FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Man Run Over by Cars in Willmar Railroad Yards and Horribly Mutilated.

A Three-Year Old Boy Burned to Death.

Death by Drowning of Mrs. Martin Thompson, a Former Willmarite.

A horrible accident took place in the railroad yards here Tuesday forenoon. Berndt Urdahl, one of the section men, was bending down to adjust a rail when he was struck by a couple of cars shunted in on the track. He was decapitated and his body was literally torn to shreds. Deceased was about 35 years old, and was a resident of First ward. He leaves a wife and three little children to mourn his untimely death. The entire community feels the deepest sympathy with the bereaved family.

The three year old son of John Paulson, a resident of First ward, was burned to death Monday afternoon. The mother had gone out in the yard for a few minutes leaving the children alone. Soon she heard an agonized cry and rushing in she found the little boy enveloped in flames. He had found some matches and lighted them, setting fire to his clothes. Medical aid was summoned, but the little sufferer was beyond mortal aid, and after several hours suffering he passed away. The disconsolate parents have the sympathy of everybody in this hour of affliction.

The funeral of little Bernhard takes place tomorrow (Thursday) at 2 p. m. Rev. A. F. Nelson of the Swedish Lutheran church will conduct the services. The remains will be interred in the old cemetery near the Ekdahl farm, town of Kandiyohi.

Mrs. Martin Thompson was drowned in Olalla slough, on Tuesday last, September 4, 1900, at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Thompson and two young children left their home on the bank of Olalla slough on the date mentioned, and entering a small boat, started for Mrs. Kreiger's a short distance up the slough, the arrangement or understanding being that Mrs. Kreiger would join them in a search for huckleberries.

Both the Thompson children are quite young and it was difficult for them to explain fully the cause of the drowning, but the following are the facts as far as comprehended and obtainable from them:

While in the boat, the mother rowing, observing that the wind was blowing quite chilly, and fearing, no doubt that her little ones might become chilled and thereby rendered uncomfortable, she got up from her seat for purpose of placing some wraps—which she had thoughtfully brought for just such a happening—about her children, but before she could reach and succor her dear ones, from some unaccountable cause to her children, their mother was precipitated from the boat into the cold water of the slough, headfirst disappearing at once from their sight.

The body failing to appear on the surface of the water, the children began to cry; the cry was heard by a little brother, some 8 years old, who spread the terrible news.

Messrs. John Ostedahl, O. O. Krogstad and others proceeded with grappling irons to drag the slough, and found the body. Mrs. Thompson, when she fell out of the boat, was but a few feet from the shore.

Mrs. Martin Thompson was about 35 years old. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn her sudden death, the oldest child being 8 years old.

Deceased was interred on the 6th, Rev. Mr. Brown officiating—Yaquina Post, Toledo, Oregon.

The Thompson family were former residents of Willmar, removing to Oregon some over two years ago. The above will be sad news to their Willmar acquaintances, and the grief-stricken husband and children have the sincere sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

We understand that C. E. Johnson of Lake Elizabeth was slayed by the people's party as their candidate for representative. Mr. Johnson declined the honor, and we are informed, will support the republican national ticket.

In reply to the above Mr. Johnson sends us the following:

LAKE ELIZABETH, Sept. 17, 1900. EDITOR TRIBUNE—Fully appreciating the good will and confidence of the friends urging me to accept the candidacy for the nomination of state representative I was compelled for private reasons to decline the honor. Will say that the editor has been incorrectly informed as to my supporting the republican national ticket. I am still heartily in sympathy with the reform forces, state and national, and consider those principles worthy of any man's support. Respectfully, C. E. JOHNSON.

Need your daily bread. We knead it daily for you. GEO. W. JOHNSON.

MURDER IN DeGraft.

