Mr. Lindberg is an old friend of Dr. Johnson from the time that the latter lived in Morrison county, so the Doctor accompanied him for the New London meeting. Mr. Lindberg is a very progressive statesman and was the only member from Minnesota who voted against the iniquitous currency bill. He is really more in sympathy with Bryan's platform than with that of Taft.

Norman Booth, better known as Dan Booth, arrived here from Towner, N. D., Friday. Dan is just getting over the effects of a severe attack of typhoid fever, and for that reason does not look as prosperous as he usually does, but he feels first rate and says that after a few weeks sojourning in the invigorating air of Minnesota he will be ready to do anything in the plumbing line or any other line. He has a host of friends in this city and they are all very glad to know that he pulled successfully thru his serious illness.

CRUSHED UNDER BIG SEPARATOR

Frank Jakoubek Has Back Broken in a Thrashing Machine Accident in Roseland.

Frank Jakoubek, who has been thrashing in the vicinity of Svea for some time, had his back broken in an accident which occurred yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, three miles from the farm of Joseph Feifarek in the town of Roseland. The machine was being moved and Jakoubek was sitting on the pole of the separator, directly under the self feeder attachment, when the king bolt of the front axle broke, letting the entire weight of the front part of the machine down on the unfortunate man. It caught him between the shoulders and pinned him down so fast that it was only with considerable difficulty that he was released. He was at once taken to the farm home of Mr. Feifarek and a physician summoned from here. The doctor's examination revealed that the man's back was broken a little below the neck, rendering him paralyzed from that place down. At the present writing there is little hope of his recovery, although a telephone message this morning said that he was resting a little easier.

A telegram was sent from here yesterday afternoon to a Wm. Finger at Oconto, Wis., announcing his injuries and serious condition.

Another telegram was sent to the same place this morning to his wife, asking her to come. Jakoubek came to this county from the woods in the northern part of this state and Wisconsin, and he intended to remain here until the thrashing season was over, then return to the lumber camps. Besides a wife, he is said to have four children, a fact which renders the sad accident even sadder. It is also said that he is a beneficiary in some lodge in which he carries an insurance of $1000.

Dislocated Neck. While sharpening the knives of the separator in the self-feeder of a separator last Sunday evening, Gust Anderson, an employe on the Soderstrom-Bratberg machine, lost his balance and fell down, striking on his neck and dislocating one of his vertebrae. A physician was at once summoned and he found the poor man completely paralyzed from the shoulders down. A telephone message this morning stated that his condition is very critical and that there is very little hope of his recovery.

Anderson is a widower, about 56 years old, and has a son in an orphan home. He is a brother of Mrs. A. T. Holm, who lives near Lake Florida.

Clothing Was Appreciated. A letter has been received here from Rev. C. P. Bates of Hibbing, stating that the Relief Commission had received the supply of clothing sent from here to aid the unfortunate people who lost everything in the fire which recently swept over the ranges. The letter further states that the recipients were very much delighted with the supplies, and that they wished to express their heartfelt thanks to the donors.

The appeal made to the citizens of Willmar for clothing was most generously responded to and as a result no less than 1500 pounds of it was packed and boxed by the Campbell Furniture Co. and sent to the scene of the disastrous conflagration.

A Stranger in Trouble.

A stranger giving his name as Frank Peterson caused quite an excitement at the Minneapolis lodging house Monday evening. Everybody had gone to bed and all were trying to forget all about their troubles when suddenly they were disturbed by some hair raising yells and screams emitted from Peterson's quarters. It sounded as if someone was being murdered, and A. C. Crawford, the acting night patrolman, was at once notified to appear. He did so, and after looking around in the dark for some time found Peterson apparently suffering in great agony. A physician was sent for and he diagnosed the case as a severe attack of the quinsy. The man was made as comfortable as possible until yesterday, when he was given a ticket and put aboard the train bound for St. Cloud. Peterson said he came here from North Dakota, where he had been thrashing during the past three weeks. He gave Minneapolis as his home and said that his parents lived at Akely.

Opens New Enterprise. H. B. Lidstone, G. N. time keeper, will open his Model Pantorium next Monday morning in the quarters formerly occupied by the Wisconsin Grain company at 435 Pacific avenue. E. N. Ping of Des Moines, Iowa, will manage the new enterprise, and as he has conducted similar enterprises in Des Moines and Chicago he is in a position to make the Model a success in every way. Besides doing ordinary cleaning and pressing, the new concern solicits members whose wearing apparel they keep in first class condition and whose shoes they shine every day, all for two dollars per month. Already no less than 43 members have been secured, and with a hustler like Mr. Lidstone at the head of it the membership will no doubt soon be considerably increased.

Every first class city supports one or more of these Pantoriums and the establishment of the "Model" here is only another proof that Willmar is becoming more and more cosmopolitan in its character. The Tribune welcomes the new enterprise and hopes that it will prosper.

Samuelson Block Sold. The Samuelson Block on corner of Benson avenue and Third street has become the property of O. E. Ruble. The deal was made thru Lewis Johnson, the land man. Mr. Samuelson becomes the owner of a 240-acre farm south of Penock, for which he made the trade. Last week Mr. Johnson perfected a deal by which Jonas J. Forstrom and Peter Headlund purchased 100 acres from O. A. Ferring southeast of the city. There are no improvements on this land. The consideration was $40 an acre.

For some time past the job printing department of the Tribune has been handicapped on account of a lack of help, but from now on it hopes to be able to properly care for any and all work entrusted to it. The latter part of the week H. G. Meyer, an old experienced newspaper man, will be added to the staff and the Tribune is pleased to announce that he will be in charge of the mechanical department as foreman from now on.

Trespassers at Eagle Lake.

A couple of weary wanderers broke into the cottages of Ludvig Wold, O. A. Jacobson and Senator L. O. Thorpe Wednesday or Thursday night of last week. They gained entrance into the first two by smashing the window panes, but when they came to the third they changed their method of attack and broke the lock. Once inside they helped themselves to everything in sight, from coffee, sugar and bacon to knives, forks and rubber coats. Then they built a nice big bonfire and roasted nice small game, after which, like all good people, they went to bed. When the environment grew tedious they hatched up a team which they had with them and went away. They didn't say they had enjoyed the visit, nor that they were sorry they couldn't stay longer; they didn't even register, so they could be invited to come again. They didn't leave anything either, except a number of ducks' bones and wings scattered all around the place where the bonfire had been.

John Carney, familiarly known as "Jack," came within an ace of being killed last Saturday evening about 9 o'clock. He was returning from Raymond and feeling the need of a little bracing air he settled on top of a freight car. That is about all Jack remembers for the sand man got him, and when he awoke he wasn't in Willmar at all, but found himself lying beside the tracks, with a severe pain in his back. Or rather a tramp, who proved to be a good Samaritan, found him while verifying the mileage between here and Raymond. That was about 9 o'clock in the morning, 12 hours after Jack had fallen from his elevated position. The tramp notified the section men, and a telephone message was sent to "Red Cross" Sheriff Bonde, who at once set out with an automobile ambulance and took the unfortunate man to his home on Eighth street N. in this city. A physician was summoned and he found that Jack's back was strained and his shoulders bruised. He had evidently struck on the back of his neck and shoulders. How he escaped death no one knows, but he did and at the present time he is resting very comfortably. The next time Jack goes to Raymond he will stay at home or at any rate he will try to get home on the noon train.
