OLE THEOBALDI WIZARD OF VIOLIN

In Grand Concert at Willmar Seminary Next Friday Evening. Rare Musical Treat.
A rare treat will be accorded music lovers of Willmar next Friday evening when they will have an opportunity to hear Ole Theobaldi who is every where heralded as the greatest descriptive violinist of today and Ole Bull's successor. He is the possessor of 62 gold medals. He has appeared in private recitals in nearly all the courts of Europe and in grand concert in all the leading cities of Europe and America, and never since the days of Ole Bull has any man met with such a storm of applause as has Theobaldi. If you like music you cannot afford to stay away. Read the newspaper comments which we print. There are two or three thousands of the same kind.
The concert will begin at the Seminary Hall, and will start at 8:15. The program will include such famous compositions as Bull's "A Visit to the Mountains", Grieg's, "Aase's Death", "Schenong's, Andante Religioso", and also a number of Theobaldi's own compositions among these being "A Mother's Last Prayer", "Home from the Mountain" and "Joy in the Woods".
The Rochester Daily Bulletin has the following to say of Theobaldi: "He conjured up the birds of the air and made them sing their characteristic melody. He revealed the sobbing child and the grief-stricken woman. He portrayed in music language all the sounds of nature. When has Rochester listened to such a man as Theobaldi". At Willmar Seminary, Friday evening.

Miss Myrtle McCall and Edwin Holden were quietly married by Rev. J. N. Andersen at the parsonage of the Lutheran Synod church on Wednesday afternoon, October 19, at five o'clock. The bride's home is at Garretson, S. D., and the groom has a farm in North Dakota, where the newly married couple will reside. They left on the eleven o'clock train Wednesday evening.

Rev. H. Vander Ploeg ended his work as missionary pastor in the Reformed church at this place. His people are making special effort to have him continue his service with them and extended a call at a meeting last Monday night. To accept he must resign his appointment to Denver, Colo.—Edgerton Enterprise.

Miss Anna Strum was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends on the anniversary of her birthday, October 18. It was a pleasant gathering and tempting refreshments were served. Miss Strum was given an ebony handed mirror by her uninvited but welcome guests.

Mrs. Henry Rost and little daughter expect to leave for Sioux Falls tomorrow for a visit with relatives. Mr. Rost will join them later and they will go to Long Beach, Cal., to spend the winter with Mrs. Rost's sister, Mrs. Will Keim.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson were here from Cottonwood Monday and Tuesday, guests of Mrs. Sorenson's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Olson. Mr. Sorenson is the buttermaker at the Agen creamery and will bring his family to Willmar soon.

Dr. and Mrs. O. Illstrup, of Cokato, and B. J. Illstrup, of Minneapolis, were Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Illstrup.
Dr. A. W. Robertson motored up from Litchfield Saturday evening and was a guest of Willmar friends over Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Chadbourne of Redwood Falls motored over and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wold.
Mesdames George Tyler and F. G. Handy left for the cities this morning to spend the remainder of the week.

Schulhof-Krembs.

A wedding charming in its appointments of daintiness and beauty was that of Saturday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schulhof on West Litchfield Ave. when the marriage vows of their daughter Irma and Dr. Franz Joseph Krembs, of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, were spoken. A small group of relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony and Rev. C. McDevitt, of St. Mary's Catholic church was the officiating clergyman.

In the living room, where the service was read, quantities of yellow and white chrysanthemums gave the color thought of the attractive decorations. The dining room was resplendent with these same gorgeous flowers. The table was centered with a basket of the beautiful blossoms, a large bow of yellow tulle ornamenting the handle, and over the snowy white linen were scattered feathery ferns. The place cards at the elaborate wedding breakfast were dainty hand-painted slippers decked with yellow roses. Miss Tuttle, of St. Paul, played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party entered, and after the ceremony Miss Ruth Stewart of Superior, Wisconsin, gave several delightful numbers.

Miss Schulhof was exquisitely gowned in white satin cashmere and her tulle veil was held by a spray of lilies of the valley. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, orchids and maiden hair ferns and the diamond and pearl brooch which she wore was the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Gladys Park, of Stevens Point, Wis., was maid of honor. She wore a white lingerie gown and carried an arm bouquet of American beauty roses. Dr. Krembs was attended by Meehan Pfiffner, of Stevens Point. The assisting young ladies were Misses Daisy, Ida and Edna Sanderson. The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a coral necklace and the groom presented his best man with a stick pin.

Dr. and Mrs. Krembs left in the afternoon for a wedding trip and returning will be at home at Stevens Point, Wisconsin.
The guests from away were Mr. and Mrs. Antone Krembs, Mr. Alec Krembs, Mrs. P. J. Keller all of Stevens Point. Mrs. George Stewart and Miss Ruth Stewart, of Superior, Wisconsin; Mrs. L. A. Johnson, Miss Tuttle, Miss Matilda Strate and Miss Maud Regan, of St. Paul, and Mrs. Adam Pickering, of Minneapolis.

