COMPANY D DOINGS.

Last Sunday was a great day for the boys in camp. It is estimated that at least 30,000 people visited Camp Ramsey. The Browns Valley, Willmar and Litchfield trains all carried big delegations, including many of the friends, parents, sisters, brothers and sweethearts of our soldier boys. Company D received its full share of the feast of good things brought by the visitors, and the boys showed their appreciation by the hospitable manner in which they received their guests. Everybody had a wonderful appetite and the lunches disappeared at a great rate. It was quite a novelty to eat with the boys in camp, particularly where there was an absence of milk for the coffee. Those who were fortunate enough to possess that article among their eatables were the favored guests, so to speak. Milk is a luxury among the soldiers.

The citizens of Willmar responded nicely with their contributions for the big box of good things sent down to the boys. They were made happy by the generosity shown and expressed unbounded thanks.

Companies C and D received their uniforms Monday. The work of mustering in the regiment as a whole was commenced and the Fifteenth regiment is now legally installed into the U. S. army. The oath was administered by Lieutenant Donaldson. In forming the different battalions, Company H has been placed in the First Battalion, Lieut. Col. Leonhauser commander.

Private Harry Hardy called on his Willmar friends last week, being on a leave of absence to visit his folks at Aberdeen.

St. Paul Globe, 16th:
Private Pietsch is detailed company clerk permanently.
Capt. Spicer was off duty yesterday on account of indisposition.

Company D received a fine greyhound from the citizens of Willmar for a company mascot. It is a dandy. [The hound was a gift from Bennie Glarum.]

Private George Rowe has been detailed as orderly to groom the mascot.

Corporal Thorson had charge of the company D police yesterday.

Quartermaster Sergeant Crosby is considered the best forager in the regiment. Company D boys just revel in watermelons and other good stuff, and they ask no leading questions as to where they come from.

Irvin Roberts, of Willmar, came down to see the boys yesterday. He brought along a contribution of homemade pickles that were highly acceptable to the boys. Citizens of Willmar sent along a half dozen boxes of prime cigars by Irvin, which were also appreciated.

Corporal Garwell had his stripes on yesterday. The corporal is not very familiar with stripes and he ordered them put on upside down, which was done. He appeared before the company decked out in that somewhat fantastic manner. He knows better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, of Willmar, called on Company D boys yesterday.

Minneapolis Journal, 16th:
One of the biggest farmer soldiers, in point of physique and acreage, is Lieut. Haley, Co. D, who has left 600 acres of wheat in charge of a foreman, and is now enjoying the outing which he has been promising himself for five years.

Globe, 17th:
Misses Lexuno and Schultz distributed a boutonniere to each member of Company D yesterday. By the way, Big Lieutenant Haley treasured his flower. One of the young ladies must have made an impression on the bold soldier boy.

Miss Mossberg and Mrs. C. Hutchins, of Willmar, were a committee of two yesterday ascertaining what was most needed for the comfort of Company D boys. They gave the boys pillow slips and good things to eat yesterday, and intimated that other things were to follow. Company D beg leave to rise and call the ladies blessed.

Men's $10, $12 and $15 Suits

$8.50

Why?

Simply because the lots are somewhat broken, and because we desire to carry over to next season as few goods as possible. The suits are all brand new and faultlessly tailored; honestly good and honestly reduced. It's a plain business proposition, and, as paradoxical as it may seem, we win in losing. Get in line!

Because

We offer the untrammelled choice of any suit remaining of the wholesale stock, formerly $10, $12 and $15, at the ridiculously low price—$8.50, don't conclude that the styles are undesirable or that the likelihood of securing your size is a matter only to be dreamed of. Not at all. The object of our advertising is to inform—not to disappoint you. Better hurry.
