County News

Irving.

May 12.

Erick Vermelin departed recently on a trip to Cass county.

Mandel Naftalin, from Minneapolis, has disposed of large quantities of dry goods in this vicinity during the last few weeks.

Parochial school is in session in Dist. No. 66.

Alfred Olson met with the misfortune of injuring his left foot with an axe last week. He is recovering but is unable to walk without the aid of a crutch.

The work on the new school house in Dist. 66 is progressing rapidly under the management of Messrs. Bursheim and Dittmarson.

Gustave A. Erixon arrived on Monday from a two weeks' trip in southern Minnesota and spent a few days visiting his parents here.

Andrew Thompson entertained a party of friends from Big Stone county last week.

Martin Johnson is busy erecting a residence for himself. He is assisted by M. Raffelson Johnson.

Ingwald Larson has been in the employ of Odin Olson for some time.

Where are the May baskets?

T. F. Peterson was at Atwater Saturday.

A ball (bawl) nine was organized at Harrison last week. We hope they will win the pennant this year.

Chas. Kullberg, our genial assessor, was around the latter part of last week to see how many chickens we had and etc.

A dance was given at the home of J. H. Olson last Saturday evening and a good time is reported.

J. H. Parsons, of Hudson, S. D., is down looking after his farm here, and it is also his intention of erecting a barn sometime this summer.

We are inclined to think when we assumed in stating that the Tribune was the best paper in the state, we did not "stretch it until it cracked either" as our Ringville correspondent states. I will again say that it is the BEST regardless of what my opponent says. We merely stated what we thought of it, and don't give a "snap" what the rest think, however it was a very small matter to take up.

Engbrecht Simonson, of Lac qui Parle Co., is visiting his son, Simon, and old acquaintances here. He is on his way to Cass County where he will do some work for his son, Lewis, but however will not be able to go up for some time yet as he is lying sick at Simon's place now. Mr. Simonson, while coming through near Raymond got his team stuck in the mud and in trying to rescue them he got his feet wet and contracted a cold. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Our Harrison correspondent wishes to advise certain parties, when they are trying to raise a mustache, "to scatter a little sand over their face." No doubt the originator of this recipe has experimented and met with flattering success. Now we don't wear a mustache but have started some side burns but they don't do well on our soil, so we are going to scatter a little sand over them. Our chin whiskers, what of them? Guess we'll have to cut those off as the sand won't stick there.

Pennock.

Mr. Leonard Freeman is assistant postmaster. Leonard is a nice fellow.

The would-be horsebreakers were seen misusing a horse on our streets the other day. Such people ought to be punished.

We had the pleasure to listen to Kitzel Leer, the violinist, yesterday evening. Mr. Leer is a musician of rare excellence and received a tremendous applause from all present. He rendered selections from Ole Bull and Mollergutten in a beautiful style. Budejens Lakketonner" and "Gamlia Erik Kjolderen," took the house by storm. The only fault with him was that he played too little.

The Farm Journal is chock full of gumption and has the largest circulation of any farm paper in the world. It is good everywhere. We offer it for a short time as a prize to advancing subscribers to the WILLMAR TRIBUNE a year ahead and the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, all for the price of our paper alone.

THE NEW YORK WORLD, THIRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

Practically a Daily at the price of a Weekly.

The striking and important events of the last year have established the overwhelming value of THE THIRICE-A-WEEK WORLD to every reader. For an almost nominal sum it has kept its subscribers informed of the progress of all our wars and, moreover, has reported them as promptly and fully as it were a daily. With our interests still extending throughout the world, with our troops operating in the Philippines, and the great Presidential campaign, too, at hand, its value is further increased.

The motto of THE THIRICE-A-WEEK WORLD is improvement. It strives each year to be better than it was the year before, and public confidence in it is shown by the fact that it now circulates more than twice as many papers every week as any other newspaper, not a daily, published in America.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and WILLMAR TRIBUNE together one year for $1.70.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.

Stop for Sale.

My shop on Litchfield avenue is for sale. Any prospective buyer will find a key to the building at the TRIBUNE office.

Temperance Comment.

[Edited by the Press Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. of Willmar.]

"Today is ours with its precious hours. Tomorrow we may not see. So let us live that our lives may give incentive to all that's good. Let us live to better our fellowmen. We may not be passing this way again."

It is the object of the W. C. T. U. to plan and carry forward such measures, which with the blessing of God, will result in promoting the cause of total abstinence and the outlawing of the liquor traffic. This does not mean that since the saloons have been voted out of our own town that there is nothing more for us to do. The "outlawing of the liquor traffic" must reach county, state, and nation—yes, the whole world, before Christian men and women can say with a clear conscience that they have done all they could to better their fellowmen and help them from acquiring and satisfying that terrible appetite which causes the ruin of more bodies and souls than any other one thing upon the face of the earth.

Let us not fold our hands and sit idly by in regard to temperance but let us be up and doing all we can for our county, state and nation.

Ex-Gov. Larrabee, of Iowa, who voted against the prohibitory constitutional amendment, but who was afterward convinced of the value of prohibition, recently said:

"The older I grow, the stronger prohibitionist am I. Every day serves to more thoroughly convince me that Prohibition is right and 'controlling' laws are wrong. * * * I regard the liquor traffic as the greatest menace of our civilization. The people are woefully shortsighted that they tolerate it in any form. It is the fountain of crime. Nursing it on account of the money there is alleged to be in it, communities lose profit through it, and defeat the very end for which they profess to tolerate it. * * * As for the claim that it is better to have the open, regulated saloons than the 'hell-holes,' I think it is ridiculous. I am not afraid of young men learning to drink in the holes; but I am afraid of the open saloon."

As one result of American occupancy of Manila the liquor business has reached enterprising proportions, and is now considered as one of the leading as well as one of the respectable kinds of business. Says one correspondent: "On the Escolta, the principal business street, only a quarter of a mile long, there were but two places where intoxicating liquors were sold when we entered the city, whereas, now there are eighteen. There are 300 licensed places in the city where liquors may be obtained, licenses costing $3 per year. The income of the largest, the Alhambra, is stated, on good authority, to be $700 per night. Already the street cars are topped with large signs detailing the exquisite qualities of certain whiskies. One quarter of the daily issue of the principal English newspaper published is devoted to extolling the perfection of a brand of beer, while the largest drug store in town devotes a whole column to advertising its fine line of liquors, with no mention of its medicines."—The Wine and Spirit News.

The Frances E. Willard National Temperance Hospital was the first temperance hospital in the United States, though one had been doing good work in London for many years previous, and encouraged the W. C. T. U. to conduct one on similar lines in Chicago. So well has the pioneer work been done that many physicians have abandoned the use of alcohol in all their practice who at first only tried it in the Temperance Hospital. Some other existing hospitals seeing its good work, have adopted the same basic principle as the rule in theirs.

The semi-monthly meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms May 25. All members should be present.

Free of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Carlson Bros. & Frost, will be presented with a sample bottle of BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP, FREE OF CHARGE. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by all druggists in this city.

Be sure and read our great offer of the WILLMAR TRIBUNE for a year and the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, all for the price of our paper alone. Just walk up to the captain's office and draw the greatest prize you ever drew.
