OLD SETTLERS' DAY

Tenth Annual Reunion A Big Success. Full Report in Our Next Edition.

An ideal day, a large attendance of old settlers and an interesting program combined to make yesterday's celebration one of the best reunions yet held by the Kandiyohi County Old Settlers' Association.

The entertainment committee of the Commercial Club, headed by E. C. Wellin, deserve the fullest praise for its labors in providing for the comforts and entertainment of the members of the association while in the city.

The program at the park held a large crowd interested until the close. The automobile ride proved somewhat of a failure on account of the rough roads. Out of eighteen machines in the city but five were brought out by the owners.

The feature of marking the historic spots in the neighborhood was some of the most practical work yet accomplished by the association and it is to be regretted that a larger number of the members could not be accommodated to take part in the dedicatory exercises.

At the business session in the morning there was a larger attendance than at any previous business meeting held. About twenty new members were enrolled. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: president, John Wicklund of Kandiyohi; first vice president, Martin Olson of Atwater; second vice president, William Olson of Spicer; secretary, A. O. Forsberg of Willmar; treasurer, J. G. Monson of Kandiyohi.

A more extended report of the celebration will be given in our next issue, as neither time nor space will permit us to do it justice this week.

Their little daughter was stricken with double pneumonia and the physicians of that town having given her up, she was taken down here last Wednesday night as a last resort. Nothing could be done, however, to save her life and the grief-stricken parents returned to Breckenridge Thursday evening with the remains.

OBITUARY.

Last Saturday afternoon, June 15, at four o'clock, the angel of death called at the home of H. G. Ruud, at 315 Tenth street south, and claimed the wife, Karolina Ruud. Death was caused by diabetes.

The deceased had been ailing since last January but was about and attended to some little household duties until the day before the final summons came.

Karolina (Christensen) Ruud was born in Hoelanda Prestegjeld, Norway, on April 18, 1846, and was thus at her death 61 years, one month and 2 days old. Her parents were Christen Jorgenson and Gunild Hans Datter Skaarboe. At the age of twenty-one she emigrated to this country and made her home in Olmstead county, Minn. She was united in marriage to Hans G. Ruud on Oct. 12, 1869, at Rochester, Minn. The same year they came to Kandiyohi county and settled on a homestead in section 22, town of Whitefield. They were among the earliest settlers in Whitefield and lived on their homestead until six years ago, when they left the farm in charge of one of their sons and moved to this city, having built a new home on Tenth street. Here, surrounded by members of the family, deceased was called to that home whose builder and maker is God.

Besides the sorrowing husband, six children are left to mourn the loss of their mother—Vilda Marie, now Mrs. S. M. Swenson; Nora Amanda, now Mrs. E. R. Rasmussen; Julia Mathilda, now Mrs. I. P. Johnson—all living in the town of Whitefield; Hjalmar, Adolph and Helga, living at the parental home in this city, and Ole Martin, living on the old homestead. There are also fifteen grandchildren.

The funeral takes place this (Wednesday) afternoon at 12:30. Rev. Michaelson will officiate. Brief services will be held at the house. The remains will be taken to the Svea church and interred in the cemetery adjoining the church.

The afflicted family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

RINGVILLE RINGERS.

RINGVILLE, June 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Mork visited with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Miller at Morris, Minn., last week.

Mrs. Manning and son Gearome visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sonstegard a few days last week.

Anna Quam, who has been working in Broten the past winter, spent a week at her old home here before going to Green Lake to work.

George Hojseth, who is working in Minneapolis and also taking a course in electrical engineering, spent last week visiting with his folks at Georgeville.

Clara Johnson went to her claim near Minto, N. D., last week. She was accompanied by her sister Julia who will work for her uncle, Tobias Syverson, during the summer.

P. L. Pederson of New London and Martin Torgerson went to Watkins, Minn., last Monday, where they are building telephone lines.

