AUTO STRUCK BY MAIL TRAIN

Ole Ringness and Syvert Skindellen of Norway Lake Have Narrow Escape.

Ole Ringness and Syvert Skindellen of Norway Lake had a harrowing experience three miles below Delano last Thursday. They had started from home early in the morning with the intention of going to Minneapolis. A little after nine o'clock they had passed Delano. They were in Mr. Ringness' new Mitchell touring car. While crossing the track about three miles from Delano, the car was struck by the Great Northern mail train, which came tearing along at the rate of 60 miles an hour. The car is nearly a total wreck, but both the men escaped without any serious injuries. The engine of the mail train was slightly damaged we are told. The car was a new one, and the loss to Mr. Ringness will be considerable. Lars Halvorson of this city saw the wrecked car Friday as he passed the place of the accident.

Singers Make Good.

The Reimstad-Cranston concert at the Lutheran Free church last Friday evening was a success in every way. The large auditorium was filled with an appreciative audience. Prof. Reimstad is well known to the people of Willmar, many of whom have had the pleasure of listening to his singing in the past. Those who heard him Friday evening, however, expressed the opinion freely that his voice is better than ever before and he fully sustained his reputation of being one of the best Scandinavian tenors in America.

Little was known of Mr. Cranston aside from the many favorable press comments. He is a lyric tenor of much future promise. His pleasing well modulated voice and artistic rendition captivated his audience. Rarely have the people of Willmar listened to duets by two singers whose voices blend in such perfect harmony.

Should these gentlemen again visit Willmar they will undoubtedly be greeted with crowded houses.

The concert netted the Y. P. S. about $70.

Maloney Buys Corner.

James E. Maloney has purchased the corner where he does business and including the building next south of his confectionery. The lot is 50x75 feet in size, and is a very good corner on Third street. The consideration, we understand, was $4,000. Mr. J. P. Madison was here from Minneapolis last week on business, and while here made the deal with Mr. Maloney. Mr. Madison and family are planning to again become residents of Willmar, and will occupy their residence on Litchfield avenue shortly.

Miniature Farm at Glenwood.

The miniature farm and old water-wheel and mill and rural panorama exhibited here during the Street Fair is being exhibited at the Pope County Fair this week, with Eben E. Lawson in charge. Secretary Landing was here during our fair and became so struck on this feature that he would not rest until he had secured the promise from the promoters that they would name a figure at which they would reproduce it at Glenwood. When they did this it was promptly accepted.

The Western Dovre Y. P. S.

The Western Y. P. S. met at the "Franklin" school house last Saturday evening and held their regular business meeting.

The officers elected for the coming six months are as follows: Pres., Ludvig Rykken; Vice Pres., Julius Holland; Sec., Josephine Holland and Treas., Ole Alvig.

Since the first meeting, the Society has taken in a sum of $45.10, which they have decided to give to the Oak Grove L. L. Sem., at Fargo, N. D. Further notice will be given in regard to the next meeting.

Standard Oil Will Branch Out.

The Standard Oil company is looking for a location at Willmar for a warehouse for their auxiliary oils, and oil products. They will keep three or four carloads in stock here to supply the wants of the neighborhood. They are negotiating for the Sorlien building, used at the last fair as an horticultural hall. A Duluth Credit company is also looking for this building, or some other location, in which to locate a $40,000 general merchandise stock from South Dakota.

Another Grocery Will Open.

Julius Johnson will open another exclusive grocery store at 116 Third street this week. The place is being nicely fitted up with a new lighting system, including an arc light outside of the door. With ten grocery stores Willmar ought to be well supplied.

OBITUARY

Pascal P. Eddy.

Another pioneer of Kandiyohi County has entered into his reward. At the farm home in the Town of Whitefield, on Wednesday, September 20th, occurred the death of P. P. Eddy, at the age of eighty-three years and ten months.

Death came as a welcome relief to the worn-out body. The past year Mr. Eddy had been confined to his room most of the time and much of the time to his bed. The long, lonely hours were passed with his Bible, his books and papers. His interest in the news of the day was as keen as ever. But his greatest comfort was his Bible.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. B. Spencer at the farm on Saturday at 10:30 o'clock and at the home of Thos. Scotton at 1:30 p. m. The Presbyterian choir touchingly sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "No Sorrow There." The five sons of Mr. Eddy and Mr. Scotton bore the remains to their last resting place beside his wife who passed away four years ago.

Pascal P. Eddy was born in Dudley, Massachusetts, on November 22, 1830. He was one of a family of nine children. His boyhood days were spent on a farm. In early youth he went into a woolen mill and learned the trade. On August 18, 1852, he married Caroline M. Jewett. Soon after they moved to Norwich, Connecticut, and later to Ypsilanti, Michigan. In 1867 he came to Minneapolis to take charge of the woolen mill there, and they resided in Minneapolis until 1880 when they moved to the farm in Whitefield. The story of the thirty-one years spent on this farm is similar to that of many of the early pioneers—a tale of hardships, privations, loneliness and toil unceasing. These labors have not been without material returns, for with his sons he has built up a splendid business. The Eddy farm is a synonym in these parts for a progressive dairy farm. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eddy, six of whom are now living—W. Frank of Duluth, George H. of Minneapolis, H. B. C. T. and L. J. on the farm, and Mrs. Thomas Scotton of Willmar. There are eleven grandchildren, and one brother, William P. Eddy, of Brooklyn, New York, is still living.