Olson-Carlson.

The marriage of Miss Anna Olson and Carl Carlson of Colfax, took place, at the parsonage of the Swedish Mission church on Thursday, October 20th, at high noon. Rev. Theodore Paulson performed the ceremony. The attendants were the bride's brother and sister and the groom's brother and sister. A wedding dinner was served and the newly married couple took the afternoon train for Scandia for a few days visit with friends and after their return went to their farm home at Colfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben E. Lawson greatly enjoyed a visit from Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. Liljedahl who, having recently been married at the bride's home in Fremont, Kansas, and having spent some time on a wedding trip thru portions of the South, were now on their way to Valley City, N. D., where Rev. Liljedahl is located as pastor. Mrs. Liljedahl is a dear friend of Mrs. Lawson, their friendship dating back from the time of the latter's sojourn in Texas several years ago.

TWELVE CONFIRMED IN SYNOD CHURCH

The seventh confirmation class since Rev. J. N. Andersen began his pastorate at the Nor. Luth. Synod church was confirmed by him at that church Sunday morning, Oct. 23. The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and ferns, and the boys and girls of the class as they marched in and took their seats presented a pleasing picture, one from which many a helpful lesson might be drawn.

The members of the class were: Emil Oscar Rannestad, Arnt Arnold Kiland, Thorvald Martin Thorsen, Jane Oline Dengerud, Edna Matilda Tallakson, Christine Marie Lucille Anderson, Josephine Ellenora Bredeson, Emma Helena Birkland, Alice Othilia Brohm, Edith Evangeline Estrem, Alma Miranda Svarterson and Aasta Christine Knutson.

In many of the families of the congregations the last child had been confirmed previously, which accounts for the smallness of this year's class.

The church was completely filled for the service which consisted of beautiful hymns, several selections by an octette, a talk to the class by Rev. Andersen from the text "O, give thanks unto the Lord for he is good" applying it to the class, the parents, the congregation and speaking of a general thanksgiving. The class was exceptionally well prepared; as their replies to the examination questions showed.

Rev. Andersen also addressed the class in English taking for his subject: "Now therefore fear the Lord and serve Him in sincerity and truth" and this was followed by a short talk in Norwegian. An offering of over eighty dollars was taken. It was a very impressive service lasting nearly three hours.

Monday evening the Confirmation Alumni met in the church basement. It was their sixth meeting and the sixth anniversary of Rev. Andersen's arrival in Willmar as pastor of the church. There were nearly 70 present. A short program was given. Rev. Andersen gave a review of the society since its organization in 1904 and read several letters of greeting from absent members. Refreshments were served and at the business meeting the following general officers were elected. President Miss Edna Kiland; vice presidents, Arthur Rannestad and Sophy Tallakson; secretary, Matilda Enger; and treasurer, Lucille Anderson; and an executive committee of five were also chosen, Hazel Lien, Walter Knutson, Edna Tallakson, Marie Botnen and Thorwald Soldahl.

Each class elected officers; but lack of space forbids the giving of their names. There was a lively competition between the classes of '08 and '09 for the banner given for the largest per cent of attendance; but the class of '08 won and is the proud possessor of the banner for another year. The remainder of the evening was devoted to a social good time and the pleasant reunion closed promptly at ten o'clock.

OBITUARY.

ALFRED TRULSON.

Alfred Trulson died at his home in Willmar Friday morning, October 21, after long suffering from an incurable kidney disease. He had been in poor health for two years, but was confined to his bed only about a week, when death came to his release.

Alfred Trulson was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Trulson and was born in the town of Fahln, May 13, 1871. He grew to manhood on his father's farm and acquired a common school education in district No. 68 after which he studied at the Willmar Seminary for two terms.

July 2, 1900 he was united in marriage to Miss Nannie Sjoberg and they lived at their farm home in Fahln until failing health compelled him to give up farm work last spring, when they came to Willmar to reside.

Mr. Trulson was a man of strict integrity, honorable in all his dealings, a kind friend and neighbor a devoted son and husband and his death brings sadness to many hearts.

He is survived by his wife, his father and mother, five sisters, Mrs. Oscar Olson of Roseland; Mrs. J. Mortenson, Chicago; Mrs. Edwin Erickson, Whitefield; Mrs. F. W. Franklin, Bowbells, N. D., and Miss Selma Trulson of this city and two brothers, Edward of Minneapolis and Otto, of Coteau, N. D. The sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved ones.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday at one o'clock at the home and later at the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. G. Peterson officiating. A profusion of beautiful flowers covered the casket and showed the loving sympathy of friends. The burial service was in the former Baptist cemetery in town of Kandiyohi.

MARTHA J. PETERSON.
Martha Jonasdotter Peterson, beloved wife of John Peterson, passed from this life to the life eternal on Monday morning, October 23, at her home in town of Kandiyohi.

Mrs. Peterson had been in her usual health when she was suddenly stricken with paralysis and after lingering unconscious for a week quietly
