

Price per Gallon

By buying paint, many people make the mistake of simply considering first cost. They think only of the price per gallon. THE RESULTS IN THE SELECTION OF A LOW-PRICED, SHORT-LIVED, ADULTERATED PAINT.

The right way to buy paint is to consider—not primarily what it cost per gallon—but spreading power, ease of application and durability.

B. P. S. Paint, as regards spreading capacity, is more economical than is so-called "cheap" paint. It will cover at least 25 per cent more surface. This is largely due to the much finer grinding it receives.

An account of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil used, perfect formula, and fine grinding. B. P. S. Paint is fully 10 per cent easier to apply than coarse, adulterated paint. As cost of applying paint is about twice as much as the cost of the paint itself, this 10% saving of your painter's time is important.

Further, B. P. S. Paint produces a beautiful, glossy finish, that will last twice as long as any finish that can be secured by the use of so-called "cheap" paint.

By Spreading Capacity, Ease of Application, and Durability, B. P. S. Paint is the most Economical.

How to Carry Money About.

A man is safe from pickpockets if he carries his money in his trousers pocket, says an experienced detective. A hip pocket is simply a delusion. The breast pocket is no safer when the coat is buttoned, because the man who is after the money located there has only to slit the cloth with a sharp little knife blade set in a ring. Carry money in the right trousers pocket, and it will never be picked. As for jewelry, when in a crowd twist the watch chain around the left thumb or index finger and don't let go, no matter what happens. A man is lucky if he wears a diamond pin for a year, no matter what safety attachments it has. Some thief will even cut off a portion of the necktie to get it. Beware of rushes, jostling in a crowd. In a crowd it is better to be pushed or even a little hurt than put up your hands.

The Belgian Mussel Harvest.

In the autumn months small boats can be seen anchored at low tide beside the piers which project into the sea from most of the Belgian ports, their occupants busily engaged with spades in dislodging the mussels from the piles of the jetty. A closer inspection makes it apparent to the uninitiated that this procedure is not undertaken with the object of freeing the pier from the tenacious grasp of an uninvited intruder, but to secure the animals themselves. In short, the mussel harvest is in full swing.—Wide World Magazine.

Australian Nicknames.

Leisure is regarded as so notable a characteristic of Tasmania that it bears the nickname of "the Land of Lots of Time" or "the Land of Sleep a Lot," while its inhabitants are called "Tassies" and "Jam Eaters," the latter being an allusion to the island's great fruit farms, "Cornstalks," as our general and sporting appellation of Australians, applies in strictness to the people of New South Wales only on account of their height and slimmness. Because Victoria is noted for its gun trees Victorians are required to answer to the inelegant sobriquet of "Gumsuckers," while South Australians are "Crow Eaters," in reference to the use of crows as food in times of drought. The large banana plantations of Queensland give its people the name of "Banana Eaters," and the hot and arid wastes of West Australia explain the term "Sand Gophers."—London Chronicle.

Books and Reading.

If you are to make a silk purse, you must have the silk. You cannot make a reader of good books out of any human material that comes along. You must catch a mind proper for the job. Not all good minds are adapted to much reading. You find very able people who read few books and mostly trash and people of less ability who read more and much better ones. You find also interesting differences in the facility with which different people take in the sense of printed words. Some people from childhood read very much faster and with less effort than others. Their eyes seem to connect quicker with their brains, and their perception of words and rows of words is almost instantaneous. Other people never entirely get that the need of pronouncing mentally each word.—E. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine.

Perjury.

There is practically no difference in law between an oath and an affirmation. False testimony given under either is perjury, punishable by a term in the penitentiary. An oath is sworn to on the Bible. Persons who object to testifying under that form are permitted to make affirmation of the facts to which they testify. The one form of testifying is just as binding as the other.

WILLMAR, MINNESOTA.

SUNBURG SUNBEAMS

Sunburg, April 27.—Ida Gronseth is at present assisting her sister, Mrs. C. G. Gandrud of Sunburg. A number of young people gathered at the K. Thune place last Sunday evening, and they all reported an enjoyable time. Adel Danielson is at present working for Knut Rime. Lilly Bergum leaves next Thursday for Minneapolis, where she intends to spend the summer. Services were held in the West Norway Lake, church last Sunday by Rev. M. A. Stotendahl. Dr. Johnson of Kerkhoven did quite a little business at Sunburg one day last week, as the sanatorium shows up here and there and everybody is anxious to get vaccinated. Nils Rice, who has been working for Knut Thune, is sick and will not be able to work for some time. Oliver Erickson has therefore taken his place. Anne Rudningen visited at the A. Rudningen place in town of Kerkhoven a few days last week. Molly.

