Self Feeding Base Heater, which has been sold to thousands of people who want a high class, economical, ornamental base heater. It is in every way a better hard coal base burner than you can buy anywhere else; we will prove to you that this stove will heat more cubic feet of space with less fuel than any other base burning heating stove made.

This stove is constructed neither at top nor bottom. The large base fuel is a most powerful radiator and floor heater. The only full size combustion chamber not constructed for nickel ornaments, but offers the greatest area as compared with the other makes. It takes the cold air in from the floor through the center of the bottom and upward between the flues, in this way coming in contact with the hottest part of the stove.

Her Friends Feel Hurt.

Willmar friends of Mrs. McCall are quite provoked, and probably justly so, at the manner in which her recent visit to this city was written up in the Gazette of last week. Mrs. McCall, who was here soliciting magazine subscribers and selling tickets on the drawing of a piece of land she owns in Hubbard county, resides in St. Paul and is the wife of former Conductor McCall, who for twenty-three years was connected with the Great Northern and for many years was a freight conductor here, but who for the past three years has been confined to the insane hospital at Rochester. Mrs. McCall has since her husband's misfortune supported herself in various ways. She has, besides the above mentioned land, a house in St. Paul and a small patch of ground at White Bear Lake. She now hopes to take her husband out of the hospital, which the doctors say she can do, if she takes him to a quiet place, but would not advise her to take him to the city. She has therefore thought of building a small house on her lots at White Bear Lake, and it is for the securing of funds for that purpose that she is now striving. Not being able to sell her land in Hubbard county, which she thinks is worth about $300, to any advantage at the present time, she has resorted to the method above mentioned to dispose of her land. She expects to sell 700 tickets (not 10,000, as was intimated in the article referred to) This would yield her $700. The railroad boys here, and especially those who were acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. McCall, were more than willing to reach a helping hand by the purchase of a ticket.

Himrod in Iowa.

Cushing, Iowa, Oct. 17.—Instead of accepting the services of the preacher he had asked to perform his marriage ceremony last night, Guy Lyman, the prospective bridegroom, threatened to whip the minister, Rev. James Himrod, and did, in fact, cause the latter to leave town after resigning the pastorate of the Methodist church. The trouble had for its basis an anonymous letter, which made charges of misconduct on the part of Mr. Lyman. The missive is now supposed to have come from a jealous rival of the young man who was last night married to Miss Alice Albright. Rev. Mr. Himrod recently came here from Humboldt, Iowa, and is a young man of energy. He declares that his conscience prompted him to investigate the prospective bridegroom before the wedding ceremony was performed. The method of probing the matter was not altogether tactful, it is said, and knowledge of the investigation, coming to Lyman, he and his brother, D. W. Lyman, called on the minister. There was a stormy session, and personal violence was only avoided, it is alleged, by the promise of the young clergyman to leave Cushing. He did this yesterday, after resigning his pastorate. He has returned, however, and it is said the affair will likely be patched up.—Minneapolis Journal.

His Row Is Hard Hoing.

A sick and hungry stranger who seemed to be in a very hard row of stumps, drifted into Willmar Monday and applied to the authorities here for shelter, which he obtained at Sheriff Bonde's hospital. He gives his name as Frank Casper. His mind seems to be quite befuddled but he states that his relatives are all dead and that he has no home; that he has been the victim of a hold-up, that he cannot remember the name of the town where it occurred. He seems unable to speak above a hoarse whisper and claims to have internal injuries which are very painful. He wears a large plaster on his side, which he says was placed there by the doctor in the town where he was injured by the hold-up man. Dr. Frost has prescribed both medicine and liniment for the stranger, and it is to be hoped that he will soon be able to tread his weary way.

Arrested for Stealing.

Raymond seems to be giving our sheriff plenty to do of late. Last week a farmer by the name of John Taatjes, who had sent to Sears & Roebuck for a fur lined coat for his wife, had gone to Raymond to get the coat at the depot. He had placed the garment in his wagon while he went out and attended to some business around town, and when he returned he found that the coat was gone. Sheriff Bonde was summoned to try to locate the thief. The first scent led him to the wrong party, but the second clue led to the suspicion of a young man from Willmar by the name of John Johnson, who had been down to Raymond with his partner on a carousel. The sheriff hunted up his man here at Willmar, where he was working on the railway yards, Sunday morning, and demanded the coat. The young man stoutly denied any knowledge whatever of the coat; but the intuition of the sheriff told him that he was on the right track and after some parleyed the fellow gave in and took the sheriff to his home, where he pulled the coat out from the bottom of his trunk and turned it over to the sheriff. He was brot down to Raymond Monday, where his trial was held before Judge Frank E. Smith, who fined him $50.00 or fifty days in jail, optional. As a mitigating circumstance to the crime, Johnson gave it that he was too intoxicated to know what he was doing.
