NEW JAIL FOR MEEKER

Willmar Contractor, J. H. Olson, Lands Contract for the Litchfield Bastille.

From the Litchfield Saturday Review: Contracts were let at the Wednesday meeting for the jail building complete. J. H. Olson, of Willmar, who is the contractor who remodeled the Washington school building and later the John Palm store, was the successful bidder at the sum of $5,577. He will build the jail exclusive of the steel and iron work. The other bidders were Chas. Hagstrom $7,392; C. P. Johnson & Son $7,445; Detroit Building & Mfg. Co., $6,300, all outside men.

The county board has already made disposition of the old jail. Mr. Olson will take over the building material at $80, and the Diebold Safe & Lock Co., the steel and iron work, exclusive of the fence around the old structure, for $150.

Construction will be commenced with the arrival of material and the contracts drawn provide for the completion of the building by January 1. The structure will provide for 4 cells, a juvenile cell, a cell for women and a padded cell for the insane, also a sheriff's office, kitchen and bathroom, all on one floor. The architectural arrangement is such that a second story may be added at any time in the future.

Peter Melsness Has a Close Call.

We just heard of how near we came to losing electrician Peter Melsness a week ago last Sunday. With the water shut off he was down in the wheelhouse making some repairs when the gate gave away and let in an immense volume of water. Peter saw the gate give way and made a grab for an iron rod over his head, but the water struck him with such force his hold was torn loose and he found himself at the bottom with ten feet of surging, boiling water above him. He hardly knows himself how he got out, but he did so without assistance. But it was a mighty close call.—Granite Falls Journal.

HIGHER OFFICIALS BLOCKED. ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

"Pussyfoot" Johnson Reveals His Reason for Resigning as Chief Special Officer.

Detroit Record.—This office is in receipt of a signed statement from William E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson in which that gentleman goes into details relative to the cause which forced him to resign from the Indian service as Chief Officer in suppressing the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors between the white men and the Indians. The statement covers three pages of closely typewritten manuscript and is couched in Mr. Johnson's characteristic vein and phraseology. It is too verbose to publish verbatim but the opening paragraphs are herewith reproduced and they give the keynote in an intelligible manner:

"After five years of service, I am laying down my commission as Chief Special Officer in the United States Indian Service.

"A political ring has been formed in the Interior Department which resents anything like aggressive effort in suppressing the liquor traffic among Indians. This cabal is led by Assistant Indian Commissioner F. H. Abbott a professional politician from Nebraska, and Assistant Secretary of the Interior Samuel Adams, a corporation lawyer from Chicago. During the past few months, those two men have done everything in their power to hamper, undermine and prevent the success of our efforts in catching reservation bootleggers. I refused to be chloroformed, but these men finally got me so bottled up that I could do but little except to mark time and draw my salary. I saw no other way to maintain myself except to resign.

"The immediate cause of my resignation was the New Mexican complications. During the past two years, the Pueblo Indians of northern New Mexico have been systematically plundered of their pasturage and robbed of their lands, in a way that would put Boss Tweed to shame. This system of robbery is now being carried on with the knowledge and under the protection of the Indian administration in New Mexico. The Indian office is fully informed of the rascality, but the dead hand of politics paralyzes any move to protect the Indians."

Mr. Johnson details conditions at length which led up to the fight at Chamita, N. M., when one of his deputies, Juan Cruz, was attacked by a party of four drunken Indians and one of the latter was killed. Cruz was arrested, charged with murder in the first degree. Johnson says he was ordered by Indian Superintendent C. J. Crandall to do nothing in the defense of his deputy. This he ultimately declined to do, and, after a hard fight the deputy secured his freedom.

"And now, after I have secured the liberty of the boy," the statement continues, "this same Assistant Commissioner Abbott and Assistant Secretary Adams are trying to find a way to disallow my accounts for expenses in the trial and compel me to pay the bills for witnesses' expenses and traveling items, amounting to about $1,200.

