SIRENS AND SONS.

Herbert H. D. Peire, our new minister to Norway, is a native of Massachusetts and a relative by marriage of Senator Lodge. Garret A. Hobart, aged nineteen, son of the late Vice President Hobart, is a trustee of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer of Paterson, N. J. John Hawkes, a Cincinnati lumberman, recently returned from Europe after crossing and recrossing 228 times. He is known among travelers as "the old man of the sea." L. V. Harkness, the Standard Oil man, has purchased the beautiful home site in Pasadena, Cal., known as Carmelita, on the grounds of which is a bungalow in which Helen Hunt Jackson wrote part of "Ramona." Senator Allison leads the list in the new Congressional Directory as respects length of service, and Senator Morgan of Alabama is a close second. Allison's continuous service dates from March 4, 1873, and Morgan's from March 5, 1877. Anthony de Rothschild, youngest son of Leopold de Rothschild, is head boy at Harrow school, England. This is the first time this distinction has fallen to a Jewish lad who has not conformed to the ordinary religious exercises of the school. Tolbert von Watson, who recently enlisted in the regular army at St. Louis, is a cousin of Austria's military attaché at Washington, and his father is an officer in the Austrian army. Private von Watson speaks and writes nine languages. Edwin Robinson, former director of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, has been selected as assistant to Sir Purdon Clark, the new director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York city. Mr. Robinson graduated at Harvard in 1879 and studied five years abroad. "The Right Hon. John," as Minister John Burns is now called by his British friends, wrote a characteristic account of himself for the English "Who's Who." Referring to his education, he says: "Afterwards at night schools and still learning. Came into the world with a struggle, struggling now and prospects of continuing it." COLLEGE AND SCHOOL. The Fathers and Mothers' club of Boston has begun the work of placing school nurses in the public schools of the city. There are 21,000 colored teachers in the United States, thus divided between the two sexes: Men, 7,000; women, 13,000. The number of teachers in the United States has increased greatly in recent years. In 1871 there were 125,000; in 1880, 225,000; in 1890, 340,000; and it is at present 450,000. The board of curators of the Missouri university have decided to extend an invitation to President Roosevelt to attend the college commencement next June and receive from the school the honorary degree of LL. D. During next term at the Washington State university a special course in socialism will be given. It will include anarchism, communism, socialism in its three branches—state, agrarian and single tax—and religious or altruistic, as taught by Washington Gladden. Strange Siamese Custom. They have a novel method in Siam of getting rid of the bodies of paupers and criminals. In one of the temples is kept a flock of a hundred vultures, and the bodies, instead of being buried or thrown away, are given to them as food. As soon as they catch sight of a body the ravenous creatures gather around it, and it only takes them a minute or two to pick all the flesh off it. A repugnant sight it is, but, according to Siamese physicians, it is an excellent sanitary measure. The soil of Siam, they point out, is generally moist, hence it is much better that bodies should be treated in this way than be placed in the ground, for, if buried, they would surely prove more or less of a menace to the public health. After the vultures have finished their feast the skeletons are placed in wooden boxes and burned.

COAL TAR DYE IN JAM.

Extracts from Bulletin No. 16, issued by the Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission. An inspector of this department sometime ago procured a sample of black berry jam from a Minneapolis retail grocer, and upon analysis the jam was found to contain coal tar dye as a coloring matter. The jam was manufactured by Gordon & Dilworth, of New York, and bears their label. Notice was sent to the retailer, who also to the manufacturers. The manufacturers deny that they have ever used any coloring matter in their goods, and offer the suggestion that our chemist has mixed samples or has made a mistake. The sample is still on hand at the laboratory, and bears the label of the manufacturer. A piece of white wool cloth was stained with the coloring matter taken from the sample, and afterwards given an acid bath for several hours. The stain still remains at the cloth. Another piece of cloth was stained at the same time with natural coloring matter taken from a pure blackberry jam, and came out of the bath perfectly free from color. Both pieces of cloth are on file at this office. The retailer from whom the sample was purchased wrote the manufacturer asking what he should do with the goods he still had on hand. It is the practice of reliable manufacturers to instruct their customers to return illegal goods and receive credit for them. They reported to the retailer as follows: "With regard to disposition of the Preserved Blackberry Jam that is your affair. You bought them, and presumably paid for them, or intended to do so, and we have no more interest in them, unless there is some complaint on the score of quality or keeping, and therefore you are at liberty to dispose of them as you may elect." It is needless to state that the retailer is entirely blameless in this case. A complaint is ready awaiting the next visit of a representative of this firm to the state. I have called attention to this case at length for the purpose of demonstrating the tactics pursued by some manufacturers in placing their goods on the market and also to caution dealers against buying supplies from outside parties, who will not stand back of their goods. It is but justice to state, however, that there are very few manufacturers of food products who will not guarantee the legality of their goods. Edward K. Slater, Commisshoier.