A shooting affray occurred in W. J. Kieley's saloon Saturday night at half past ten, in which Frank Scott, a young fellow about 24 years old, from Britt, Iowa, a bartender for Andy Kirk, was shot by Kieley's bartender, Chas. Campbell, the ball, a 32 calibre entering the left side and ranging towards the center of the body, through the intestines. Dr. Diagnault was called and rode down through the rain, reaching there about 12 o'clock, but was unable to locate the ball and there being no accommodations there for proper treatment of the wounded man it was thought best to send him to one of the city hospitals for attention and he was taken down on the morning train. What his condition is by this time we do not know, but Dr. Diagnault thinks the situation very grave. From what we can learn, Scott and a companion went into Kieley's place and asked for drinks, which were refused on the grounds that it was too late, Scott replied that it was not yet 11 and again asked to be served. He was then ordered out and refusing to go, Campbell began to shoot, the third shot taking effect. Since the above was placed in type, we have learned that Scott died Sunday night and that he is the second man that Campbell, who comes from Iowa has killed. We are likewise informed that there is a feud between the two saloons and that Kieley's brother was with Scott and that one of the bullets was aimed at him and went through his hat, just grazing his skull, also that they were quite boisterous and were trying to force themselves behind the counter when the shooting took place. Campbell was brought before Justice Collins yesterday afternoon and bound over to wait the action of the grand jury upon the charge of murder.—Benson Times.

Little Trisix.

"Little Trisix" is one of that class of plays that have become popular of late years under the name of musical or operatic comedies. In other countries they are called musical melodramas. Unlike the general farce comedy, it is free from the usual vulgar songs and horse play that is introduced in these incongruities. "Little Trisix" is a play that a man can take his entire family to see and they will enjoy it from the head of the family to the "wee one." May Smith Robbins, the star of the attraction, has been compared to Lotta in her palmy days, and while possessing her ingenious action and original naivete of manner, she is free from the extravagant interpretation of character the great comedienne usually indulged in. Miss Robbins is a fair singer, a wonderful dancer, and her power of mimicry is unsurpassed. She has been taken successively for a German, French or Irish girl, in the characters she assumes, and being of pure Celtic origin, is certainly shows great versatile power. She is supported by a company of talented artists who produce some clever and high-class specialties.

TRUSTS.

During the past four years trusts have sprung into existence by the hundreds and have thrived and prospered, killing individual enterprise and taxing the consumer at will.

During all this time Republicans have been in control of all the departments of the National government, without attempting to curb the evil by enforcing existing laws or framing more effective ones.

So thoroughly has the trust influence dominated the government that secrecy is no longer considered necessary. The transactions of the trusts are openly published, their stock is bought and sold on the market, and fabulous dividends are declared and flaunted in the face of the suffering public.

For FOUR YEARS Republican rule has fostered trusts. They have been encouraged by special favors and legislation. No pretense even has been made of enforcing existing laws against trusts.

In the waning days of the last congress, with a damning record threatening destruction to their party, the republicans propose an amendment to the constitution as follows:

SECTION 1. All powers conferred by this article shall extend to the several states, the territories, the district of Columbia and all territory under the sovereignty and subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to define, regulate, control, prohibit or dissolve trusts, monopolies or combinations, whether existing in the form of a corporation or otherwise. The several states may continue to exercise such power in any manner not in conflict with the laws of the United States.

SEC. 3. Congress shall have the power to enforce the provisions of this article by appropriate legislation.

Cunningly constructed, it hides such dangerous provisions that no true populist or democrat could vote for it. Its passage would have recognized the extension of sovereignty without territorial rights. It would have given power to crush labor unions or any other combination, political, social and religious as well as commercial. The populists and democrats were ready to legislate against trusts, against greedy capitalistic conspiracies, but not to interfere with the rights of labor and civic rights of man. Therefore the proposed amendment did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote. The republicans therefore now hypocritically blame the minority for its failure to restrict the trusts.

As they claim that the minority or party out of power has the controlling power, the people will see their party will be out of power after election day.

The people who wish to see trusts restricted will vote for Bryan, and congressmen and legislators to support him, because the platforms of the populist and democratic parties promise relief from the extortion of trusts.

How do they propose to get relief?

By placing articles controlled by trusts on the free list. By using the entire power of the Federal government over interstate commerce and the privilege of the mails in breaking up the illegal combinations.

By restoring the opportunity for individual enterprise by placing the instruments of commerce under the direct control of the people, viz.: money, transportation and the transmission of intelligence.

By placing all natural monopolies under public control.

If you are opposed to trusts, will you vote with the party that promises relief? Or with the party that admits its impotency to help you?

Not So Bad.

The following is an extract from the Granite Falls Tribune's (Rep.) account of the democratic state convention:

"The Democrats nominated for governor the man who has coined most of the expressions of contempt that are current in their application to Democrats, and then sided him out, at his own request, with a set of running mates who are almost without exception populists or renegade republicans but recently identified with democracy."

In our neck of the woods an effort is being made to make people believe that the democrats "hogged" everything.

See "Little Trisix" and enjoy an evening of recreation and fun.
