Hawick, Feb. 18.—The Ladies Aid society will meet with Mrs. Flo Smithson on Wednesday, Feb. 26. Chas. Henry of Thief River, formerly of Roseville, was visiting old friends here the early part of the week. He was on his way to Rinard, Iowa, where he will engage in the cement business. His many friends here wish him success in his new venture.

Mr. Benton and Mrs. Payne visited at Mr. Reamer's home Monday afternoon, looking after the sick.

E. J. Hood is introducing a new gas lamp to our people. It surely produces a beautiful light. He will install one in the Yeomen hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne visited at M. Townsend's home Saturday evening.

Fred Smithson and family visited at the Reamer home Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend visited at Mr. Pelkey's place Sunday.

The Yeomen lodge met at Hawick Saturday evening.

Misses O'Flaherty and Batterberry visited some of the sick people Thursday evening.

Skating is fine on the lakes again, and the young people have found it out. Strange, isn't it.

A. J. Simthson is engaged in ditch business in the southern part of the county again.

The many friends of James Tuttle will be sorry to learn that he sustained a fall early in January that fractured several ribs and tore the flesh loose from one hand and arm in a terrible manner. He is recovering, but it was a severe injury for so old a man.

Mrs. Reamer, who has been suffering for some time, consulted Dr. Pilon last week. He pronounced her trouble to be gallstones. Jaundice with its accompanying stomach and skin troubles has developed and Dr. Sutton was out Wednesday in Dr. Pilon's place, and offers little hope of help except by an operation.

Boat Livery on Foot Lake.

Nels P. Nelson, the railroad carpenter who lives on the shore of the lake in Homewood Park, has purchased the launch and boat business of Peter Freeberg, including the scows and sand business. Mr. Nelson expects to have the Varuna make regular trips on the lake on every holiday, and will establish a schedule of departure so that all may know at what time the boat leaves. Mr. Nelson also expects to add a few row boats to have for hire. A good boat livery ought to pay on Foot Lake, and we are confident that such a venture properly conducted would be a success.

Mrs. Nels Quam was in the city last Friday on her way to her home at New London, after spending a week in Kerkhoven at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Johnson.

Synod Y. P. S. Meeting

The Y. P. S. of the Synod Lutheran church held a joint meeting last Monday evening. The attendance was large and the meeting was a success in every way. The Ladies' Quartet, consisting of the Misses Marie Railson, Helen Sather, and Inga Grangaard, and Mrs. J. R. Peterson, sang a beautiful anthem, which they have also by request consented to render at one of the Sunday evening services. Miss Ellen Syse gave a character sketch of Gen. Washington, and this was an able effort. A humorous selection was given by Lillian Boyd and was well received by the audience. Rev. Jordahl, who had been invited to address the meeting, gave a brief but very interesting talk. The reverend gentleman based his remarks on a line from one of the Latin poets, and the delivery was made in a very able manner. The program for the evening was concluded with a musical selection by Miss Anna Rasmussen and a vocal solo by Florence Neuberger. The receipts of the evening amounted to nearly $16.00. The committee on program hope to secure Prof. George Markhus to speak at their next meeting, which will be held March 16.

CALDERWOOD TALKS POLITICS

Prohibition's Big Champion Tells Willmar People About the Prospects of His Party

A fair-sized audience gathered at the Bonde hall last Saturday evening to listen to the address by W. G. Calderwood, state and national secretary of the prohibition party. Mr. Calderwood is a pleasing speaker, presenting his arguments in a clear logical sequence, without any attempt at oratory—a method that most political speakers could copy without detriment. The speaker began with a sketch of the characteristics of Abraham Lincoln, whose ninety-ninth birthday anniversary had just been celebrated by the nation. He pointed out that the main characteristics of Lincoln were his unswerving honesty of purpose and his great fund of good common sense. He then went on to show that Lincoln was a strict party man; that he had allied himself with the whig party, and had been honored by that party with elections to various positions; that in the beginning of the "free soil" agitation he stood by the whig party because he was convinced that the majority of the voters in the party were free-soilers, but that finally he became convinced that whatever the position of the voters in the party, the leaders were wrong or neutral on the question, and that he severed his connection with the party and joined the new party that stood squarely for his ideas. The speaker then applied this to the prohibition question. He said that, while there was little doubt that the majority of the dominant party in each section was in favor of prohibition, the party itself—the machinery that controls legislation—was opposed to it, and that even if under popular pressure prohibition was obtained there was no party behind it pledged to enforce it. Hence the prohibitionists in principle should do as Lincoln did and ally themselves with the one party that was not only willing but anxious to give up prohibition, and enforce it after its adoption. The speaker believed that the time was ripe for action; that there has been during the past eight months a greater awakening to the importance of this subject than ever before. He outlined the plan of campaign of the prohibition party for getting control of the legislative bodies, and closed with a call for pledges for contributions for carrying on this campaign.

SUPT. BOWEN VISITS HERE

Former Chief Given the Glad Hand. Two Cases of Injury and Other R. R. News.

Former superintendent L. W. Bowen arrived in Willmar last Saturday evening from Spokane, Wash. Mr. Bowen was the guest of his brother, J. T. Bowen, and his brother-in-law, Asst. Supt. F. S. Elliott, over Sunday. The news of Mr. Bowen's arrival soon spread, and when he departed Sunday evening over fifty engineers and conductors were at the depot to shake hands with their old superintendent. It is needless to say that Mr. Bowen had a good word for them all, and everyone found him to be the same L. W. B. General Superintendent E. L. Brown and all the western superintendents were with Mr. Bowen.

Conductor John F. Kenafick was brought into Willmar early Tuesday morning, seriously hurt from the effects of falling out of the caboose cupola. Kenafick was looking out of the cupola just at the junction at the east end of the Willmar yards when the train came to a sudden stop, throwing him out and causing considerable injuries, and he is now at the Willmar Hospital.

Asst. Yardmaster Chas. German had a serious accident Monday night in the east end of the yards. While going in between two cars to fix the drawbar on one car, the cars came together and pinned Mr. German in between, causing severe injuries. It is reported that he is now doing well.

Maurice Phillips has resigned his position as stock yard manager here to accept a position in Denver, Colo., for L. A. May, who formerly was general yardmaster in Willmar. Phil. J. Haley has succeeded Mr. Phillips. The many friends of Maurice will miss him and his hearty laugh, and all wish him success in his anticipated change.

Dispatcher R. I. Triplett has resigned his position with the Willmar Division to go to Spokane, Wash., under Supt. L. W. Bowen. Mr. Triplett has been in Willmar for the last three years and had only a short time ago purchased a house. His change is not from choice, and he is very sorry to leave here.

Ed Powers, clerk for O. F. Landberg, went to St. Paul Monday to take in the Trainmen's dance. Many of the trainmen from here went down with Mr. Powers, and all report having had an excellent trip.

Conductor J. A. Mauerer, who has been laid up for the last ten days with the grippe, has taken a change from bad to worse and is now in bed with the chicken pox.