"But the vengeance of this booze cabal has not even stopped there. Some time ago, Superintendent Crandall proposed officially a scheme to plunder them of their executive order reservation. The plan was to take this land away from the Santa Clara Indians, amounting to about 30,000 acres, add a few barren and worthless hills to it and distribute the entire area among all the Tehas Indians, of which the Santa Clara Pueblo was a small part. Assistant Commissioner Abbott is now working through the department this gigantic steal. It is a scheme tantamount to robbing the Irish of their domain and giving it to the Scotch of the United Kingdom by giving them more land."

NO CAUSE TO DOUBT.

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Remedy Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Remedy Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents. The Peril in a Money Trust.

The plain fact is that the control of credit is dangerously concentrated in this country. The money resources of the country are not at the command of those who do not submit to the direction and domination of small groups of capitalists, who wish to keep the economic development of the country under their own eye and guidance. The great monopoly in this country is the money monopoly. So long as that exists our old variety and freedom and individual energy of development are out of the question. The industrial nation is controlled by its system of credit. Our system of credit is concentrated. The growth of the nation, therefore, and all our activities are in the hands of a few men who, even if their action be honest and intended for the public interest, are necessarily concentrated upon the great undertakings in which their own money is involved and who necessarily, by every reason of their limitations, chill and check and destroy genuine economic freedom. This is the greatest question of all and to this statesmen must address themselves with all earnest determination to serve the long future and the true liberties of men.—By Woodrow Wilson.

Olof Strete in Wreck.

From the Kerkhoven Banner: Olof Strete, a former Norway Lake resident who had been living on a claim near Ray, N. D., for several years, returned here Monday with a carload of stock, machinery and household effects and is to move onto the G. O. Kambestad farm at West Lake. The train on which he was traveling on Milwaukee road was wrecked about 30 miles west of Aberdeen a week ago last Sunday. He was riding in a car with his stock and other effects when it rolled down embankment and landed bottom side up in the ditch. A couple of cows landed on top of Mr. Strete and he was unable to get out until he received assistance from the train crew. He sustained a broken shoulder and numerous bruises and considers himself very fortunate to have escaped with his life. One of Mr. Strete's horses and a cow were killed and the other stock more or less hurt. His machinery and household effects were badly broken up and hardly worth transferring to another car to be brought on to their destination. About 1000 head of sheep were killed in the same wreck, which was no doubt very expensive one for the railway company.

A Difficult Problem.

A school teacher in a neighboring county is said to have received the following note recently: "Dear Mum: please excuse Johnny today. He is acting as timekeeper for his father. Last night you gave him this example, if a field is 4 miles square how long will it take a man walking three miles an hour to walk 24 times around it. Johnny ain't no man so we had to send his dad. They left early this morning and my husband said they ought to be back late tonight, though it would be hard going. Dear Mum, please make my next problem about ladies as my husband can't afford to lose a day's work. The Lord knows I don't have no time to loaf but I can spare a day off occasionally better than my husband can. Resp'y yrs.—Mrs. Jones.—Ex.

RAINS INTERFERE WITH CAMPAIGN

Christopher Easton Obligated to Abandon Half of Meetings on Account of Continued Rain.

Mr. Christopher Easton, Secretary of the Minnesota Society for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis, together with the boy assistant who ran the stereopticon, unfortunately met with very unfavorable weather for the rural campaign in Kandiyohi County. During the first three days of the week, however, ten meetings were held. It was found necessary to omit the meeting at Thorpe and District 33 of Green Lake, owing to bad roads.

The attendance, considering the condition of the roads, was fair-good at most of the places. In District No. 39 there were twelve adults and fifteen children; in District No. 38 there were nineteen adults and ten children; in District No. 58 Monday evening, there were fifty adults and twelve children; in District No. 34 there were seven adults and eleven children; Tuesday evening at Hawick there were twenty-eight adults and eight children; in District No. 67 there were twelve adults and nine children; in District No. 31, Colfax, there were seven adults and eleven children; in District No. 59 there were thirty-eight adults and thirty-one children; in District 23, Arctander, Wednesday evening, there were eighty adults and twelve children; in District No. 25 there were fifteen adults and thirty-two children.