Christine Engstrom.

Mrs. Christine Engstrom, the aged mother of Mrs. Erick P. Glad, Sr., died at the latter's home at Minneapolis last Sunday at six a. m. The funeral occurred Tuesday afternoon at Willmar. Services were held at the residence of Mr. H. C. Johnson at two o'clock by Rev. Ostling of the Swedish Mission church, and the interment took place at the Fairview cemetery. The deceased lady was the grandmother of Erick Glad, Jr., and Mrs. H. C. Johnson of this city.

New Salvation Army Captain.

Captain M. Frstrup of Chicago has now arrived to take charge of the Salvation Army work in Willmar. A campaign of four weeks is started. Meetings are conducted every night on Fourth street and later in the Army Hall on Third street.

Captain Frstrup is a professional musician. He handles 20 different instruments, and has been connected with the Army twenty years.

Next Friday at 8 o'clock a coffee social will be held at the hall. The admission is free.

All Rent-League members (hjalptruppsmedlemmar) are especially invited.

The illustrated lecture on Norway given at the Bonde Hall last Saturday evening by Prof. Bjarne Svanoe, of Decorah, Iowa, was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience. The moving pictures showing the steamers on the different fjords, the skiing parties, the high ski jumping, the gymnasts, scenery from a moving train, the rushing waters of many of the falls and rapids for which this country is noted, etc., were very good and realistic.

A Stranger in Hard Luck.

In response to a request for a cook at the Saratoga Cafe in this city, an employment agency at Minneapolis sent up an elderly lady on Sept. 16. She began work Sunday morning, but unluckily fell and fractured a hip bone. She was taken to the Bethesda hospital, where she will be forced to stay for some weeks, until she recovers from this accident. The lady gives her name as Mrs. Violet McDonall, but refuses to give any information in regard to kin or friends. She gives her age at 50, but may be older. She is apparently without means, and the county will be forced to play the good Samaritan.

Elmar Broberg and M. F. Lundquist of New London motored to Willmar last Friday night on business connected with the big New London store of Swenson & Broberg. This store inaugurates a big harvest sale next Monday to run for ten days, with exceptional bargains given for most of the days.

WILL BUILD LARGE GARAGE

F. G. Handy Has Let Contract For An Up-to-date Structure on Sixth and Litchfield.

A new up-to-date automobile garage will be built on the corner of Sixth street and Litchfield avenue diagonally across from the power house, work to begin at once. The building will be solid brick, fire proof, 50x100 feet, and finished with Menominee red brick and will represent an investment of $10,000. The promoter of the new enterprise is F. G. Handy, and he states that no expense will be spared to give Willmar a garage which will be first class in every respect. The management will be in the hands of competent young men formerly of Willmar.

The monthly examinations are beginning this week. We know just about what we don't know now.

The piano has been moved back to the main room from room 7.

The Seniors had a class meeting in room 7 Friday noon for election of officers. Arthur Erickson was appointed President; Borghild Sand, Vice President and George Swenson Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson returned from their trip to the Coast last Thursday after an absence of three months. Most of this time she spent at Seattle with their children, but many side trips have been made, including one to California. Mr. Johnson is very favorably impressed with the climate at Seattle.

Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the Northern Minnesota Conference. The annual session of the same will commence in the Hennepin Ave. church in Minneapolis, Oct. 4. Mrs. H. Maddison is the delegate from First church, Willmar, to the lay electoral conference which elects the delegates to the general conference held during the month of May in Minneapolis, 1912.

COLORED GENTLEMAN HERE

Graduate From Tuskegee is at Willmar in Interest of His Alma Mater in Alabama.

C. R. Hosmer, representing the famous Booker Washington Tuskegee Institute, called on Willmar citizens yesterday. Mr. Hosmer, traveling in the interest of the school, from Willmar went to St. Cloud, where he will make addresses in different churches next Sunday. In an interview with Mr. Hosmer, we gleaned the following facts:

Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, Dr. Booker T. Washington's famous Negro Industrial School, is the largest and most practical institution for the education of negroes in the country today. It was begun in a rented shanty on borrowed money thirty years ago. It consists of one hundred buildings and 3000 acres of land. Every building on the place was erected by students under the management of negro teachers.

During the year there are enrolled 1,700 students, young men and young women, (there are also at least 475 children in attendance), from 37 and 15 foreign countries. In all departments there are 170 instructors and officers of various kinds. Since this institution was founded in 1881, there have been sent out more than 9,000 men and women who have finished a full or partial course who are doing splendid work mainly as industrial workers and teachers.

Tuskegee is a private institution supported by interested citizens in different parts of the United States. Tuskegee Institute is doing more to solve the perplexing negro problem than any other agency.

Martin Ruud, living eight miles south of Willmar, lost a finger in the machinery of a corn bind yesterday. He was in the city this morning to have the hand dressed.
