UNDERBUY!

UNDERSSELL!

This is the secret of our rapid business progress and popularity with the masses. You never thought these two words had much meaning but they are really the talismanic keynotes that point with perfect precision to fame and success. In these two leviathans of the mercantile lexicon lies the philosophy of commercial triumph. They form the basis of the great stir and business activity of Willmar which has grown until it now monopolizes the entire trade of the country for 30 miles around and has compelled us to double our stock and force of salesmen to accommodate the crowds that daily flock to our store. Here is an—

AN AWFUL PLUNGE IN DRESS GOODS

Carpet Department.

An elegant line of INGRAIN and BRUSSELS of the latest patterns will be on sale this week at enormous BARGAINS.

Cloaks and Capes.

Another large shipment is on the way and will arrive this week to grace this already complete department.

You are surely fortunate if you are within reach of our grand offerings for the season because we have almost an endless array of goods in the big store in the many different departments. But you must catch up and not get behind in the skirmish for "snaps." Don't you read the papers? Are you behind the times? Are you a "back number?" Did you go sailing with Noah, or chop trees with G. Washington? Of course you didn't. Then what is the use of poking along in the same old way, buying of some firm that has been petrified for years and ought to have been buried long ago? Willmar is a live town, and Willmarites are all live people. We are a live firm and our prices are alive all the time. Come in and look us over and see the rush and we will make your money so lively that it will "fly," but you will get double value for it. Leave old Sleep, Neverawake & Co., try to catch up with the times and buy where the people buy—at

DALE, ROISE & QVALE'S "BIG STORE," WILLMAR.

HATS, CAPS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS AND SHOES.

Don't compare the quality to the price—it wouldn't be fair. There are distinctive features about our stock that distinguishes it in character and style from others. Among them are High Quality, Complete Assortment and Low Prices.

If you want to get a little better article at a little lower price than you expect to pay, come to our store.

Atty. Sam Olson and some friends visited at New London Sunday.

The "white lights" are glimmering in several of our business houses during evenings.

Conrad Cronquist came up from Minneapolis last Saturday for a short stay with his parents at this place.

Co. Auditor Nasset has purchased the Regue residence property and is moving his household into same.

Oscar Sjoquist, who came down from Dwight, N. D., to attend the funeral of P. A. Sjoquist returned home to-day.

Prof. and Mrs. L. M. Landing, of Glenwood, Minn., visited with friends and relatives in the city over Sunday, returning Monday afternoon.

Some of our boys attended a regular corn "husking bee" about 11 miles out in the country Saturday evening. They all report lots of—red ears.

Elstrom & Weedall's is the headquarters for "The Werner Co's" books in this county. Books sold there in retail at wholesale prices.

John Otos has moved his loan office from his residence on corner of 2nd street and Litchfield avenue into J. J. Elkander's tailor shop on fourth street.

The October apportionment of the school funds will average $2.67 per pupil. Kandiyohi has 3452 pupils entitled to apportionment, and will therefore draw $9,276.84.

Prof. H. L. Tanner, who has assisted in supervising the erection of the electric plant left for the cities Sunday afternoon. He will probably go to Fergus Falls to supervise the erection of a plant there.

The farmers of St. Johns Town suffered loss from a prairie fire last Saturday. The heaviest losers were A. G. Magnuson, who lost 150 tons of hay and a hay-press, and Henry Nelson, who lost all his hay.

Halford Erickson, of Madison, Wisconsin, and Labor Commissioner of that State, visited friends and relatives in the city last week. Mr. Erickson is a brother of our rustling shoe merchant here, of the Willmar Shoe Co.

We are told that the residence of Jacob Ramstad in the Town of Arcander burned to the ground last Saturday night with most of the household effects. The cause of the fire is unknown. The fire occurred during Mr. Ramstad's absence, and his wife was alone to see their home go up in smoke. The house was a fairly good one.

On Tuesday Oct. 29th, the Shaker Medicine and Concert Co., will open a one week engagement at the Opera House giving free entertainments. They carry a clever and refined company and give pleasing performances. They come well recommended from all neighboring towns, and are well spoken of in all the places they have showed.

Last Saturday evening about 7:00 o'clock Mr. Martin Olson and Nellie Borgen, both of Willmar, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Grynild tied the knot. Mr. Olson is employed by J. S. Robbins. The happy couple will settle down to house-keeping in the house belonging to the bride's father. The TRIBUNE extends its hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Olson.

Mr. C. M. Ronning, one of the tonorial artists at Peter Rasmuson's shop, will leave for Hillsboro, N. D., next Friday, where he has purchased a shop and will go into business on his own "hook." We all hate to see you leave Con, but at the same time wish you abundant success in your new field, and we have no doubt but that the "whisker" fellows of Hillsboro will soon find out where to go when they want a first-class shave or a nobby hair-cut.

The meeting of the Teachers' Association last Saturday was a very satisfactory one to all of our teachers who take interest in their work. About fifty teachers were present. A constitution was adopted. An excellent paper by Miss Fauling Sampson on the subject, "Reading in the 3rd and 4th Grades," was read and followed by general discussion. A recitation was rendered by Miss Zilphia Williams in a very effective manner. Mr. Henry Hanson read a paper on the subject "at what age ought pupils begin school," which was followed by a very spirited discussion. The subject, "Morals in the Public Schools," was taken up for discussion. The remainder of the program was continued until next meeting of the Association which occurs on the last Saturday of November.

An Old Resident Gone.

Last Thursday at 11:30 a. m. P. A. Sjoquist, one of the oldest residents of Willmar, quietly passed away, at age of about 60 years. He worked in his wagon shop until Monday noon, when he was suddenly taken sick and had to be helped to bed by friends. Soon after taking his bed he became speechless and remained so until the grim destroyer called him away. Mr. Sjoquist had been ailing for some time, and had sought health at different watering places in this country.

Funeral occurred at the Episcopal church Sunday at 3:00 p. m. Rev. D. T. Booth officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Fairview cemetery.

Reformation Festival.

The Swedish Lutherans have made arrangements for an interesting day's program to occur on Wednesday, Oct. 6th, which will be of exceeding interest to all of the Lutheran faith. The program will begin with impressive services at 10:30 o'clock a. m., the reformation sermon to be delivered by Rev. C. J. Collin, of New London. At 2:00 o'clock p. m. Rev. J. O. Lundberg of Svea will discourse a thanksgiving sermon for the bountiful harvest and will be followed by a commemorative speech on the hero of the Reformation, Gustavus Adolphus, by Rev. S. A. Linderholm of Kandiyohi. There will be music by the Mamre Orchestra and violin music and accompaniment by Master Linderholm and Mrs. Rev. Linderholm. Sam Nelson of Svea will also contribute to the musical part of the program. Supper will be served at the Odd Fellow's hall in the evening at 25 and 15 cents, when there will also be music and an auction of donated articles.
