

Which Roofing Shall I Use?

Answer that question for good and all. When you buy prepared roofing you expect years of wear and satisfaction. Here is the way to insure getting it. A simple way—an easy way and a quick way to find out just exactly how any prepared roofing will stand up under ten years of the hardest kind of wear on a building. First, get our book from the dealer. It's called "Ten Years Wear in Ten Minute Tests." Then—get samples of any prepared roofings you are considering and subject them all to the six tests contained in the book. These tests correspond to ten years of extreme weather and emergency conditions. Choose the roofing that stands them best. It will last longest on your building. If you really want to know which roofing is best, don't fail to include in your tests. We furnish the way of knowing. We furnish the samples. You do the rest. Decide for yourself which roofing you want to use. Base your decision on the way the roofing is going to wear. Don't let any one's talk influence you. Just choose the roof that makes good bet. You won't be sure of money's worth in roofing until you try these tests. Ask or write the dealer whose name appears below. He'll furnish the book and samples.

When a Man is a Failure

- When he has no confidence in himself nor his fellow men.
- When he values success more than character and self-respect.
- When he does not try to make his work a little better each day.
- When he becomes so absorbed in his work that he cannot see that life is greater than work.
- When he lets a day go by without making some one happier and more comfortable.
- When he tries to rule others by bullying instead of by example.
- When he values wealth above health, self-respect and the good opinion of others.
- When he is so burdened by his business that he finds no time for rest and recreation.
- When he loves his own plans and interests more than humanity.
- When his friends like him for what he has more than for what he is.
- When he knows that he is in the wrong, but is afraid to admit it.
- When he envies others because they have more ability, talent or wealth than he has.
- When he does not care what happens to his neighbor or to his friend so long as he is prosperous.
- When he is so busy doing that he has no time for smiles and cheering words.

ENJOY THE BEAUTIES OF NATURE ABOUT YOU

"You may talk of the purple haze of Italy, the vine-clad hills of France, the sea green tints of the Emerald Isle, the quiet lanes of England fragrant with their blossoming hedgerows; but whoever will rise with the sun these mornings can enjoy the essence of them all, and not leave their own door yards. No sea girt isle can boast a fresher green than our grass and foliage. The air is vocal with the songs of birds and odorous from the blossoming trees. Flowers of every hue are springing from their retreats and bearing to our hearts bright promises for the morrow. All Nature seems instinct with life and hope. Come then, ye sick and sorrowful to this feast of good things. Don't spend these precious mornings tossing wearily on your couch, hoping the doctor will find a panacea for your ills, or that something will turn up to dissipate your gloom.

Go out to meet these healing, inspiring influences which Nature is providing for your relief, open your lungs and hearts to her sweet breath and words of cheer, and a balm more potent than any ever patented by man. A God given panacea for the ills of humanity, shall be given you."

Lake McDonald, Glacier National Park

Lake McDonald, conceded to be one of the most beautiful water spots in the world, is located in Glacier National Park in northwestern Montana. This district was created into a National Playground by the Sixty-first U. S. Congress, and since that time has been given much publicity through the columns of the leading newspapers and magazines as well as the Great Northern Ry. in its "See America First" movement.

Lake McDonald lies in the southwestern part of the Park, is 12 miles long and 1 1/2 miles wide and is surrounded on all sides by high pine covered mountains. The principal accommodations in the Park at the present time are those located on this lake, and arrangements can be made at these hotels for one day, two day or longer trips through this wonderful region with competent guides at reasonable rates.

This new Park sooner or later will surely come into its own as a big drawing card for tourists.

OBSERVE FLAG DAY ON JUNE 14, NEXT

Wednesday, June 14, is the 144th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the flag of our country and the American Flag Association appeals to the President of the United States, to the governors of the states and to the mayors of the cities to call attention to the fact by proclamation.

The adoption of the stars and stripes as the flag of the nation was an event of worldly importance, yet the date when this took place has never received that popular recognition to which it was certainly entitled. The blame for this shortcoming lies probably more with our public men and our educators than with the masses of the American people. But few public men have taken particular pains to arouse public sentiment and public enthusiasm. In a great measure the matter has simply been ignored.

This year, however, the American Flag Association endeavors to induce the general public to throw off its lethargy and celebrate the coming 144th anniversary of this glorious event as is due the occasion.

The official history of the Stars and Stripes is briefly as follows: On June 14, 1777, congress passed the following act:

"That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Afterward the stripes had been increased from time to time, by the admission of new states, but on April 4, 1818, congress permanently restored the original thirteen stripes by decreasing:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be twenty stars, white, in a blue field and that on the admission of a new State into the Union one star be added to the Union of the flag, and such addition take effect on the fourth day of July next, succeeding such admission."

