WEDNESDAY, OCT. 20, 1909.

IT IS TIME TO ACT.

If early indications are worth anything, it is going to become exceedingly difficult for Billy Hamm and his allied politicians of both big parties of this state to keep their dominant grip on the people of the state of Minnesota next year.

The trouble all the while has been that the people have complacently voted their party tickets without reference to the issues or the tendencies of the men on the tickets. The good people have been divided and the liquor interests have played chess with the politicians on both sides and the better element have really not been in the game at all.

Now it is proposed that the good people get together and run the State of Minnesota as they think it ought to be run. They have the power if they will stick together.

The Anti-Saloon league has struck a clear hopeful note. Under its new leadership, it is proposed that the county-option sentiment be crystallized in every county by means of county conventions and that a state convention be held. If the political parties refuse to recognize the just demands of the people, an independent ticket to be placed in the field. A political party that is merely a conglomeration of hungry office-seekers has no legitimate excuse for existence. Both the leading parties of Minnesota have refused to recognize the county option or prohibition issues in their platforms, altho it is the liveliest issue now before the people of the state. Political parties that refuse to take up live issues have no claim on the votes of the people interested in those issues.

If the League will keep right on along this line, it will force the politicians to sit up and take notice. Such actions will accomplish what goody-goody resolutions and a pamby-namby application of moral suasion has failed to do.

The time for talk only ought to be passed by this time; it is time to act.

JUSTICE WILL WIN IN END.

The apparent failure of justice in some of the cases of illegal sale of liquor at the recent term of court should not discourage the officials whose duty it is to enforce the laws. Nearly all the cases were somewhat different from the ordinary blind-pig cases, and perhaps there have never been any cases in this county where such systematic work and such an array of legal talent has been used to save the accused. The laws are very deficient in their provisions for enforcement for the prohibitory laws when private residences are used as the distributing Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., 201 Broadway, N. Y. City.

places, the difficulty being in securing the evidence necessary to convince the ordinary jury of a clear case of a sale being made. The trials will have a healthy influence however in discouraging practices which are sure to develop into public nuisance if left unchecked. As a rule such a place never becomes an object for the attention of the officers of the law until it has become a public nuisance, and those who cry loudest of the innocence of the parties when caught, are usually those who complain the most about the alleged failure to make prohibition prohibit. The open blind-pig is a thing of the past in this county. The few "life-saving stations" still doing business are only such that find refuge under the closest cover, and they are gradually narrowing down their list of trusty customers. Conditions in this county are very good indeed when one realizes that no one can be prohibited from shipping in supplies for their own use. The way of the transgressor is hard, and all who go into the business of selling booze on the quiet in this county may as well make up their minds that sooner or later they will go over the road, with Prohibition Sheriff Bonde camping on their trail.

It is announced that Lewis C. Spooner, a lawyer of Morris, will contest the republican nomination for congressman with the present incumbent, the Hon. A. J. Volstead. Spooner expects to get votes by assuming an anti-Cannon attitude, which it now develops is anti-Taft and Anti Eastern Republican. Volstead voted for Cannon as speaker, but broke away and voted against the Aldrich bill at the last vote. Spooner has been a member of the legislature where he was an active member and made a fairly good record. He has an up-hill job to oust Volstead with his solid organization of postmasters and other appointees through the district to look after his interests.

The Northfield News is authority for the statement that when the Hon. John Lind was approached nearly two years ago to become a candidate for governor, when it was believed that Johnson would not accept a renomination, he gave out that only on one condition would he consent and that was if the platform would declare straightfor county option. Not only is Mr. Lind one of the ablest men in the state, but he is one of its shrewdest politicians.

President Taft has declared himself in favor of bonding the country in order to provide irrigation for some parts of the West. This is the sop offered the West to placate it for the robbing scheme just consummated by the Eastern republicans under the name of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. A brilliant idea, this, to tax all the people who have to take their chances of getting rain when they need it in order to give a few a sure thing.

The New Bank Currency.

The total amount of the currency of the emergency series of National bank notes now standing is $318,515,730, and more is being issued each day as needed by the banks.

The most noticeable change in the new bill is in the legend. The old national bank notes bore on their faces the words, "This note secured by bonds of the United States deposited with the United States treasurer at Washington." The new legend says, "Secured by United States bonds or other securities." Another change made was in the design of the backs. The back of the old series of notes bore the coat of arms of the respective states and was printed in brown ink. The backs of the new notes have one common form and are printed in green ink.

It is stated that the emergency currency notes have been issued to make the public familiar with the appearance of the emergency currency at this time, rather than wait until times of emergency, when public uneasiness might be increased rather than allayed by the issue of the emergency notes.

Contrary to what has been generally supposed, Controller Murray holds that the Aldrich currency law makes the issue of the new notes mandatory, the law only permitting the issue of the old notes until new plates might be prepared and the new notes printed therefrom. The controller has construed this provision to mean that such banks as had old notes already printed and stored in the vaults of the department might use these notes. For that reason only about half the national bank notes now in circulation are of the new design.

Whenever a national bank wants a new plate for its notes, the government makes it free of charge, altho the cost of each plate, containing three bills, is about $75. The emergency money is based upon certain classes of "commercial paper" and not wholly upon United States bonds, as was the case prior to the passage of the Aldrich emergency law.

This increase in the amount of national bank notes in circulation is an inflation of the currency that exceeds by all odds any inflation that could have existed under free silver coinage.

The gold bugs of Wall Street, who thus find a market for their railroad bonds, declare that this "inflation has been of the greatest good to the business of the country because it has given the banks funds to handle the enormous movements of crops this fall, with fewer, and, in fact, no signs of money shortage. Treasury officials have nothing but words of praise for the banks in their handling of funds for the crop movement this year."

To increase the money of the country by the continued coinage of silver was dishonest—was "repudiation"—but to inflate the currency by putting in circulation millions of paper dollars based on railroad securities, is Wall Street statesmanship—Wall Street honesty!

Of course the paper is good because the government stands back of it, but what becomes of the gold standard so much lied about in the past?—Waseca Herald.

Where Cady Fell. Anoka, Minn. Oct. 13. Mr. V. E. Lawson, Willmar, Minn.

Dear Sir: A short time ago I received from Mr. M. D. Manning of your place a map of "Original Kandiyohi County" which he secured through your kindness. Please accept my thanks for your kindness.

Please accept my thanks for your interest in this matter of definitely locating the spot where Capt. Cady was killed. The map is interesting aside from its specifying the place where that event occurred.

I hope enough interest can be aroused to enable us to permanently mark this place which need not be a very expensive affair.

There are other spots of interest historically that should be marked while those who can identify them, are still living.

Aagin thanking you, I remain, Very respectfully, FRANK GILLIS.
