Everyone who needs a self-binder this year should see the Minnesota binder before buying. It is, you might say, our own binder, manufactured in our own plant, which we by all means should patronize. The binder was on exhibition at the state fair last fall and closely examined, and can be guaranteed equal to any binder out. Fellow farmers, be sure and purchase a Minnesota and patronize our own plant instead of the trust machine. Mowers and twine likewise.

TWO SHOT IN FIGHT ON TRAIN

Colored Porter and Traveling Men in Shooting Affray Near Wayzata.

The following account of the shooting affray which took place on train No. 3, due here 1:45 o'clock Sunday morning is taken from Saturdays Minneapolis Journal:

Two traveling salesmen were shot and seriously wounded and a colored porter was badly beaten last night in a fight on the Great Northern coast train just outside the city limits.

The traveling men are William Gonzer of Owatonna and John Magill of Morlett, Mich. The porter gave his name as Thomas C. Rogers. All three are in the Robertson hospital at Litchfield, where they were taken from the train by the authorities, and are held for Sheriff Otto Langum. Langum left for Litchfield in an automobile late today. The fight took place in the sleeping car, and witnesses say it resulted from a quarrel over a bottle opener. Four traveling men who were sitting together, asked the porter for a bottle opener. He brought it to them, and later returned and asked for it. The men are said to have denied having it, and when the porter repeated his request, one of them struck him over the head with the bottle.

Rushing to the forward part of the car, the porter obtained a revolver and returned. There was a free-for-all fight and the porter fired, it is said, the bullet striking Gonzer in the forehead. John Magill, an old man, rushed to the fighting men, intending to separate them, and was himself shot in the forehead. The other traveling men renewed their attack on the negro, beat him over the head, cutting his face and scalp, and finally overpowered him.

The train stopped at Wayzata, where Dr. J. I. Tibbitts was summoned to treat the injured men. He dressed their wounds, and the police at Litchfield were notified. An ambulance met the train. Sheriff Otto Langum was notified, and as the fight took place in Hennepin county, the men will be brought here as soon as they are able to be moved. Physicians say the traveling men will recover, but the condition of the porter is said to be serious.

The three men who were with Gonzer at the time gave their names as J. P. Lang, William Land and J. C. Castman, all of Owatonna. Magill was not a member of the party and sat several seats away when the trouble began.

The church choir of the Synod church will give an ice cream social on the church lawn on Thursday evening, July 22. Everybody is invited to attend.

BAD TORNADO AT ORTONVILLE

Four Killed and Many Injured in Terrific Storm Last Sunday Afternoon.

Ortonville, Minn., July 12.—Four persons were killed and over a score were injured by a tornado which swept this vicinity at 4:15 yesterday afternoon. The tornado carried such central energy that it sucked water high up out of Big Stone lake, hurled itself fiercely across that body of water from the northwest, venting its destructive force upon the railroad yards in the eastern part of the town. The property loss will reach $150,000. The Milwaukee station, roundhouse, the coal supply building, the warehouse and other buildings which crowd that section of the city caught the full brunt of the storm and fell with frightful detonations before rising in a cloud thru the gyrating atmosphere. Cottages along the lake were demolished and residences in this city and Big Stone, S. D., were blown from their foundations. The farm house and large farm buildings of William E. Chamberlain, near the city, are a total wreck.

H. G. Meyer, foreman at the Tribune office, and wife left yesterday for a month's outing at Lake Koronis.

The 1909 Green Lake Chautauqua

The third season of the Green Lake Chautauqua came to a close Sunday evening. Altho the program, with but one or two exceptions, was good, the chautauqua was not a success from the attendance point of view. The inclement weather had a good deal to do with this, the weather being distinctly disagreeable both at the opening as well as at the close of the assembly. Friday and Saturday drew the largest attendance, Folk and Johnson being the speakers on these days.

James Hoffman Batten, "the Little Giant," again proved himself worthy of the title. Dr. Batten is forceful and eloquent, and as he is also a deep student and thinker he always says something worth while. His lecture, "Ideas and Ideals," was splendid, and it is only a pity that there were not more people present to hear him.

Robert L. Bowman fully sustained the reputation that had preceded him as an entertainer. He impersonated Norwegians, Scotchmen, Hoosiers, Englishmen, Italians and Germans, both with and without costumes, and portrayed each character with such a sympathetic understanding and with such fidelity of artistic interpretation that the audience forgot Bowman, forgot the Chautauqua, forgot their daily cares, and lived for the time in the presence of the characters that the well cultivated genius of the platformist mirrored forth. His rendition of Shylock proved that he is highly capable in serious as well as in lighter roles.

The evening program in which Gov. Folk gave his address, "Era of Conscience," was the best attended of the assembly. Liberal extracts of this great speech are given elsewhere in this issue. Gov. Johnson was greeted by a large and appreciative audience

Saturday afternoon, when he spoke on the subject of "The Majesty of the Law." The Governor fully sustained his reputation as a brilliant and eloquent speaker.

The program of the Cavenys on Sunday evening proved a great treat. Mr. Caveny executed the most difficult chalk sketches with marvelous rapidity and precision, and he accompanied his work with bright remarks and witticisms that never failed to provoke a laugh. The last picture, "Home, Sweet Home," as an exquisite bit of work, and the singing of the old familiar song by Mrs. Caveny helped wonderfully to establish an atmosphere of deep appreciation in the audience. Mrs. Caveny possesses a cultured soprano voice, especially pleasing in the upper register, and she sang "When Love Is Young"

Miss Georgia Telley, the violin soloist, completely captivated her audience. Miss Telley adds to a deeply artistic temperament an easy execution, with wonderful bow control. Nothing better has ever been heard than her rendition of Vieuxtemps' Fantasia Caprice and Raff's Cavatina.

Byrde Frost-Crowell has a rich well modulated soprano. It is flexible and of great range, her a-flat ringing true and clear as a bell. One of her best numbers was Lloyd's bewitchingly beautiful "Night and Day."

Miss Jessie Williams, who has delighted Willmar people upon several occasions, sang a number of contralto solos during the season. Miss Williams has a voice of unusual sweetness and power, and besides she has a most pleasing stage-presence. Some of her best numbers were "Carissima," "Harmony" and "Sing, Smile, Slumber." She also sang a number of delightful duets with Byrde Frost-Crowell.

The Arpi Quartet from G. A. College contributed a good deal of enjoyment to the programs the latter part of the season. They have a large and varied selection of songs, and sing with spirit and enthusiasm.

Willmar people have heard them before and will be more than pleased to hear them again.

Batten and a Mr. Ferguson of Chicago. The afternoon was spent by the guests looking over a part of the fine Spicer estate, not least interesting of which they found the strawberry patch, and enjoying the cool lake breezes in the comfortable retreats to be found there. Gov. Folk was enraptured with the beauties of Green Lake and made a tentative promise to come later and try a week's fishing and outing on its waters.