NO. 21 WRECKED IN MINNEAPOLIS YARDS

The "Willmar Local" in charge of Conductor Kemp met with an accident Wednesday evening just after leaving the Minneapolis Union Depot, which might have been most serious but fortunately resulted in no loss of life to the several of the passengers were more or less bruised.

The train was derailed, due probably to an open switch, and two of the coaches, filled with passengers, were upset and dragged some distance. That the train was running slowly and no lamps were lighted is probably the reason there were no fatalities, either from being crushed in the wreck or from fire.

One passenger was quite severely injured and taken to a Minneapolis hospital. All the others proceeded on their way.

New coaches replaced the wrecked ones and the train arrived in Willmar an hour late.

Entertained by Eastern Star.

At the close of the regular meeting of Sileam Chapter, O. E. S. Wednesday evening a reception was held in honor of Mrs. F. A. Rogers, who leaves soon to join Mr. Rogers in Washington. Mrs. Rogers served for two years as Worthy Matron of the Chapter, has always been a very popular and active member, and her departure from Willmar is sincerely regretted in church, social and lodge circles. A number of pleasing talks were given and a delicious luncheon was served, garden flowers forming a pretty centerpiece for the table.

Change of Pastors.

Rev. Andrew Nelson, who has labored faithfully and well as pastor of the Swedish M. E. church in this city the past year, has resigned his pastorate and will return to Minneapolis where his family reside. His place here will be filled by Theodore Livingstone, graduate from the Swedish M. E. Theological Seminary at Evanston, Ill. He is expected to arrive during the coming week and will preach on Sunday, June 11th.

Who Dictates the Quality of Your Shoes—You or the Leather Trust?

It is for you—the shoe wearer—to decide whether you will keep on buying shoes made of poor leather, tanned by cheap and hasty processes under the domination of the Leather Trust—

Or shoes made by the only manufacturers in this country who own their own tanneries and tan the leather they put into their shoes, independent of the Leather Trust. These independent shoes are Endicott-Johnson shoes. You can get them from a representative dealer right here in this town.

Endicott-Johnson shoes will give you more wear than the best shoes you have been buying. They are made of leather that you simply cannot get in any other shoe.

Furthermore, Endicott-Johnson shoes save you 50 cents to $1.00 on every pair. They reach your home dealer direct from the factory—no profits to Truists or middlemen.

Just try the shoes for yourself. For dress and business wear, you want the ENDWELL (Goodyear Welt)—retailing at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

ENDWELL shoes combine perfect foot comfort with all the little modish touches that a man wants in his shoes. Two hundred styles—a full range of lasts—every width of toe—all the colors of leather.

ANDREW J. FORSBERG.

One of the earliest pioneers of this county passed away last Sunday, when Andrew J. Forsberg answered the death summons at his home in the township of Lake Elizabeth. The end came at 12:30 p. m. and death was due to old age. He passed away after an illness of two months.

Deceased was born in Ockelbo Socken, Gästrikland, Sweden, Nov. 1, 1826, and consequently was over 84 years of age at the time of his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Anna Oberg in 1853 and they immigrated to this country in 1855, first settling in Illinois and later, in the spring of 1867, removed to Minnesota. They took up their residence in this county at that time and so are among the early residents who endured the hardships and privations of pioneer life in Kandiyohi county. Of the six children born to them the following two now survive them: John A. Forsberg of Lake Elizabeth and Mrs. Christine Hedman of Willmar.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon. Following the service at the home at one o'clock, services were conducted at the Lake Elizabeth Swedish Baptist church by Rev. E. O. Ericson. Deceased was one of the very first members of that church, being one of the organizers as well as an early officer of that society, and a large number of old friends and neighbors were present to pay their last respects to a faithful and devout church worker. The remains were laid at rest in the church cemetery.—Atwater Rep. Press.

Two Strange Diseases. According to a well known medical authority, the seemingly strangest of all known diseases are called astasia and akathisia. Astasia is a nervous affection, and a person suffering from it cannot stand upright. If he tries he will be obliged to hop and jump whenever his feet touch the ground. Akathisia is the exact opposite of astasia, since a person suffering from it cannot remain seated. The moment he sits in a chair he is obliged to start up again. A person afflicted with akathisia can walk easily, but cannot sit, whereas a person suffering from astasia cannot stand upright and cannot walk in the ordinary manner owing to the contraction of the lower limbs.—New York Herald.

Religion of Ancient Rome. The religion of the old Romans was not a religion at all—it was patriotism. In the republic—or in its better days, at least—the love of country was the all dominating feeling. Rome was all. To live for it, to die for it, to sacrifice on behalf of its welfare the most sacred possessions of life, was the Roman's religion. Decline, Regulus and the rest of the worthies who cheerfully sacrificed themselves upon the altar of their country were the Roman "saints." To do for the state, and, having done all, to die for it if necessary, without any thought of future reward for the same—that was the religion of the men who made Rome the capital of the world.—New York American.
