Baby Musical.

Miss Ethel Reed gave a baby musical at the home of Mrs. Chris Paulson Tuesday afternoon. The ages of the children who played were from 7 to 9, except four numbers, kindly contributed by older students.

The little girls were all beginners since the first of the year, and several began in June this year. Two songs on the program, one played by Florence Paulson and sung by a chorus of little tots, the other played by Phyllis Haley and chorus of voices, and little Frances Heed, 7 years old, who began in June, played the following numbers without her notes and at the proper tempo.

2nd grade Song of the Sea Shell

Krogmann

2nd grade Spinning Song. Elmerich

3rd grade The Ensign March. Geise

The Pixies March with her notes

Miss Frances is a talented little girl and has played in several private homes here and is considered a wonderful little musician.

Other children on the program were Hughzina Haley, Cora Gallford, Cecelia Johnson, Verna Clark, Geraldine Haley, Evelyn Dale, the Misses Frances Hedin and Edna Skoog.

There were about 40 guests present. Refreshments, ice cream and cake were served.

The Berg Obsequies.

The funeral of the late Iver I. Berg was held last Wednesday afternoon. In spite of the rain, a large number of people came out to the services at the Lutheran Synod church to pay their last respects to the departed friend and neighbor. A sermon based on the Scriptural words "I will not leave thee, nor forsake thee," was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Andersen. Miss Constance Grangard sang a solo consecrating the same words of promise. Rev. A. Turmo, a former pastor of the deceased at his former Nebraska home, but now of Cliford, N. D., spoke in the Norwegian language, and Rev. Nels Berg, a brother of the deceased spoke in English on behalf of the family. The floral offerings were fine. The interment took place at the Fairview cemetery. The pall bearers were Hon. L. O. Thorpe, Messrs. M. O. Thorpe, O. A. Grangard, Nels Tallakson, Robert Thompson, and J. L. Johnson.

Willmar at Fort Berthold.

Willmar has one lucky drawing in the Fort Berthold land drawing, namely J. B. Glarum, who drew No. 159. Bennie has been west for about a month so the Tribune has not been able to get any particulars in regard to his prize, but no doubt he will be able to choose a choice parcel of land with this number so near the head of the list. Another Willmar drawee is August Holmberg, but as his number is above 5,000, he will probably not care to go out and make use of his option.

Maine Still Dry.

The latest returns show that the official returns so far received indicate that the "drys" have won by 295 in the battle to retain the prohibitory amendment in the state of Maine.

The sad news was received by Willmar relatives and friends of the death of little Mildred, the three-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Herman Estrem at Madison, S. D., which occurred last Sunday morning, the cause of death being spinal meningitis. The funeral will occur this afternoon at Willmar. Services will be held at the Synod church at three o'clock, and the interment will take place in the family lot in the church yard in the east part of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Sand left Sunday morning for Minneapolis to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Nordmandenes Sangforening given at the Schubert Theatre in that city Sunday afternoon. People from all parts of the state were in attendance and a very interesting program was given. In the evening a banquet was held at the West Hotel. Those present will long remember the delightful time spent.
