WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1904.

Which party can buy the most votes? W. W. Jermans, the Journal's Washington correspondent, a republican, in a review of the political situation last Thursday said:

"Speaking of money, I am advised by men in position to speak by the card that the republican campaign fund is very much smaller than it was in 1896 and in 1900, relatively to the number of states in which fights are being made. It is estimated that Chairman Cortelyou is controlling thus far only 40 per cent as much money as Chairman Hanna had in 1900. This means unless a change should come, a serious handicap in states like New York and Indiana, where the purchasable vote is large. Both parties heretofore have been able to buy portions of this vote, thus neutralizing its influence, but if the democrats, by virtue of a larger campaign fund, are able to secure the larger portion of it they will possess an advantage which they did not have either in 1896 or in 1900."

Isn't that a damnable and humiliating confession? How about the "higher plane" on which Roosevelt was to run the campaign? If his party does not buy as many votes this campaign as it did in 1896 and 1900 it is because it can't raise the money! You every day good honest workmen, who would seem to do a dishonest act, break away from the old parties where your vote is counted with those of the ignorant and venal. Every vote for plain Tom Watson, of Georgia, who has no campaign fund, but who does possess brains, able statesmanship, intense patriotism, and the courageous and true American spirit, will be a protest against the humiliating corruption of the old parties. Instead of being "thrown away" every such vote will be a potent influence for cleaner politics and better government.

A LIVE ISSUE. The following appeared as an editorial in the Minneapolis Journal, Oct. 13:

"A Wall street rumor has it that it is the Standard Oil group that is backing E. H. Harriman in his great schemes of railway conquest. This is more than likely, for there is no more inviting field for this powerful financial group than railway control. Miss Tarbell has indicated in her articles in McClure's Magazine that the present ambition of America's great moneyed oligarchy leads in that direction. Having already secured such a grip on the finances of the nation that it can produce a panic at will, the next step in the advancement of the dangerous ambitions of this unscrupulous group would naturally be the railways.

"Those who believe in state ownership of railways would rather welcome successful advances by the Standard Oil group in this direction. The reduction of the railway ownership of the country to four or five groups has undoubtedly had the effect of turning public attention to the arguments for government ownership. Should the four or five groups be reduced to one and that the Standard Oil, it is altogether likely that state ownership of the railways would immediately become a live issue. If it didn't, railway ownership of the people would likely follow."

A TRIBUNE READER'S VIEWS. Preston, Minn., Oct. 11, 1904.

DEAR SIR:—In his speech at Lanesboro, Minn., Fairbanks said: "When the integrity of our currency was assailed the Northwest thought upon the subject deeply and seriously and rendered a verdict in favor of the maintenance of individual and national credit. It was the Northwest that helped to settle and fix the gold standard which we now have upon the statute books of the United States. Some of our opponents, but not all of them, now, after eight long years of hard contest, say it is firmly and irrevocably established. They acknowledge too much. It is true that it is firmly established but it is irrevocably established so long as the republican party or some other party stands back of it willing and able to maintain it."

This shows that the financial question is uppermost in the minds of the republican party leaders. His words "some other party" show that he is more anxious to maintain the gold standard than to defeat the Parker democrats.

I also saw in St. Paul News that after Roosevelt is re-elected, which he undoubtedly will be, he will appoint Judge Parker to the Supreme Court bench.

I appreciate the good work of the Tribune and will send you a dollar soon. School teachers with family claims upon them find it hard to spare many dollars for other purposes.

Very truly yours, W. E. CUMMINGS.

What a world of gossip would be prevented if it were only remembered that a person who tells you of the faults of others intends to tell others of your faults.

Peoples Party National Platform

Adopted at Springfield, Ill., July 4, 1904.

The people's party reaffirms its adherence to the basic truths of the Omaha platform of 1892, and its subsequent platforms of 1896 and 1900. In season in its fourth national convention on July 4, 1904, in the city of Springfield, Ill., it draws inspiration from the day that saw the birth of the nation as well as the birth of a party, and also from the soul of him who lived at its present place of meeting. We reiterate our allegiance to the old fashioned American spirit that gave this nation existence, and made it distinctive among the people of the earth. We again sound the key-note of the Declaration of Independence that all men are created equal in a political sense, which was the sense in which that instrument being a political document intended for the utterance should be understood. We assert that the departure from this fundamental truth is responsible for the ills from which we suffer as a nation, that the giving of special privileges to the few has enabled them to dominate the many, thereby tending to destroy the political equality which is the cornerstone of democratic government.

Holding fast to the truths of the fathers we vigorously protest against the encroachment of mammonism and of thinly veiled monarchy, that is invading certain sections of our national life, and of the administration itself. This is a nation of peace, and we demand the repeal of the spirit of force and militarism which is shown in ill advised and vain glorious boasting and in more harmful ways in the denial of the rights of man under martial law.

A political democracy and an industrial despotism cannot exist side by side; and nowhere is this truth more plainly shown than in the gigantic transportation monopolies which have bred all sorts of kindred trusts, subverted the government of many of the states, and established their official agents in the national government. We submit that it is better for the government to own the railroads than for the railroads to own the government, and that one or the other alternative seems inevitable.

We call the attention of fellow citizens to the fact that the surrender of both of the old parties to corporate influences leaves the Peoples party the only party of reform in the nation.

Therefore we submit the following platform of principles to the American people: Money and Banks. The issuing of money is function of government, and should never be delegated to corporations or individuals. The constitution gives to congress alone, power to issue money and regulate its value. We therefore demand that all money shall be issued by the government in such quantity as shall maintain a stability in prices, every dollar to be full legal tender, none of which shall be a debt redeemable in other money.

Savings Banks. We demand that Postal Savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people.

Labor. We believe in the right of labor to organize for the benefit and protection of those who give, as one author expresses it, right primary ideas on the great relations and duties of life. In no way can he obtain these as through the conversation and conduct of his elders. These directly influence his heart and imagination, and his standards of right and wrong are unconsciously fashioned after the pattern thus set.

If those who compose his home circle have high ideals, are reverent, sincere, kind, thoughtful, his mind and soul will assimilate their good thoughts and deeds as surely as his body assimilates the nourishing food so carefully supplied to him three times each day.

Religious Training in the Home. Writing in the November Delineator on "The Christian Spirit in the Home," Mrs. Theodore W. Birney says: "The object of religious training is to enable the child to recognize the divine laws, and to learn to obey them. These are not matters of creeds and doctrines, which vary and bear more or less of the human imprint, but are the messages that we hear when we listen to the inner voice. Even young children can be made to understand that this voice is not one we hear with the physical sense of hearing, but it is a voice that speaks to our minds and souls, and the more earnestly we listen and long to do its message to us. Christian life in the home requires that the child should be started right, that he should be Expectorating on the sidewalk in this city ought to be stopped. At the best it is one of the most disgusting habits that man indulges in. A great many cities have stringent laws against it and these laws are enforced. Why cannot Anoka have one? This city now boasts a number of cement sidewalks and these should be kept as clean as possible. An anti-spit ordinance would be most welcome.—Anoka Herald.

It would seem almost unnecessary to have such an ordinance enacted, yet there are some people who cannot be restrained from any bad and disgusting habit except by the hard hand of the law.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Hart's Fortunate Experience of Special Interest to Many in Willmar. The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart, of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment, and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgment that I tried Hyomei." The doctor in his emphatic way added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night, and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei."

A. E. Mossberg is the local agent for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. He sells it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask him to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.