NEWS BRIEVITIES.

The board of audit has been in session this week. The work will be finished today. Do not forget the gold medal contest to be held at the opera house next Friday evening. Rev. Albin Johnson, a missionary from Alaska, preached in the Mission church last night. H. C. Serenson has opened a land office in the east apartment of the H. T. Olson building on Benson avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets. Nels Norsen went down to Willmar Tuesday night and expects to enter the employ of the Great Northern.—Swift County (Benson) Monitor. J. S. Danes, who for some time has been employed by the Powers Elevator Co. as manager of elevator and lumber yard at Streetor, N. D., has resigned his position there and is at present with his family in this city. W. E. Somerville believes in making his residence property look attractive and consequently has given it a good coat of paint as well as his other buildings on the premises. The Ladies' Aid society of the Swedish Mission church will meet Friday afternoon of this week in the church basement. Mesdames Paul Peterson and Louis Hedlund will entertain. All are cordially invited. The "cap social" that was to have occurred in Dist. No. 57, Miss Elsie Thorne, teacher, two weeks ago, was postponed to occur next Saturday evening, April 28. All are invited. A voluntary petition in "bankruptcy" has been filed in the United States court by George N. Gary, a railway brakeman of Willmar. The schedule shows debts of $676.30 and assets of $225 in exempt personal property.—Minneapolis Journal. Dan Leary succeeds Herman Rigg as day transfer clerk at the Great Northern express office. The latter takes the position of delivery clerk at the Page Department store, succeeding Lee Somerville, who resigned to enter the mail service in this city. Among the new residents who have recently been added to our city's population is the E. M. Baldwin family, who came here from Hutchinson. Mr. P. C. King late of Marshall, is also another new resident. The family will join him later in the season. Messrs. Baldwin and King will be employed at the meat factory which will be built south of this city. The surgeons of the Chicago & Alton railroad refuse applicants for positions who are cigar smokers, on the ground that inveterate smokers of cigars cannot be relied upon in cases of emergency. This may be a good enough reason, but a better one is that they pollute the atmosphere of the railroad yards.—Minneapolis Journal. During last week the two cold storage houses of this city received 2,756 cases of eggs, making a total amount of close to a million eggs shipped in here over the Great Northern. Six carloads were consigned by the J. B. Agen Co. to their plant at Seattle, Wash. This is the largest amount of business in the egg line handled in a single week by the local houses. A most interesting as well as very enjoyable program was that which was given at the opera house last evening, by Capt. S. Albert and family of Chicago. The entertainment consisted of selections by an orchestra composed of the sons and a daughter of the captain, and an illustrated lecture on Russia and Siberia by himself. The affair was given under the auspices of Sharon Lodge A. F. and A. M. and besides the members of the lodge in this city and their families and friends there were a number of out-of-town people who enjoyed the entertainment as invited guests. Delaware's Hundreds. In the days when the Saxons dominated England prior to the coming of William of Normandy the people were formed into divisions of hundreds. This was done mainly for military purposes and the convenience of assembly upon the summons of the powerful lords and barons whom the people owed allegiance. These hundreds usually consisted of ten families, each family being computed at a minimum of ten persons. In time the families increased in membership, but did not lose their individual identity or change the designation of organization. In the natural order of events these hundreds expanded into communities and took on geographical designations. Some of the American colonists adopted this form of geographical division, and thus we still have hundreds in Delaware and Virginia, although in the latter state that form of designation is but seldom used. But in Delaware hundreds is universally used to describe the divisions of a county and is equivalent to the township in other states. Its Exact Shade. The older Dumas once was wearing the ribbon of a certain order, having recently been made a commandant and an envious friend remarked upon it. "My dear fellow," he said, "that cord is a wretched color! One would think it was your woeen vest that was showing." "Oh, no, my dear D'E—", replied Dumas, with a smile, "you're mistaken. It's not a bad color; it is exactly the shade of the sour grapes in the table." The Blue Scarecrow. The farmer's scarecrows were all garbed in blue. "A blue scarecrow," said the man, "does more good than ten ordinary ones. For birds hate and fear blue as you and I hate and fear typhoid and consumption. A professor pointed out to me that blue was the thing for birds. At first I was unbelieving, but I experimented and found that professor to be right."