The rain on Thursday made it impossible to fill the dates for Bethesda Homes and District No. 62. The roads were constantly becoming worse and it was decided that if the rain still continued Friday morning it would be useless to attempt to make the balance of the dates. Therefore, Mr. Easton departed for St. Paul, as the weather continued rainy on Friday morning. However, in the evening the skies cleared and if Mr. Easton had not already left he would no doubt have tried to fill the rest of the dates. He asked the Willmar Tribune to state that he very much regretted that he was not able to make all the dates in the County, but he hopes to return at some future date. At the ten meetings which he held there seemed to be a great deal of interest in the subject. No doubt his work will result in a great deal of good for the cause he represents in this County.

The Farmers and Reform.

Once a man said to the writer that the greatest bulwark against the repeal of abuses in government, by which farmers are sufferers, are the farmers themselves.

There is some truth in this. We as a class are too prone to attend to our own business—our own individual business. This has made us as a class neglectful of everybody's business—our own collective business.

From this comes the disposition of the farming classes to be conservative; and from it, too, comes their tendency to go the whole road when once they take up the cause of progress.

In portions of this country at this time the farmers are true progressives. In other regions they are quite the reverse.

It is time for them to take sides everywhere with reference to certain progressive measures which in even the most old-fashioned states are soon sure to be issues.

We are all in favor of democracy—the rule of the people and the ending of the rule of the Special Interests. As a rising tide flows the demand for new laws framed to the end that the people shall rule. Among these new measures are direct legislation through the initiative referendum and recall. Farmers should study these. We believe that nothing can be done in the way of giving farmers that proper weight in the government of the nation to which they are entitled, but which they have never exercised, so effective as the enactment of direct legislation laws. Many of our readers live in states where this reform is accomplished. These are not within the scope of this appeal. But upon all others we urge the claims of these great democratic measures.

In Switzerland there is only one state which has a political boss. That state is the only one which has failed to adopt the initiative and referendum. When every state in our Union has adopted these tools of democracy there will no longer be bosses and machines in America.

Election of senators by direct vote of the people is a coming issue. It must come if the Senate is to be anything more than a rich man's club standing for the interests of its members and their kind. As long as railways, express companies, smelting trusts and the like can through manipulation of legislatures elect United States senators, the Senate will be a bar to progress. The tool cannot do work against the hand that wields it. In the language of Isaiah, "Shall the ax boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if a rod should shake them that lift it up, or as a staff should lift up him that is not wood."

Shall a United States senator boast himself against him that heweth therewith? No! Then let us see that our constitution is so changed that the people shall do the hewing.

AUCTIONEERS—Cols. F. M. Woods, H. McHeun and W. N. Davis. CLERK—F. G. Handy.

The election of United States senators by direct vote of the people is necessary to the national welfare. We need senators, not Wall Street Senators.

A demand has recently been made for more stringent corrupt practices acts. Penal laws alone cannot effect reforms. The awful conditions in Adams County, Ohio, and in other places, arose in defiance of laws, and not for the lack of it; but for all that the revision of our corrupt practices acts in accordance with the best models is a good thing and farmers should be for such revision.

Wherever the direct primary has not been established, farmers should work at it. It is the only means yet found by which the farmer can have as much weight in nominations as does the city man.

Wherever farmers are members of legislatures they should support laws giving cities the commission form of government with the initiative, referendum and recall—for every such law passed helps along the People's Power movement by which alone the rights of the class of common men to which farmers mostly belong can be made and kept safe.

There are sinister influences working to keep from us the parcels post. There are sinister influences working to ruin the truth-telling, fearless magazines by raising their postal rates. There are sinister influences looking with greedy eyes on water-power, coal and phosphate lands. Influences like those that said in the days of the prophet, "My hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one that gathereth eggs that are forsaken have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or that opened the mouth, or chirped!"

The only way to balk these sinister influences is to put ourselves in the way effectively to move the wing and open the mouth and chirp against them that seek the riches of the people "as one gathereth eggs that are forsaken."

Get behind the People's Power movement, and work for it. Work for popular elections of United States senators. Work for the initiative, the referendum and recall. Work for direct primaries. Help the cities to get the commission form of government. Work for parcels post. Work against the muzzling of the magazines.—Herbert Quick, in Farm and Fireside.

Is the World Growing Better?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers everywhere, to take stomach and kidney trouble," she writes: "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at Carlson Bros.
