

Warrior in Gap

CHAPTER XXIV. Never unmeasure of its ground and the weakness of the adversary does the modern Indian band attack at night.

Two of the demoralized fellows plunged into the masses that led to the cellar. One burst into childish wailing and clung to Folsom's knees.

"Let go, you coward!" yelled the old man in fury, as he kicked himself loose, and then went bounding out upon the porch. God, what a sight! Sweeping up the gentle slope, brandishing rifles and lances and war clubs, racing for their hapless prey, came 50 Ogallallas, Burning Star among the leaders.

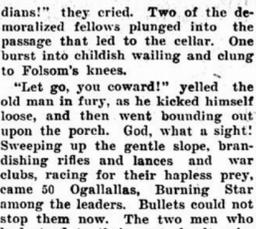

Upon the ranch, Jake, gallant fellow, lay bleeding at his post. Hope of any life was through dead. The silence without was only portent of the storm so soon to burst.

Long years after, in the camps and stockades and the growing towns of the far west, that almost marvelous vesicue was the theme of many a man's talk.

Chicory is grown quite extensively as a substitute or adulteration of coffee. The root, which resembles somewhat a beet, is the part used.

Chicory roots and leaves. The varieties commonly grown are Brunswick, Magdeburg and Schlesiache, which are here illustrated.

Mrs. Pinkham Saved me from an Operation.

Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves. Every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back.

What a terrifying thought! these poor souls are lying there on those hospital beds awaiting a fearful operation. Do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation.

Build up the female system, cure the derangements which have signified themselves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from the hospital.

Read the letter here published with the full consent of the writer, and see how she escaped the knife by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and the consistent treatment of her medicines.

Mrs. Knapp tells of her Great Gratitude. DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have received much benefit from using your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash.

After my child was born, blood poison set in, which left me with granulated inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I had suffered from suppressed and painful menstruation from a girl. The doctors told me the ovaries would have to be removed.

I took treatment two years to escape an operation, but still remained in a miserable health in both body and mind, expecting to part with my reason with each coming month.

After using one bottle of the Compound, I became entirely rid of the trouble in my head. I continued to use your remedies until cured.

The last nine months have been passed in perfect good health. This, I know, is owed entirely to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

My gratitude is great indeed to the one to whom so many women owe their health and happiness.—MRS. F. M. KNAPP, 1528 Kinnickinnic Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

$5000 REWARD. Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—LYDIA E. The Way of the World. Towne—Every man must benefit for himself, or get left. You'll get very little in this world if you don't ask for it.

Brown—Well, there's one thing you're likely to get most of if you don't ask for it. "What's that?" "Credit."—Philadelphia Press.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O! Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee.

The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O is made from rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomachs receive it without distress.

Jack—"Did Miss Withers make him wait for an answer?" Art—"Yes; it was 15 minutes before they could bring her to."

To be thrown upon one's own resources is to be cast into the very lap of fortune.—Benjamin Franklin.