The road work in this community is now nearly finished and the roads are in fairly good shape. Considerable work has been done on "sloughside," where a grade 40 rods long has been made, which is an improvement to the neighborhood and a credit to the pathmaster, Hans Halvorson, and those that took part in doing the work.

The Gausdahl Ladies' society meets with Mrs. Hans Torgerson on Tuesday June 25.

Rev. Petterson of Benson will conduct services at Crow River church on Sunday, June 23.

The Aurora Y. P. society will meet at Sonstegard's place Sunday afternoon, June 30.

In spite of the threatening weather last Saturday morning, a large crowd gathered at the auction at the Crow River parsonage. A very interesting address was delivered by Rev. Borgo, after which the sale of the numerous articles took place. The people were very generous in bidding and the three societies disposed of all their goods in a short time, the income of the sale amounting to somewhere around $150.

DIDN'T KNOW THE SHERIFF.

Sheriff Bonde went up to Lintonville last Monday and arrested Joseph Horschler on the charge of illegal sale of liquor. The doughty prohibition sheriff is the complaining witness himself. While summoning jurors in that locality a week ago Sheriff Bonde secured evidence that the party named was selling the proscribed stuff, and secured a warrant for his arrest. Before serving the warrant he made the interesting purchase of a bottle of beer from the unsuspecting man. Horschler was arraigned before the municipal court yesterday afternoon and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. His bail was fixed at $100, and he is awaiting the return of the papers sent to his friends at Linton before regaining his liberty. Horschler still stoutly maintains that such a man as Peter Bonde never was in his place of business.

ROOMS FOR RENT—Two furnished connecting rooms and one single room; 314 Eighth street S. Mrs. Scudder.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Lake Andrew Woman is Twice Stricken in Electrical Storm Last Sunday Evening.

A terrible event occurred at Norway Lake last Sunday evening when Mrs. Ingrid Skaalder, wife of Ole Skaalder, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Mr. and Mrs. Skaalder were entertaining John Nordin and wife, and the party had gone down to the shore of the lake, about a quarter of a mile from the residence, to enjoy the pleasant evening by the cool waters of the lake. The threatening thunder shower coming up, they all started for home. Mr. Nordin had his team tied and was very anxious to get to the same, therefore ran ahead of the ladies. When near a wire fence a first flash of lightning came so near as to cause Mrs. Skaalder to drop to the ground. She, however, rose again and started to run for the house, but had not proceeded far before another flash of lightning struck her with the fatal result.

Mrs. Nordin was also rendered unconscious by the thunderbolt, but has recovered without any serious consequences. The sad tragedy has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The deceased was a daughter of Halvor Hande, was born and brought up in this locality and was respected and loved by all who knew her. She leaves a sorrow stricken husband and seven small children to mourn her sudden death. They have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at the East Norway Lake church. Rev. D. C. Jordahl officiated. The interment took place in the adjoining cemetery.

An entertainment and social will be given in the schoolhouse of Dist. 56 next Friday evening.

John Koismu indulged in a brisk walk last Sunday, as he traveled up here from New London and returned the same day.

Justin Georsson now has his blacksmith shop in running order and is anxiously awaiting customers.

It is rumored that the wedding bells will again ring in this community in the near future.

The Arctander Central telephone line has again been out of order. The trouble seems to be that one of the wires is too high up; it should have been on the fence posts.

COPPER PRICES AND PROFITS

During the first quarter of the current year the record high prices for copper have resulted in the payment of $21,097,354 in dividends by twenty-five companies, which are directly interested in mining or are large shareholders in the United States and Mexico, says Mining World. These twenty-five concerns have declared since their incorporation dividends amounting to the vast total of $349,739,183. Their issued capitalization, varying from $1,000,000 to $153,087,900, amounts to $358,969,350, indicating that the dividends paid so far are equivalent to 97.4 per cent.

