The J. B. Jacobson family visited at the Ytterboe brothers' place Sunday.

The spoon social and entertainment given at the Ramstad school house last Friday evening, was very well attended. The spoons were disposed of at a very high price and netted $25.85 which will be used for the purchase of a set of maps.

Mrs. J. H. Henjum, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Willmar hospital recently is reported doing nicely and is expected home within a few days.

Mrs. S. A. Syverson, who was taken seriously ill sometime ago is convalescent and is up and around again. The meeting of the Ladies Aid society which was to have taken place there on Dec. 1, was postponed on account of her illness and will take place next Thursday, Dec. 15, instead.

Prof Bogstad and Rev. Sotendahl are making a thorough canvass throuth the charge soliciting subscriptions for the erection of a dormitory in connection with the U. C. Normal school in Madison, Minn.

Sometime ago, on one of these fine December days, "Scribbler", armed with bow and a pack of arrows went out for a short tramp in quest of prey. The scarcity of game that day soon convinced him of the folly of carrying such weapons. He therefore concluded to relieve himself of his burden and left his bow and arrows at an obscure place thinking that none could have sight so keen and strong that it could reveal his hidden "treasure." He proceeded on his walk. After a long stroll, thru woods, across valleys, and over hills he finally decided to return to the place where his hidden treasure was stored. He found the spot with little difficulty, but, lo, and behold! his arrows were gone. Nothing was left to mark the spot, save his bow and a little cleared spot on the ground on which was inscribed in bold strokes, letters which, after careful study revealed the name "D-i-c-k. Nothing could be done to recover his arrows; they had all been shot, but after investigating the matter he found that the antecedent of "Dick" had thought it best to flee and thus the mystery was solved.

Miss Tina Hough is keeping house at J. H. Henjum's place during Mrs. Henjum's absence.

There will be a "shoe box" social and program in the Banner school, Dist. 56, town of Arctander, next Saturday evening, Dec. 17, at 8 o'clock.

An infant child of Elov Otterness died last week and was buried in the Hauge church cemetery on Monday.

There are some stores in town that you ought to know better than you do. There are some store ads in the paper that you ought to READ—not merely LOOK AT!

Don't send a job of printing out of town before the TRIBUNE has had the chance to figure on it.

Announcement by E. Elkjer, PHOTOGRAPHER

Having decided to retire from the photo business in Willmar on JAN. 15, 1911, I wish to give notice to my many friends and patrons who may be anxious to have my particular kind of good photographs, to have them taken as soon as possible, the sooner the better.

The Christmas rush is coming on, and from now to Jan. 15, 1911, will be your only chance to have Elkjer make your photos at Willmar.

During the time I have been in Willmar I have used my best efforts to give the people good work, and if the number of customers we have been favored with is an indication of approval, I feel that I have "made good." I shall continue and give the very best while in business here. Thanking all my past customers and those who will favor me with their patronage until I retire, I remain,

Respectfully,

The Vote Was a Failure.

The worthy Sunday school superintendent was illustrating the text, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."
Superintendent—If I want to raise a crop of turnips what sort of seed must I sow?
Children—Turnip seed.
Superintendent—If I want to raise a crop of tomatoes what kind of seed must I sow?
Children—Tomato seed.
Superintendent—Very good. Now if you want to raise a crop of good manhood what kind of seed must you sow?
And an observer who kept tally reported that the school on test vote was a tie between turnip seed and tomato seed.

Moss Dented Steel.

Moss has been forced to make an impression upon hard steel by exploding a dynamite cartridge upon it.

Stage Snow in Spring.

In a play called "1812," in which Napoleon's crossing of a frozen river is shown with snow falling, the last act shows an old soldier's return home. It is springtime, there are roses climbing up the cottage walls, the fruit trees are in bloom, and the old hero sits in a chair in a cozy room with all the windows open. But, much to the spectators' amusement, snow continued to fall not only outside the room, but inside it. The actor who played the old soldier noticed the audience's amusement, and to account for the snow he gazed. "Pay no attention to the snow," he said to his stage wife. "It's a habit I contracted in Russia."—London M. A. P.

His Inheritance.

"Did Mergar inherit his money?" "Indirectly. He inherited the ability to get the best of others."—Life.

Famous Abductions.

Marriages by abduction was by no means uncommon in the early ages. The daughter of the king of Argus was abducted by a Phoenician. The Greeks carried off Europa from Tyre and Medea from Colchis.
Next to the abduction of the fair Helen, perhaps the most remarkable in its political consequences was the king of Leinster's taking away of the wife of a neighboring petty sovereign, O'Rourke of Breffni.
The king of Connaught avenged the insult and drove from the throne his brother of Leinster, who appealed to Henry II. of England for aid to recover his lost sovereignty. The Norman conquest of Ireland followed, with centuries of war and devastation.

Egotism.

The more one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talked of.—Lavater.

Elastic Currency.
"All currency is elastic."
"How do you make that out?"
"Haven't you ever noticed how small a dollar is when somebody pays it to you and how big it is when you have to pay it to somebody else?"—Cleveland Leader.
