MUSICAL TREAT

Minneapolis Church Singers Will Appear in Concert in Willmar Friday Evening.

A musical treat is promised the people of this city on Friday evening, when several of the prominent church singers of Minneapolis will appear in a grand concert at the opera house under the auspices of the Men's Club of St. Luke's Episcopal church.

The following well-known artists, all prominent in the musical circles of Minneapolis, will take part in the program:

C. E. H. Fisher, basso cantante. Mr. Fisher is one of Minneapolis' most popular church singers, having held positions at the Plymouth, Universalist, Westminster and Unitarian churches in this city. He is a singer of excellent diction and handles his voice according to the best cantata method. Mr. Fisher received his education in Boston and has appeared in numerous eastern festivals and is a popular singer upon the concert and oratorio stage.

Mrs. C. E. Fisher, elocutionist and reader, has given some time to the study of elocution and while she does not follow it at all, still her readings are always enjoyed when given for her friends.

Mr. W. B. Heath, tenor, is well known throughout the Northwest, where he has appeared in nearly all its cities and towns either as a soloist or in oratorio. He is a member of the Masonic Quartet and at the present time holds the position of tenor singer in the Peoples church in St. Paul.

Miss Myra Stoddard, contralto, comes from a musical family and has a very pure voice of pleasing quality. She resigned her position in the Universalist church last season and is now singing at the Andrew Presbyterian church and at the Synagogue in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Hawkins, who is soprano soloist at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Minneapolis, received her musical education in Paris and Boston. Her upper register is particularly clear and pleasing. She is connected with the faculty of the Northwestern Conservatory of Music and has appeared with marked success in concert both in the east and west.

Dr. C. Strauchauer, cellist, is an amateur who seldom appears in concert in Minneapolis, as his profession requires so much of his attention. He is, however, a member of the Hoebel String Quartette, whose chamber music Co. here, has been transferred to Clonair, for which place he left this week.

Howard Clark returned on Monday from Raymond, where he had been attending his father, C. T. Clark, who was suffering from injuries received in an accident two weeks ago. Mr. Clark, while working on the new elevator for the Willmar Milling Co., fell about twelve feet. His back was severely injured as well as other parts of his body. Second Ward Recount.

On the assurance of the Secretary of State that all names of people who were not counted in the census in the city of Willmar, will yet be included in the printed report of the census, arrangements have been made to recount the Second ward. John A. Johnson has been engaged and has been busy at work since Tuesday morning checking up the work of the enumerator. The matter has been delayed so long, however, that it is a question whether the whole city can be covered in time. The census reports are now with the printers, and we understand that a hurry call was received yesterday for the revised list of Willmar. The recount in Third ward alone, however, assures the people that we will have the satisfaction of seeing a substantial increase in the printed report over the 5,825 given by the city in the first count. The work being done in Second ward, we understand, will bring to light a number of omissions. The cost of the recount in Second ward will have to be borne by private individuals, as the state has no more money to expend. It is too bad, but a reasonably correct count of the entire city cannot be made in time to insure its publication in the printed report of the 1905 census.

Mr. W. B. Heath, tenor, is well known throughout the Northwest, where he has appeared in nearly all its cities and towns either as a soloist or in oratorio. He is a member of the Masonic Quartet and at the present time holds the position of tenor singer in the Peoples church in St. Paul.

October Wedding Bells.

ERICKSON MURRAY. The marriage of Charley J. Erickson, of Eagle Lake, to Miss Margaret F. Murray, of Green Lake, was solemnized last Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church, village of Kandiyohi, Rev. Father Malloy of this city performing the ceremony at nine o'clock in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the bridal pair. The attendants were Miss Katherine Murray, a sister of the bride, and Simon Murray, a brother. The groom's cousin, Miss Julia Erickson, presided at the organ and played the wedding march as the bridal party entered. The bride was neatly gowned in white silk and carried bride's roses.

Following the ceremony at the church there was a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray. A reception was held in the evening which was attended by about a hundred friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy married life. They will make their home on a farm in the town of Green Lake.

CRASWELL MONTVILLE. A happy October wedding occurred in this city last evening, when Mr. James A. Craswell, of Willmar, Minn., was joined in marriage to Miss Mina P. Montville, of this city, at the bride's home. The wedding was at eight o'clock, the service being read by Rev. J. F. Van Camp. The couple were attended by the Misses Nellie and Lulu Craswell, of Sioux City, as bridesmaids, and Messrs. Herbert Craswell, Jr., of Sioux City, and Claire H. Montville, of this city, as groomsmen. Little Miss Lois Craswell acted as ring bearer, carrying the golden crozier in a tiny basket, and the impressive ring ceremony was used. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Ralph G. Hart, the members of the wedding party took their places in a corner of the room, which had been very prettily arranged for the purpose, and the subdued strains of the wedding march were continued thru the service. The bride was attired in white silk, trimmed with lace.

