 H. T. OLSEN.

Real estate in Kandiyohei county commands good prices. Among the real estate transfers of late which took place in Harrison, were the following, and the amount paid per acre was above the average: J. S. Reiff and wife to Valentine Herr, one quarter section for $4,500; Valentine Herr and wife to F. H. Kahmeyer, 123 acres for $5,400; Peter J. McRae and wife to Daniel McCrimmon, 120 acres for $3,200.

"The Confederate Spy."

The military drama in five acts, entitled "The Confederate Spy" which is in course of rehearsal, will be presented at the opera house on the night of May 2. The Woodmen and Royal Neighbors, under whose auspices the play will be given, will soon have tickets on sale. General admission will be 25 cts; reserved seats, 35 cts.; children, 15 cts. Seats will be placed on sale at Carlson Bros. & Frost's drug store. The play is a long one, and will occupy nearly three hours in its production. A special effort is being made to present the play in a thoroughly satisfactory manner, with the necessary music and other accompaniments. "The Confederate Spy" is full of thrilling incidents, and those who attend will no doubt enjoy a good presentation of this drama.

Auction Sale.

The following will be offered for sale at public auction on April 1, 1898, at my farm in section 15 of Lake Andrew: One span of horses about 9 years old, 7 mileh cows, 1 yearling heifer, 1 spring calf, one self binder, 1 mower, 1 feed cutter, 2 hay rakes, 1 sulky plow, 1 wagon and 1 pair of bobbeds.

Seminary Notes.

H. J. Halvorson gave a party to a few friends last Sunday evening. August Hedlund, and brother from Kerkhoven, visited with students last Sunday.

Last Saturday evening Delbert Fredrickson, from Carlson, said goodbye to friends and schoolmates. He intended to go home to work on his father's big farm near Carlson.

The students are now beginning to leave. Monday Herman Teigen from Watson, J. Soder and A. Anderson from Atwater, packed their trunks, leaving on the noon trains.

Sunday evening Rev. Estrem delivered a lecture on Luther's life, in the Chapel. It is understood that another lecture on the same subject will be given in the near future by Rev. Estrem.

Monday afternoon the parliamentary law class had a convention in the business room. A set of country officers were nominated and resolutions regarding the future policy of the administration were adopted.

The Normanna-laget gave a program in the Norwegian language last Saturday evening. The first part of the program consisted of music and recitations. The music was of a better grade than formerly, and the recitations showed a decided improvement. Mr. Larson's, about "A school day in 1802" fairly convulsed the hearers with laughter, and the other recitations were given very well. In the play, "Den Politiske Kandestober," Mr. Nelson and Albert Erickson were highly applauded. The audience was small, the total receipts not aggregating more than $25.

A. HEGSTROM, B. Mus.,

Hilleboe's Lecture.

Prof. Hilleboe was greeted by a large and attentive audience at the Opera House last Friday evening. The house was packed to the doors, and the people were not disappointed. They came to hear the license question discussed, and they were treated to a masterly presentation of the various phases of this issue. After an opening song by four young girls, (the "Philos") Prof. Hilleboe was presented by Mr. P. H. Frye, who acted as chairman of the evening. The Professor reviewed in a fair manner the arguments made by the defenders of the licensed saloon, and then proceeded in a calm way to puncture them, one by one. While high license served to weed out the lower class of dives, the added attractions of those remaining served as an enticement for men and boys who would never go near one of the low places, and while the number of saloons might be limited, the amount of drinking done would practically remain the same. In discussing the "blind-pig" and "enforcement" phase of the question, Mr. Hilleboe referred to the workings of prohibition in North Dakota. The brewers' report showed that 15,000 barrels of beer had been consumed in that state during the past year, or a per capita consumption of 1/4 gallon for each man, woman and child. This he admitted was a deplorable record, but when compared with the high license state of Minnesota, the result was not unfavorable for prohibition. The amount consumed per capita in Minnesota for the same period and according to the same report was about eight gallons. He gave an interesting review of the prohibition movement in this city in the past. The speaker showed that at the close of the two years when prohibition was in force in Willmar the "blind-piggers" were on the run, and that no man who was not a trusted accomplice of the "blind-pigs" could get a drink for love or money. The speaker stated that it was not enough that the issue was carried at the polls, but that a council should be elected which would enforce the law, and that the friends of the cause should give them their assistance throughout the year. He also recommended that a village attorney be selected to deal with the "small fry," as the district court procedure was too cumbersome and dilatory to deal quickly and energetically with the small offenders of the law. The village charter he said provided for the annual appointment of a village attorney of which provision however the village had never availed itself. The speaker showed that the cry of "higher taxes" was a puerile one at the best. Even if the sum of $4,000 derived annually from the saloons of Willmar was clear profit, which the speaker contended it was not, the increase of taxes would be but a trifle over a half of a mill (66 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.) And the books of any merchant of Willmar, the speaker further contended, would show bad accounts directly traceable to the saloons' absorbing the substance of the debtors to more than offset the reduced taxes.

Few People

Have Eyes Alike.

Fully nine-tenths of those who wear glasses have different vision in each eye. Sometimes it's a decided difference—in others only a slight variation. A careless examination will fail to bring out this defect—the same lenses will be adjusted to both eyes—and headaches and eye strain that medicine fails to relieve are the result. WE test each eye SEPARATELY and select the proper lenses and adjust glasses to suit both eyes. Examination free.
