Quite a number of Seminary students arrived here on Thursday and Friday. School does not open until next Tuesday, but those who arrive now will surely find plenty of amusements with which to spend the time. Ole Klovstad of Milan, enjoyed the distinction of being the first last year student to arrive.

A special meeting of the Civic Federation will be held next Tuesday evening, Sept. 29, at 8 o'clock, in Borgeson Hall, Cor. Benson Ave. and Sixth St. The meeting will be addressed by the well known Temperance worker, Rev. Dr. C. H. Crawford, of Minneapolis, Minn. The public is cordially invited to this meeting.
While W. W. Knight was fixing up his booth on Wednesday he cut his hand quite badly. He was holding a jack-knife in his right hand, and seeing a pump falling he grabbed for it with both hands, thereby inflicting a bad cut on the top of the hand. He is at present carrying the hand in a sling, but the misfortune has not changed him, he is just as good natured as ever.
The TRIBUNE believes in not only furnishing news but also giving its readers the best there is in current literature. We are glad to announce that Maurice Thompson's famous novel "Alice of Old Vincennes" has at last become obtainable in serial form, and the TRIBUNE has secured it for its readers. The story deals with frontier life at the time of the revolution and gives a graphic account of the struggle between England and the United Colonies for the possession of the land west of the Alleghanies. The story is of absorbing interest and will be a treat for all who read it. It will begin in the issue of Oct. 7.
Wanted! Wanted! 200 boys and girls to use their rubber balls on Midway about 9 o'clock tonight. If a want like this appeared anywhere it would surely bring grand results. Among the results mentioned are rubber-necks, flat, depressed noses, small, red eyes and in some cases, none at all. These atrocities have been going on every night on the Midway, but strange to say nobody gets angry and if they do, they have sealed their own doom, for they are immediately taught a lesson by the good-natured ones. It is certainly enervating to see everybody, young and old, big and small, enjoy themselves, but at the same time we must be very careful that we do not hurt anybody with our rubber balls. It is easily done, especially if you put a stone or two in the ball. This you must not do, and you must know that this is exceedingly dangerous both for you and those whom you strike. Enjoy yourself, but remember that it always pays to be cautious.

Dedication of Jackson Monument.
As was stated in our last Wednesday edition, a monument was dedicated at Rush Point upon the grave of Rev. A. Jackson, the old pioneer preacher. The services took place at 2 p. m. Sept. 16. First there was scripture reading, song by the Rush Point choir and a sermon by Rev. Cavallin of Braham at the church. Then followed the dedication at the grave by Rev. G. Peterson of Willmar, followed by memorial remarks by Revs. Holt, Pihlgren and Johnson and Dr. Johnston. The total cost of the memorial was $330. The following is the wording of the inscription upon the monument:

PASTOR ANDREW JACKSON, D. D.
Född i Walla, Bohus län, Sverige den 11 Febr., 1828. Ankom till Amerika 1852. Prestavigd 1861. Död den 23 Juli, 1901. Mig är barmhertighet vedertären—1 Tim. 1:18.
Så hvila i vilslignelse
Du gode trogne tjener,
Gæst i din Herres glædte in
Och lönen för din mödas vinn.

Live Stock at the Street Fair.
D. N. Tallman's blooded stock received the admiration of those interested in cattle and of course they were prize winners. Some fine beef cattle bought by Willmar meat firms from the Even Rallison Norway Lake farm were second prize winners, as were also Shropshire sheep exhibited by Magnus Olson of Dovre. M. W. Spicer captured first prize for his exhibit of Shropshire sheep. K. O. Krantz of Pennoek exhibited a sow that captured second prize. Hogs from the farm of M. W. Spicer and

M. Fauchald were exhibited, but the latter carried off the first prize for his mopster porker, weighing 633 pounds. Fred Smith exhibited a fine milch cow that captured first prize.
