The Heroic Georgian.

Thomas E. Watson, the great champion of Jeffersonian principles in the South, has accepted the Peoples Party nomination for president. He was present at the state convention of the party at Lincoln, Neb., on the 10th instant and delivered a remarkable speech. In plain but eloquent language he sets forth the political situation and reviews political history. His appearance at Lincoln was the first appearance of a southern reformer in the Northwest for many years, and the message he brings is well worthy of careful consideration by thinking citizens of all parties. We have made arrangements by which we will publish Mr. Watson's speech in full in supplement form in our next issue. The Nebraska Independent tells of his delivery of the speech in these words: "While a verbatim report of Watson's speech at Lincoln before the state convention is printed in this issue of the Independent, and however readers may be delighted with it, no conception can be formed of the spell it cast over the vast audience that listened to it. One must have heard it. A slight, frail man, every nerve quivering with earnestness, throwing all his soul-power into every word he said, seeming at times that his very heart strings would break with a yearning to save this government from the attacks of predatory wealth entrenched behind special privileges, he captured the sympathy of every man, woman and child that heard him. His logic was invincible, his rhetoric a model for all public speakers who may follow him, his enunciation distinct and clear. "Toward the latter part of his speech his strength began to fail and he sat down in a chair. From that chair there blazed forth such bursts of eloquence as was never heard in Lincoln before, although the greatest orators of the age have spoken in this university city. Tom Watson is the greatest leader of the common people since Lincoln."

Australia's Labor Cabinet.

It will be worth while keeping a keen eye on Australia in the future. Over there the cause of labor does not run much to strikes or lockouts, but the ballot gets its dues. Australia's third federal cabinet has made its appearance, and even the plutocratic end of the country admits that it is an able cabinet. J. C. Watson is prime minister and treasurer. He is also a composer. Ten years ago he was "sticking type" on a paper in Sydney. Once he was a groom in Lord Carrington's stables. He rose because it was in him to rise. Other members of the cabinet are: Mr. Fisher, who was a miner; Mr. Hughes, an umbrella maker; Mr. Mc Gregor, an agricultural laborer; Mr. Batchelor, an engine fitter; Mr. Mahon, a reporter. A cluster of labor members hold in their hands the political fortunes of a continent. They run things very much as any other set of men would run them. Economy appeals to them, because necessity has all their lives made them thrifty. They are all well educated, for in Australia the public school has reached a high stage of efficiency. They have a keen sense of justice, for the reason that they have been close to that injustice that so often reaches the plain people. They are well posted on the needs of their country, and in their hands it is believed that Australia is safe. It seems strange in a land dominated by royalty, and where ancestry is everything, that it should have been possible for labor to take hold of the reins of government, and that Destiny should have gone to the workbench, the printer's case, the mine and the soil to secure talent for the cabinet of a great country. If Australia continues to prosper under the new order of things, the cause of labor will have secured new advancement.—St. Paul Daily News.

Result of Competition.

The Minnesota Central Telephone company have advised the Benson Telephone Exchange that, effective August 1, the long distance rate between Benson and the cities will be 60 cents for two minutes and 25 cents for every additional minute. In some cases the new rate will be a reduction and in others a raise. Under the old schedule a three minute conversation costs 75 cents but under the new it costs 80 cents. Hereafter the exchange has not been strict in enforcing the limit but now they will have to, for the time will be checked closely at Minneapolis and the local exchanges will be charged up accordingly. The change in rate was no doubt brought about by the coming establishment of a competitive trunk line. We may anticipate further reductions in the near future. There is nothing like competition to insure reasonable rates and satisfactory service.—Swift County Monitor.

Has Human Nature Changed in 2,000 Years?

By HERBERT N. CASLOW. Were the men who lived two thousand years ago very different from the men of today? When a little child was kidnapped in ancient times, did the whole city help the mother in her search as they do now? Were the men in Greece fond of bragging? Did the women gossip and buy pretty dresses? Did the children bully their parents? Did the working people get plenty of good advice and very small wages?