GENESSEE JOTTINGS

Genessee, April 27.—Well, as nobody seems to want to take "Pat's" place, he will again try to furnish the Tribune and its readers with a few news items from our town, after a short absence. Hello, brother "Mike," shake hands. Miss Minerva Hall and pupils are preparing to give an entertainment and clothespin social in Dist. 58 on Saturday evening, May 16. Miss Amy B. Anderson spent a couple of days in Litchfield last week, getting subscribers for the St. Paul Daily News. Miss Anderson is one of the leading contestants in the News piano contest. Her many friends are anxiously looking for the outcome of the contest, which closes on Wednesday, April 29. All wish her success. The Minnetaga Temperance League will meet next Friday evening, May 1, in place of May 8, its regular time. Atwater will have a market day on Saturday, May 9. On Easter Sunday the A. Nelson family entertained their sons and families, from Atwater. Pat.

Claims Something is Wrong.

Auditor Johnson was going over the papers in the Cosmos-Lake Lillian ditch matter last week preparatory to the letting of the bids for the work, which will be done May 1 at St. Paul. He found that Judge Powers, in his order establishing the ditch, ruled that each county should pay the damages to lands in its limits, and that Meeker county should pay one-fifth of the general expenses of the ditch. Mr. Johnson finds the damages in Meeker county figure $1696, and in Kandiyohi county some $1200, while the total benefits in Meeker county are $1068.00 as against $59,027.08 in Kandiyohi county, nearly 60 times as much as in Meeker. To saddle about $3,000 on Meeker county in the face of this showing seems decidedly inequitable. Meeker county is merely the outlet for the Kandiyohi county ditch, as the adjudication of the benefits plainly shows. To have these large expense bills and damages charged against the few whose lands in this county are benefitted seems to be manifestly wrong. How can the $3000 be charged against property benefitted to the extent of only $1,068.00?—Litchfield Independent.

Death in East Lake Lillian.

Axel, a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson Lobnitz of East Lake Lillian died yesterday, at the age of nine years. Axel had been ill for some time, but was better and then had a relapse, being sick only two days with the croup. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Thursday) forenoon and interment will take place in the Baptist cemetery. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in their loss.

Hoax—I'm going to take cornet lessons from Professor Biowhard. Joax—Going to take him for your tooter, eh?

DR. WILLY

The Ladies Guild will hold an Easter sale on Friday, May 22, at the Guild Hall. The sale will consist of fancy articles and a special line of children's bits, washable goods and ice bags. Mr. James Weir of Willmar left last night for Breckenridge to work in the Breckenridge yard under his old friend J. H. Murphy who has assumed the position of yardmaster of that place. The old Westberg building is being partially torn down. The part containing the photograph gallery will be removed to the vacant lots on Fourth street and Litchfield avenue, to be used temporarily. A letter received here last week announced that Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who left for Sweden, were taken sick in Chicago. They have changed their plan and will return to Willmar as soon as possible. The Kandiyohi Cornet Band went to New London today to give a concert in the village hall. The band consists of eighteen pieces, and is led by Prof. Miller of Benson. They have given two concerts before with great success. Erick P. Sundfors desires us to say that he himself took his children to the Bethesda Homes, where he is paying for their care. He feels that he is doing the best possible to do for the little motherless children.

A Liberal Education.

That man, I think, has had a liberal education who has been so trained in youth that his body is the ready servant of his will and does with ease and pleasure all the work that as a mechanism it is capable of; whose intellect is a clear, cold, logic engine, with all its parts of equal strength and in smooth working order, ready, like a steam engine, to be turned to any kind of work and spin the gossamer as well as forge the anchors of the mind; whose mind is stored with a knowledge of the great and fundamental truths of nature and of the laws of her operations and who, no stunted intellect, is full of life and fire, but whose passions are trained to come to heel by a vigorous will, the servant of a tender conscience; who has learned to love all beauty, whether of nature or of art, to hate all villainy and to respect others as himself.—Hurley.

Naming Children in Persia.

The naming of the child in Persia is made an event of great rejoicing and a time for the gathering of relatives. When the guests are assembled sweetmeats are eaten, and then the infant in its swaddling clothes is brought in and laid on the carpet in the center of the room by one of the priests. Five names are written on as many slips of paper and placed between the leaves of the Koran. A chapter is read from this book, and then one of the slips is drawn at random. The name of the slip is the one the child has to bear through life, and the priest takes up the slip, pronounces the name in the child's ear and places the piece of paper in its clothes. Gifts and congratulations follow.
