THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

Lung Troubles and Consumption Can Be Cured.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished chemist, T. A. Slocum, of New York City, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis), bronchial, lung and chest troubles, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discoveries to any afflicted reader of this paper writing for them.

His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, daily experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertion that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate is proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," flooded in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

The dread consumption, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death. Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine Street, New York, giving post-office and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent direct from his laboratory.

Sufferers should take instant advantage of this generous proposition. Please tell the doctor that you saw this in the Willmar Tribune

PEOPLE'S PARTY STATE TICKET.

For governor—John Lind;
Lieutenant governor, J. M. Bowler;
Secretary of state, Julius J. Heinrich;
State treasurer, Alexander M'Kinnon;
State auditor, Geo. N. Lamphere;
Attorney general, John F. Kelly;
Clerk of Supreme Court, Z. H. Austin.
Associate justices of the supreme court—Thomas Canty, Daniel Buck and William Mitchell.

For Congressman from Seventh Congressional District of Minnesota—
P. M. RINGDAL, of Polk County.

LIND ACCEPTS.

John Lind formally accepts the nominations of the allied forces in a letter written July 20th, which is published elsewhere in this issue. There had been little doubt that he would accept, except in the minds of some republicans and bolting populists with whom no doubt the wish was father to the thought. But the manly letter of acceptance has reassured everyone, and henceforth the friends of a good state government can joyously go forth and do their duty.

Two years ago there was some dissatisfaction among the populists because the democrats nominated Mr. Lind first, thus gaining a slight advantage over the other parties of the alliance, which fact however did not prevent most of them from loyally supporting the ticket. This year however there is no such cause for complaint. Mr. Lind accepts no particular nomination without duly recognizing all. No party can claim Mr. Lind as its exclusive candidate. He is thus virtually an independent candidate, whom three political organizations have endorsed and will loyally support.

We need not here repeat the personal qualities of Mr. Lind, which have made it possible for him to secure and hold the confidence and esteem of the people of Minnesota, irrespective of party affiliation. Let it suffice to say that in accepting the nominations of the people's party, democrats and independent republicans in the way he did, Mr. Lind has not disappointed his friends but has renewed the ties which bind the affections of a liberty-loving and patriotic people to the tried and true leader—the gallant soldier and statesman.

RINGDAL'S CAMPAIGN FUND

The avidity with which the leading republican papers of the district seized upon, for the purposes of misrepresentation and distortion, the fact that a campaign fund was raised at the People's party congressional convention shows how poorly supplied they are with effective ammunition with which to fight Ringdal this fall. The story, as last we saw it repeated, was to the effect that $2,600 had been subscribed and that Great Northern attorneys had "chipped in" checks of $100 each. On the face of it every populist can read that such a statement is false, but we have taken pains to find out the true facts regarding the fund that was raised, from a delegate who attended. We have also had occasion to verify the same by seeing the original list in the possession of Senator Ringdal. We might add here that Mr. Ringdal informed us that the papers which published the distorted and lying statements have been called upon to make proper corrections.

It is well known that Mr. Ringdal did not seek the nomination for congress. He had been renominated as state senator and expected to return to the legislature. But the congressional convention was unanimous in its choice, and Mr. Ringdal's nomination was made amid the greatest enthusiasm. Mr. Ringdal when called for stated that he did not presume to place his judgment in the matter over that of the convention, but frankly stated that he did not have the means at his disposal for to meet the necessary expenses which a canvass of such an extensive district entailed. The delegates proved the sincerity of their enthusiasm by then and there subscribing in the neighborhood of $850 to defray the expenses of the campaign. The delegates from Polk county pledged $120; Otter-tail, $100; Red Lake, $100; and other counties followed with less amounts. The largest personal contribution made was that of Judge Ives, who gave $50. Nothing was subscribed except by people's party men, and it is needless to say that they did not include any railroad attorneys.

Mr. Ringdal may well be proud of this substantial evidence of the confidence of those who nominated him, and to the people at large it surely ought to be a source of gratification that at least one of the candidates for congress this fall will not be dependent upon railroad passes and outside influences for assistance in making his campaign.

INSULTING LANGUAGE.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Senator Knute Nelson was a passenger on the morning train on the Great Northern today enroute to his home at Alexandria from his attendance upon congress at Washington. Senator Nelson has stood the strain of the historic session of congress very well indeed, and was bright and chipper this morning when seen by a reporter. "There arn't going to be any Spaniards elected to office in Minnesota this year," replied he to an inquiry as to the prospects of Republican success at the polls. "I expect to do my share on the stump for the party if called upon. God's people are all going to be elected this year; though, and the campaign will be largely one to swell the usual majorities of the G. O. P."

