Long enough to see shoes sold as cheaply again as they are being sold now at the store of WILLMAR SHOE CO.

For years there has been a steady decline in prices of shoes until the climax was reached this year, when shoes touched the lowest point in 40 years. But large crops and returning prosperity all over the country has created a big demand for shoes and prices are advancing every day. Shoe factories are running night and day, and are refusing all orders except at an ADVANCE of 10 to 25 PER CENT. over prices made sixty days ago. In the face of all this

A MIGHTY FOREST.

Willmar Soon to Be Honored By a Big Fraternal Event.

Eminent Woodmen Will Make The Chips Fly.

Deputy Consul of the Modern Woodmen of America, E. M. Tousley of Howard Lake, has been putting in his work here for some weeks past and the result is that he has succeeded in getting together material for one of the most powerful Camps outside the Cities. There is no denying the fact that the Order is popular, and is based on sound and practical principles, otherwise he could not have secured so choice a list of candidates. We see on the list some of our leading business men. The Order has mapped out the healthiest territory—11 northwestern states—for its field of operation and gives its members the benefit of the acknowledged low death rate in the district. This month for instance there is no assessment. Mr. Tousley says that he has now about all he can handle at the first installation, somewhere in the neighborhood of 75. September the 20th is fixed as the date when the event is going to come off. It is going to be a sort of semi-public celebration of the M. W. A. of the State. Hon. Benjamin D. Smith, of Mankato, Hon. Frank Nye, of Minneapolis and W. H. Dawson, Head Escort and State Deputy, of Slayton, Minn will be present and make speeches. The rink has been secured and a public meeting is to be held at 9 o'clock p. m. lasting for an hour and a half, after which the initiation of candidates and installation of officers will come off. There will of course be a banquet also.

Bro. Tousley is a hustler, and an organizer of ability.

Fraternal life insurance is life insurance at cost, the cheapest, safest, and best in every respect. It is bound to drive every other system of life insurance out of existence, at least among the common people. When, as now in these fraternal societies, a man can insure his family in case of his death a competence for from $15.00 to $20.00 a year, it seems to be not only a privilege, but a duty for a man to do so. For even if he lives to green old age to provide for his family himself, and pays his assessment for many years, he may feel well satisfied in helping to relieve the distressed widows and orphans of his brethren. In paying the assessment in a fraternal society a man is not making a few millionaires as in the old style insurance companies, but educating fatherless boys and girls. The fraternal insurance company is the highest development yet of the true spirit of Christianity. "Bear ye one another's burdens."

A Fatal Accident.

Mrs. Kilgore, mother of Parker Kilgore, of New Paynesville, was injured at the Soo crossing near Paynesville last Saturday afternoon so badly that death followed shortly. She was aboard the afternoon freight from Willmar and attempted to get off when the train stopped for the crossing. The train started up suddenly and she fell between the cars, and one leg and one arm were crushed by the wheels. She was taken home and died shortly after. She was conscious about 20 minutes after the accident. Mrs. Kilgore was 70 years old, hale and hearty for her age. The funeral occurred yesterday at the New Paynesville cemetery at 10 o'clock a. m.

LATER—Another report states that the accident occurred at the switch.

Reasons for Our Success:—

And not a day passes but what we are told of it by keen, level-headed business men. Yet to us it very simple, a mere matter of fact thing that has been reached and kept pre-eminent this way: We search a modern growing clothing store. We search the four corners of the world with untiring energy to procure the best on earth. We believe in a big business and great big sales rather than small business and big profits. We are masters of our business and continually extend, broaden and improve our respective lines. We have the public's confidence and by true merit mean to keep it (and if possible, to extend it.) We believe in a broad, liberal business policy both for our help or for the public at large. We buy and sell for cash as cheap as any house in America. These are some of the reasons, we think, that helped us to our success and with pleasure do we hope this open declaration will be of benefit to hundreds that are not successful.

How They Try to Account for The Difference.

The News Ledger of Litchfield makes the following amusing comments on the rise in Willmar's population:

The Willmar papers are jubilant because their census enumerator secured 2,511 names on his list, while the Litchfield enumerator found but 2,044. That's all right, boys; enjoy yourselves while you can, for you don't often get a chance. Willmar was fortunate in having a long-headed enumerator, and in being visited occasionally by nearly every train crew in western Minnesota.—Litchfield News Ledger.

Ever since the birth of Litchfield, she has been leading Willmar in public improvements of all kinds. We built a handsome schoolhouse; Willmar saw that it was a success and she did likewise; we put in water works and Willmar followed in our footsteps; we adopted electric lights; Willmar saw the point and wisely followed the example. In many other matters Litchfield led the procession; but when it comes to the making of census returns we must acknowledge that Willmar has us on the hip. Her enumerator is an artist at the business without doubt, and they do say that if his blanks hadn't played out Willmar's population might have been larger than it is.—Litchfield News Ledger.

Jake Minikus went down to Willmar Sunday and well—he came back the next day, but his friends hardly recognized him. When he got to Willmar he attempted to get off before the train stopped and not getting a good foothold he fell, spraining his right hand and wrist quite badly and scratching his face up considerably. It was a close call and he says that next time he will stay on until the train stops.—Benson Monitor.

The jobs of ditching for the Lake Elizabeth branch of the Lake Lillian ditch are now being advertised. The officials are rushing the work through and if we have a dry fall the work of the entire ditch may all be completed before winter sets in. The surveyor has been assigned the work of the branch to extend from Lake Lillian to Big Kandiyohi Lake. The auditor thinks that perhaps the money may be sufficient to carry the work through to Willmar. The Lake Lillian ditch will cost in the neighborhood of $4500, the L. E. and B. K. Lake branches less than $3,000 each, and as the remainder of the ditch will not be of very large proportions, the remaining funds may go a good ways.

Andrew Weiss moved his business from Hanscom's building on Pacific avenue to the room next to Winblad & Peterson's furniture last week.
