. Funeral from the Swedish Baptist church, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Last Friday evening a cantata was given at the Seminary by the students to a fair audience. The cantata was a representation of the seasons, months and year, and was well rendered considering the length of time and work in producing such a difficult piece of music. It is of great credit to the school in general, and the music loving public will not fail to appreciate such efforts.

FROM TRIPOLI.

School has closed in district No. 61, and the scholars are enjoying a vacation. They had a pleasant closing up at the school house March 22nd, and the program was carried out in good shape with songs, pieces, marching, etc. The board of trustees distributed five dollars worth of books, oranges and candy, and all went home smiling sweet. The thirteen scholars receiving books have attended school 75 days or more, Harry Ekdahl having attended 115 days out of 120. When parents begin to realize the fact that the attendance of scholars is necessary to get "value received" for money laid out, then the educational interest is in a healthy state or condition. PEDAGOGUS.