In using such impious and sacrilegious language, Senator Nelson places himself down on the level with Mark Hanna, who shocked the Christian world on his election to the senate by the associating of the names of the deity with the results of his own foul machinations. Interpreted in their lightest sense, the remarks show a deplorable lack of the dignity with which the wearer of the senatorial toga is supposed to be invested.

Down in this end of the Seventh district Congressman Eddy will make a clean sweep. He will carry nearly every county. A man by the name of Ringdal, living somewhere up towards the north end of the district, has been nominated by the populists, but will not make a very strong run. One of the leading populists of the district stated to the Press reporter the other day that Eddy would be elected by from 16,000 to 20,000 plurality. — Atwater Press.

Rats! That "leading populist" racket has been worked too long. If there is a populist in this district green enough to believe that Eddy will get four-fifths of the votes of the district, you will perform a service to the community by exposing the "mossback." Name him, or stand convicted of slandering all populists.

A binding twine war is on along the northern boundary of Minnesota. This year Kittson county will harvest one of the largest crops known in her history, and her farmers are naturally interested in the binding twine question. On this side of the line pure manilla twine is sold at 16 cents per pound, while the price of sisal is 14 cents. Just across the boundary over in Canada a good quality of sisal sells at eight cents, Kittson county farmers soon got onto this and the other day a large number of teams crossed over and returned loaded with twine, one man declaring he had saved $75 on the trip. The custom officials here have sent a sample of the Canadian twine to experts at Stillwater, and if it is found to contain any manilla a duty of 45 per cent ad valorem will be imposed upon those who purchased it.—Times special from Hallock.

And the foreigner pays the tax!

A correspondent to the Minneapolis Times makes this opportune suggestion regarding the care of flags: "The present profuse display of national flags is highly striking and patriotic, but the well-nigh universal habit of leaving them out over night or flying in rain and storm seems to indicate a lack of due care and respect, however unintentional this may be. Naval and military folk, whose professional duty and honor it is to carry and watch over emblems of the kind would never leave them out over night in the darkness or to be whipped in shreds and tarnished in times of dripping skies."

The political pot in the county has begun to boil, says Editor Wharton. The only thing he is positively sure about is that all contests will be "very friendly" ones. We wish this could be true, but human nature is not constituted that way. When smitten politically on one cheek, a man is apt to forget the good injunction to turn the other one around for a blow also. When in politics one must expect to have enemies as well as friends, and very often the "friends" do one more harm than the other fellows.

A great currency convention is to be held at Omaha Sept. 13, 14, and 15 in the auditorium at the exposition grounds. The two first days will be devoted to gold and bimetallic speeches, and on the last day bank currency will be discussed. Hon. Chas. Towne, Senator Jones of Arkansas, and Editor Bartine of the American Bimetalist, will lead the silver forces. Hon. A. J. Warner is to lead in the contest against the national banks.

A searching investigation is needed in the twine business at the state prison. This year's twine deal may have been a case of wretched judgment on the part of the republican (business) administration, but we have all heard the stories regarding the disposition of the jute twine machinery. Such a plant might have been handy to have now.

The Willmar Argus sported a column of "county politics" last week. Considering the short time since Bro. Wharton arrived to this county it is not to be wondered at if his prognostications are slightly awry. It is amusing to see how some of the office-holders have "worked their graft" on the new editor. Some of the victims of the "comment" no doubt feel overwhelmed with much kindness.

The growth of the creamery industry in the state of Minnesota is something phenomenal. The state has 666 creameries, a gain of 221 during the past two years. Kandiyohi county has 18 creameries in operation, where seven or eight years ago it had none. There are but seven counties in the state that have a larger number of creameries than Kandiyohi.

The prime object of the prison twine plant was to prevent the twine trust from fleecing Minnesota farmers. Had this been kept in mind by the warden, he would not have disposed of nearly all the twine to dealers. A big surplus of twine in stock at Stillwater would be preferable to having the product controlled by the dealers.

D. M. Clough—"The people of Minnesota have great confidence in John Lind. It has been stated by many that his great popularity or strength, as it may be, was owing to my weakness. But the other fellow will have a chance to prove that."

So Lind is to be defeated this year by being called a "Spaniard?" He was called an "anarchist" two years ago and survived in the good esteem of the people of Minnesota; and this appellation will prove a boomerang to the one who uses it.

"Thank God, I am not a candidate," exclaimed Dave Clough when he was told that John Lind had accepted.

The Watson fleet was only a bluff, but it served its purpose. Camarra came back.