Read these sayings of the ancient Grecians and judge for yourself. It seems to me that though they had no railroads, no skyscrapers, no newspapers and no base ball two thousand years ago, they were wonderfully like us in many ways: The most changeable things in the world are the course of waters and the humor of women.—Pittacus. Love your friends with discretion, and consider it possible that they may some day become your enemies.—Bias. Good men are very rare; bad men and fools are innumerable.—Bias. It is hope that flatters most men; gain that pleases them most, and loss of fortune that is hardest to bear.—Bias. Before strangers a man should neither care nor blame his wife for by so doing he shows either his weakness or his folly.—Theobolus. The tongue is the best and the worst thing that we possess.—Anacharsis. Markets are places which men have established to deceive one another.—Anacharsis. A man is a child till the age of twenty, a youth till the age of forty, a man at sixty and an old man at eighty.—Pythagoras. If you want to write a book that shall have a great reputation, write one that no one can understand.—Heraclitus. We should respect our enemies, for they are the first to perceive and to make known our faults.—Antisthenes. When the people elect public officials they do not think first of their ability to govern; all they think of is to elect them.—Antisthenes. If you wish to know the difference between a learned man and an ignorant man, dress them both alike and send them among strangers.—Aristippus. The whole world is in slavery, for the slaves obey their masters and the masters obey their passions.—Diogenes. It is only flatterers who profit by the wealth of the great.—Crates. Everything in the world is done thru habit.—Pyrrho. It is not you who possess your riches, but your riches which possess you.—Blon. Most men postpone happiness until the future, and the future never comes.—Epiurus. Nothing which is criminal can be useful.—Zeno. Here is a waking man's dream.—Aristotle. Some men pile up money as if they were to live forever, while others spend it as if they were to die tomorrow.—Aristotle.

After the Chickens. The shooting season for chickens does not open before Sept. 1, but as usual there are already complaints of premature chicken hunters getting in their unlawful work. Reports received by the state game and fish commission from deputy wardens in various parts of the state indicate that prairie chickens will be numerous this year. Most of the wardens report an excellent crop of chickens in their territory. The severe winter had little effect upon the birds and they have increased greatly. State Game Warden Fullerton is now appointing special deputy wardens to patrol the chicken country and protect the birds until the shooting season shall open. From now on the wardens will be kept busy protecting the birds from encroaching hunters. We are unable as yet to state who is the game warden for this locality, but it would be well for law breakers to be on their guard lest they might have occasion to be brought before a tribunal of justice.

Coming Down a Peg. London, Aug. 7.—It is officially confirmed that Port Arthur has fallen. London, Aug. 9.—It is rumored that Port Arthur has been taken. Democratic Mass Convention. A mass convention of the Democrats of Kandiyohi county will be held at the M. W. A. hall at Kandiyohi village, on Saturday, Aug. 27, '04, beginning at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing eleven delegates to the state democratic convention to be held at Minneapolis on Tuesday, Aug. 30, 1904. All persons who believe in the principles of the Democratic party are invited to attend. S. E. STANBERRY, Chairman.

Home Visitors Excursionless. On Sept. 6, 13, 20, 27 and Oct. 11 the Chicago Great Western R. way will sell round trip tickets at one fare plus $2.00 to points in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. Good returning 30 days from date of sale. For further information write to H. L. Wyand, T. P. A., 364 Robert St., St. Paul, Minn.

OFFICIAL PREMIUM LIST

Of the Fourth Annual Street Fair to be Held at Willmar, Sept. 14, 15, 16 and 17, 1904.

RULES. Sec. 1. All articles entered to compete for premiums must have the secretary's entry card attached. Owner's name must not appear on exhibit or any tag thereon.

Sec. 2. All cattle and poultry offered in competition must be owned by the exhibitor or some member of the family. Farm products, fruits, flowers, domestic and household goods, etc., must be the production of the exhibitor or some member of the exhibitor's family, and be entitled to compete. Articles provided with the required entry tag will be assigned places by the superintendent in charge of entry.

Sec. 3. The exhibitors are required to have their articles entered on the books of the secretary arranged at the designated places before 5 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday.