Of immediate interest is, what will these shares yield in 1907? For instance, Calumet & Hecla stock of $25 par value when selling at $845 per share upon which $80 in dividends is declared (based on the last quarterly payment) will yield about 9 1/2 per cent per annum. Since incorporation in 1871, this company has declared dividends aggregating the large total of $101,350,000 which is equivalent to 4,054 per cent on the capitalization of $2,500,000. Amalgamated stock of $100 par value, marketable at $88 7-8 and earning $8 in dividends annually, yields about 9 per cent, or very nearly the same as Calumet & Hecla at its present market value. Since organization, in April, 1899, Amalgamated has declared dividends of $46,478,988 on its outstanding capitalization which has been increased from $75,000,000 to $153,087,900.

Another surprise is that Calumet & Arizona stock of $10 par value, selling at $160 upon which the annual dividend, based on the last quarterly declaration, is $20 per share, yields 12 1/2 per cent. This dividend is 3 per cent more than is credited to Calumet & Hecla whose stock, by the way, is marketed at more than five times the price of Calumet & Arizona. Since incorporation in 1901, the Calumet & Arizona mine has yielded dividends of $7,000,000, or 350 per cent on its issued capital of $2,000,000.

Among the other large copper companies which have returned their capitalization since organization are: Anaconda of Montana, $3,000,000 on $30,000,000 issued stock; Boston & Montana, $52,525,000 on $3,750,000; Montana Ore Purchasing, $9,443,119 on $2,025,000; Osceola Consolidated of Michigan, $6,362,000 on $2,403,850; Arizona, $8,982,043 on $3,775,000; Parrot of Montana, $6,807,258 on $2,298,500; Quincy of Michigan $17,270,000 on $3,751,000; United Verde of Arizona, $22,270,322 on $3,000,000; Utah Consolidated, $6,036,000 on $1,500,000, and Wolverine of Michigan, $4,530,000 on $1,500,000.

Copper, at prices ranging from 12c. to 15c. per pound, is responsible for more millionaires, probably, than any other industry. Under these prices bloated plutocrats were turned out yearly. With prices ranging between 20c. and 25c. we see quarterly increases of the "Copper Multi's"; and it is to be presumed that in the natural sequence of coming events they will be turned out hourly from 1907 on.

The great Calumet & Hecla naturally leads, it having paid to 1905 over $91,000,000 more to its original shareholders than they paid for it. The Quincy has given back more than $15,000,000, and the Tamarack more than $8,000,000 more than it received. The supporters of copper mines evidently receive a brimming up and overflowing measure of reward.

Multitudes will be cast by the incoming tide of values high up on the shores of fortune, and will thank the imperial metal King Copper for relief from the toils and anxieties of poverty.

Stevens' "Copper Hand Book," the standard authority on the subject, in fact, the only one of its kind in the world, says: "That it is estimated that the copper mines of the world should produce 24,318,150 tons by the time the year 2000 is born." Compared with 1900—486,363 tons—it would look as if prices might tumble, but by the same authority, we find that the world will require by that time (year 2000) 174,681,468 tons. To even a lay reader the future importance of "Copper" should be quite manifest.

Of the real situation the following extract from the Salt Lake Herald will convey at least an inkling: "The markets of the world have been stripped of the accumulated supplies of the red metal, and today manufacturers are not certain where they are going to get what they need to fill the orders ahead. Production during the year just closed will show a substantial increase, but nothing like what it ought to have been, measured by the requirements of the world.

Utah was able to produce only 10,000,000 pounds more than it did in 1905. The state may do better than that this year, but not much. Nobody is ready yet to either mine or smelt the ore as rapidly as they would like, and what is true of Utah is more than true of some of the great copper regions of the country. The unprecedented demand for the metal will not be met this year. That is certain, and it is therefore just as certain that the price will remain high, most likely as high or higher than it is today.—The Financial Bulletin, Denver, Colorado, June 1, 1907.