The marriage was witnessed by a very limited number of relatives and friends, who bestowed the most cordial congratulations and good wishes upon the newly wedded pair. The gifts received were numerous and pretty, one of the most interesting being a silk cravat, quilt, all of the work upon which was done by the bride's grandmother; after she had attained the age of seventy-three years. A fine wedding repast was served after the ceremony, and the remainder of the evening was spent in a pleasant social manner, until the departure of the bridegroom at Northern train for the north, when Mr. and Mrs. Craswell left for Willmar. There a beautiful farm home awaits them, just at the outskirts of the city.

Mr. Craswell is a prosperous young man, and one of the highest character and worth. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Craswell, of Sioux City, who were here last evening to witness his wedding. The bride is one of Pipestone's best young women—has grown to womanhood here and is universally esteemed. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montville. Mr. and Mrs. Craswell enter upon their married life with the good wishes of a host of friends.—Pipestone Daily Star, 10th in 4.

BROWN-DEALL. Cupid has succeeded in kindling the fire of love again in two hearts, each of which had figured in an unhappy alliance in days gone by. Last Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, at his office in the court house, Judge Nordin pronounced the words that made Andrew C. Brown and Mrs. Angie Beall husband and wife. The groom is a well-known farmer whose place of residence for many years has been a few miles west of this city. The bride is a former resident of Kenosha county, Wis. The knot was duly tied in the presence of Clerk of Court Ramsett and Miss Inga Olson, who were called upon to witness the ceremony by the union of heart and hand. May this matrimonial voyage be a most happy one. We extend heartiest congratulations.

OLSON GUSTAFSON. The Swedish Lutheran paragon was the scene of a pretty wedding last Saturday afternoon, when Martin Olson of Mamre and Miss Anna Gustafson of Dovre were united in marriage. Rev. G. Peterson officiating. The ceremony took place at three o'clock and was solemnized in the parlor. The attendants were Misses Hulda Hoglund and Alma Bjork, who acted as bridesmaids, and Messrs. Oscar Gustafson and Peter Olson, who officiated as groomsmen. Following this wedding service, which was witnessed by only immediate relatives and friends, the bridal pair was tendered a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nels Gustafson, in the town of Dovre. A large number of guests were assembled and showered congratulations upon the happy bride and groom and a bountiful wedding supper was served.

Dr. J. S. Gibson, of Atwater, was in the city last Saturday undergoing an operation for blood poisoning which he had contracted in his right hand. The operation was performed by Drs. E. S. and Harold Frost. The infection started some time ago from an abrasion of his index finger and his condition became such that it was found necessary to seek surgical aid. The affected parts were successfully lanced and it is hoped the doctor will soon regain the use of his hand.

Dr. Gerretson wishes to announce to his patrons that he is back from his trip and again ready to attend to the wants of all wishing work done in dentistry.

The Litchfield-Willmar football game did not materialize last Saturday on account of the unfavorable weather. It was thought the game could be played on Monday of this week, but the boys were again unfortunate—still more rain. Evidently they do not stand in with the weather man.

WOMEN VISITORS HERE

Degree of Honor Convention Opens This Afternoon in Local Lodge Rooms.

This afternoon and evening the Odd Fellows hall will be the scene of activity in both a social and business way for members of the Degree of Honor. The occasion is the district convention of that order, in which a number of women delegates from out of town as well as local members will participate. Representatives are expected from Morris, Benson, Hancock, Appleton, Montevideo, Marshall, Litchfield, Paynesville and Eden Valley, and it is possible that other teams may also be represented. The local lodge has made preparations for entertaining a large delegation and visitors will be well taken care of by their host.

Upon the arrival of the visiting delegates luncheon will be served in the hall. Sessions will be held both afternoon and evening and a banquet served to members and visitors at six o'clock in the banquet hall, and a light lunch at the close of the evening session. Mrs. Myra L. Sprague, of Long Lake, Grand Chief of Honor, will conduct the convention, the program for the afternoon session being as follows: assignment of topics by lodges being given; Music; Address of Welcome, Willmar; Response to Address of Welcome, Morris; District Conventions, Litchfield; Conferring Lodge Business to the Lodge Room, Hancock; Reading; Duties of Officers, Eden Valley; How Can We Help the A. O. U. W. Lodge? Appleton; A Model Lodge Meeting, Montevideo; Duties of Members, Paynesville; Music; When to Use the Black Ball, Benson; How to reach the Stay-at-Home, Willmar; Visiting Our Sick Members, Marshall; The Advantages of Fraternal Protection over Old Line Life Insurance, Morris; Report from each lodge of year's work.

The regular meeting of Willmar lodge will be held in the evening, invitations and addresses by Grand Lodge officers being the special features.

While in Willmar last week we had a chance to look over a copy of the Kandiyohi County History as published by the Willmar Tribune. A glance at the book was sufficient to show what a stupendous undertaking it must have been to gather all the material which this history comprises and put it in shape before the public. We have no doubt it is the most complete county history in the state for nothing seems to have been left out that had any bearing on the history of the county from its very earliest settlement to the present time. The work is practically illustrated with maps, homes and settlers of Kandiyohi county. The publishers in placing this work before the public have certainly built themselves a monument more lasting than granite or marble and should have the thanks of the people for it will not only be treasured by them but by the generations which are to come.—Clara City Herald.