Sec. 4. Exhibitors will be entitled to exhibit any number of articles, but in no case can the same article be entered to compete for premiums in more than one lot.

Sec. 5. The removal of articles before 3 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, Sept. 17th, will forfeit any premium awarded.

Sec. 6. Each division superintendent has complete charge of all exhibits in his division and his authority should be respected accordingly.

Sec. 7. Judges are barred from exhibiting in the class in which they are judges.

Sec. 8. Competitors attempting to interfere with judges will forfeit their right to a premium, and in all cases be reported to the committee to the secretary.

Sec. 9. Judges will report decisions to the secretary, who will give an order to the property calling for premium.

Sec. 10. Where there is only one exhibitor in one class, only one premium will be given, to the first second, as the merit of the article may warrant.

Sec. 11. Awards of premiums will be designated by cards as follows: First prize, blue; second prize, red.

Sec. 12. The owner of the exhibit to which a premium card is attached will establish an order on the treasurer for the prize by calling at the secretary's office.

Sec. 13. All exhibits will be passed upon at 4 o'clock p. m., Thursday.

Sec. 14. Exhibitors must see to proper delivery of articles, and to proper care of same, as no charge or transportation will be paid by the management.

Sec. 15. The managers will take every precaution in their power for the protection and preservation of articles on exhibition, but will not be responsible for any loss that may occur.

Sec. 16. Fire and police regulations will be provided and an ample force in attendance day and night, but the management will not be responsible for damage or loss by water, fire, theft or otherwise.

Sec. 17. Articles not removed by 6 p. m. Saturday will be put in charge of the superintendent of the grounds, and the owners of the property required to pay charges.

Sec. 18. Only residents in Kandiyohi county can compete for premiums.

Notes—The management of the fair fully appreciates the importance of the better industry to this county, but, on account of the lack of facilities with which to properly handle a better exhibit, it has been thought best not to offer any premiums on better.

First in Live Stock.

Perhaps the most important feature of the Minnesota State Fair of 1904 will be the national live stock exhibition which it is believed will this year surpass all previous displays of pure bred cattle at this great fair. Several years ago, the management of the Minnesota State Fair interested some of the great national breeders' associations in making exhibits and since then they have been successful in developing an annual display of pure bred cattle not equaled among the state fairs of the country.

This year the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, American Hereford Breeders' Association and the American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association, join with the Minnesota State Fair in giving special premiums which in the aggregate will amount to over $10,000. This, it should be remembered, is in addition to the very complete and liberal list of premiums given by the fair to all other breeds of cattle. The officers of the great associations and of the fair have assurances from exhibitors which indicate that the display this year will be the largest ever made on the Minnesota fair grounds, and that the auction sale of Shorthorns and Herefords, which has been made a feature of the display, will be one of the best of the series.

At the Minnesota Fair, the cattle are judged in a great circuit tent, so arranged that the thousands of people can see the cattle in the ring, and the auction takes place under similar conditions. Cattle bought at the fair are transported to the farm at nominal rates.

The Minnesota State Fair is held on the great fair grounds midway between Minneapolis and St. Paul, and this year it will open on Monday, August 29, and close on Saturday, September 3. Half fare rates have been made on all railroads thruout the Northwest.

Reduced Telephone Rates.

The Minnesota Central Telephone Company announces a general forty cent rate from New London to the Twin Cities. The rate was formerly 65 from this point. It is probable that the prospective competition from the Tri-State company is the cause of this reduction in rates. It will however be appreciated by the business men and patrons of the long distance line.—New London Times.

Seeking Office.

O. C. Quale, of Kerkhoven, was in town the early part of the week. We understand that he has given up the idea of seeking the republican nomination for clerk of court, but will try for superintendent of schools. He stands so show there. If he really wants to have a county office, his only fighting chance is the office of county auditor. He would undoubtedly get the republican nomination.—Swift County Monitor.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomel Only Guaranteed Cure for This Common and Disagreeable Disease. Hyomel cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs. offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, cough, stitch in side, loss of flesh, variable appetite, loss of strength, expurgating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, Hyomel will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but A. E. Moseberg emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomel does not cure.