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Clara City Herald: Holland, an experienced paper maker of Portland but of late years a resident of Minneapolis, was in our village Friday in order to get acquainted with our people. Mr. Prins has a patent for the manufacture of straw board which is superior to anything manufactured in this country and he is seriously thinking of starting a factory at Willmar for its manufacture. Willmar is considered an ideal place for such a factory on account of its new port, factory which will give it cheap fuel. Such a factory would no doubt be a good thing for the farmers in this vicinity as the wheat and oats straw which is now going to waste would bring about four dollars a ton. A. J. Prins accompanied Peter Prins to Willmar Friday where they met a representative body of Willmar business men to discuss plans for the new straw board factory at Willmar. Although the above gentlemen bear the same name they are in no wise related to one another and had never met till a week ago. Mr. Prins came over here Friday to meet some of his fellow countrymen. Senior Class Entertained. The graduating class of the Willmar High school was royally entertained by Prof. and Mrs. Tanning at a six o'clock dinner given at their home last Friday evening. The rooms and tables were prettily decorated, the greater amount of decorations consisting of marguerites, the class flower. After enjoying the fine spread the members were entertained in different ways, the principle amusement being a display of the artistic abilities of the class. The following is the class of eleven members who enjoyed the hospitality of the Tanning home: Emma Nelson, Anna Olson, Constance Larson, Hedvig Lindholm, Robert Oram, Wallace Martin, Elsie Roberts, Allene Sherwood, Victor Knutson, Esther Peterson, Ella Lorentzen. Watson's Magazine. The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, Edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free Delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Bethany" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is to-day heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time. Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership of all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroads, telegraphs and telephones; in municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies. The middle class—the home owners farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory over Nick Bidale's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory had died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have since a good portion of the time since 1860, but Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement. In "Famous American Songs," Gustav Kobbe gives the story of the origin of the popular air, "Ben Bolt," and in an interesting historical sketch of Annapolis, Hester D. Richardson pictures the romantic interest attached to the spot where the body of John Paul Jones is to rest. Florence Rockwell writes her experiences in playing Shakespearian roles and speaks of the need of a national theatre. Avery Abbott and Juliette E. G. Towne contribute short stories for older folks, and Alice Brown a fairy tale for the little ones. There are other features to delight young folks, including a chapter in the serial, "Sunlight and Shadow," and past-times by Lina Beard. In the "Campaign for Safe Foods," Mary Hinman Abel writes of coloring matters and commercial cheats, and the pages devoted to the household are full of suggestions for the kitchen with many other helpful hints to the housewife. As a legal phrase the words "smart money" mean exemplary or vindictive damages in excess of the injury done. Courts allow such damages only when a defendant's conduct has been peculiarly outrageous. The term has appeared frequently used as though it were synonymous with "indemnity," which is by no means the case. Glycerin. Glycerin was discovered by Scheele in 1780.
