

Young Men: Reason It Out

Let's get at the facts; and find out, once for all, why these are the best clothes a young man can buy.

The makers, Ederheimer-Stein & Co., specialize Young Men's; they don't make men's clothes at all.

There aren't many such makes. Not enough to go 'round and permit every store to have a live, genuine, special brand for young fellows only.

Your size in a man's suit doesn't make it right for you. There's a legion of details in the designing and tailoring that distinguish Young Men's from Men's clothes. Your kind won't suit your father; nor his kind please you.

Ederheimer, Stein & Co., make clothes for the Young Man's figure and the Young Man's taste. They make roomy, full chested coats that are stylish; suits and overcoats with a lot more swing and snap to them than a man wants.

It takes a third more cloth and a lot more skill to make clothes the Young Man's way. But when you buy them you're satisfied; you've got the best.

We're sensitive on the point of making a difference between Young Men and Men. We hope you are.

OBITUARY

and here at their farm home Mr. Haley died thirteen years ago. About five years ago the family moved to Willmar, establishing a home on West Litchfield avenue, where friends and neighbors have always found a cordial welcome and where the smiling, kindly face of "Grandma Haley" will be sadly missed.

Mrs. Haley had not been in her usual health since the death of her son Richard, last May, which was a crushing blow for her and which seemed to have taken much of her strength, still no thought that the end was coming soon had been entertained. For the past week she had been slightly ill and on Friday became suddenly worse and passed away on Sunday afternoon.

In the hearts of all her friends, and they are many, there is deep grief and her memory will long be lovingly cherished by them. For her family, whose sorrow can be understood only by those who have suffered in like manner, most sincere and loving sympathy is expressed.

Mrs. Haley is survived by four sons, Philip and Dan of Willmar, John of Minneapolis, George of Grassy Lake, Alberta, and seven daughters, Mrs. C. F. Bailey of Grand Forks, Mrs. Frank Banks of Flandreau, S. D., Mrs. F. E. Hodgson of Fergus Falls, Mrs. Edward Connor of Seattle, Miss Mary Haley of Grangeville, Idaho, and Misses Martha and Katherine Haley of this city, all of whom, with the sons and daughters-in-law, were present at the funeral which was held this morning at nine-thirty o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church and which was largely attended. The casket, covered with beautiful flowers, was borne by the sons of the family and placed in the church, where it rested amidst a wealth of blossoms, their fragrance and beauty testifying to the love and esteem in which the deceased was held.

High requiem mass was said by Father Carlin, Father Malloy and Father McDevitt. "A Christian's Light," "Ave Maria," "My Faith in Thee" and "Lead Kindly Light" were softly and touchingly sung and at the close of the services the body was tenderly laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery, there to await the glorious Resurrection, when the Lord shall call His own to be with Him forever.

Among those from out of town who are here for the funeral are Father Malloy of Shieldsville, Father Carlin and Miss Carlin of Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Lenhardt of Mrs. Hickcox of Minneapolis, Mrs. Roach of Graceville, Mrs. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Devenney, James Lawler, Mrs. Hanahan and Miss Carney of Morris; Miss Bell McGrade and Mr. Tom Condon and son of Shakopee, J. P. Lamb, Michigan, N. D., P. C. Hodgson of Fergus Falls.

CHRISTINE MOLDENHAUER

Mrs. Christine Moldenhauer, widow of the late A. W. Moldenhauer of Minneapolis, died at her home at 1312 Gordon avenue last Friday evening. The cause of death was cancer, with which the deceased had been afflicted for about 14 months. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. Michaelson. The remains were interred in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Christine Hanson Molderhauer was born in Willmar October 20, 1873, and she was thus about 36 years old at the time of death. She lived most of the time in Minneapolis where in 1893 she was married to A. W. Moldenhauer, a machinist. After her husband's death she and the children moved to this city where they made their home ever since. The deceased leaves to mourn her death, besides her mother, Mrs. Christine Hanson, two daughters, Mabel and Ethel, two sons William and Harry, three sisters, Mrs. N. J. Nelson, who lives three miles west of the city; Mrs. Wendel Triden of Stillwater; and Mrs. J. W. Higgins of Fargo, N. D.; and six brothers, H. C. Hanson of Kenal, N. D.; J. P. Hanson of Farreyelle, Wis.; and Peter, Axel Shernay and Lawrence, all of this city.

JOHN PETER NORLANDER

John Peter Norlander, a son of Lars Norlander, died in this city last Friday evening, death being caused by chronic nephritis. He had been ailing for a number of years, but the last attack, which came Thursday evening, was so severe that within 24 hours he was dead. He came here on Wednesday from Ortonville where he had been working. Deceased was about 46 years of age at the time of death. He leaves, besides his father, two sons, Ben and Elmond, who live with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Erickson, of Solomon Lake.

The funeral was held on Monday, services being conducted by Rev. H. C. Buell. The remains were interred at the Fairview cemetery.

Luck on the Stage. Stock exchange men and racing men regard luck as a side issue. They follow it secretly and make excuses for it if it goes astray, as if it were a personal friend, but the actor has a deep reverence for it, and superstitious customs that sprang into observance during the restoration period are still maintained in the age of socialism and problem plays. It is almost pathetic to see the joy that beams in the faces of a theatrical company at rehearsals if a harmless, necessary cat strolls on the stage, but if the cat sits down and appears to watch the proceedings with approval the joy becomes ecstatic.—London Black and White.

Origin of the Cherry Tree. As a cultivated fruit the cherry is of eastern origin. The first garden cherries, as well as the name, have come from an old Greek town on the southern shores of the Black sea. The name of the colony was Cerasus, and the inhabitants cultivated the cherry. So in Greek the cherry became cerasus, in Latin cerasus, in French cerise, in English cherry. Pliny relates that the Roman General Lucullus, conqueror of the great Mithridates, brought the cherry from Cerasus to Rome. A tree laden with fruit is said to have adorned his triumphal procession. In the course of the next 120 years the culture of the cherry had spread far and wide and reached even remote Britain.—London Globe.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Winney of Lanesboro, N. D., who have been taking an auto trip through the state spent Saturday and Sunday in Willmar.

Mrs. Mary Pinney and Mrs. A. Adams went to New London Tuesday to attend the funeral of J. H. Neer.

is the name of a little book which has cost us 20 cents a copy but which will be sent free upon request to anyone who has one hundred dollars or more saved up and who wishes to invest the same.

It tells the story, in plain straightforward language, of a safely profitable business and how a few hundred dollars have made millionaires of men you hear about and read about and have a chance to wonder at every waking morning.

It tells you too, that you can have some of this money with perfect safety and no risk.

How you can have it and what will bring it to you, is the reason for our wanting you to read Riches in Rye.

One hundred dollars is enough. If you have ten thousand we don't want it. That is not part of our plan.

Address your letter to E. S. MEAD personally, at 400 Corn Exchange Building, Minneapolis, Minn. It will be enough to say simply "Send me Riches in Rye." Your letter will be answered personally, the same day it is received.

You Owe it to Your Children.
