MINNESOTA ART EXHIBIT AT INDUSTRIAL BUILDING

Don't Fail to See This Interesting Collection While it is Here.

The Minnesota State Art Society has on display at the High School Industrial Building this week a very interesting and instructive exhibit. This exhibition is free and is open to the public every afternoon of this week after 3:30 p. m.

Those most competent to judge, who have already made a careful inspection, pronounce the exhibit as being of great interest and value to the community. And it is earnestly hoped that all our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to secure the benefits of this great educational factor, which is in our midst.

In connection with the exhibit at the Industrial building the State Library Commission has placed in the Willmar Public Library, for this week only, a collection of books which will give detailed information regarding the Arts and Crafts illustrated by the exhibit. Those interested should avail themselves of this opportunity while the books may be had.

Seminary and High School Both Win.

Last Friday afternoon the Seminary defeated Delano by the score of 53 to 17. The game resembled a comedy more than a basket ball game. Delano stood around and watched the Seminary place the ball in the basket which they certainly did for the sum total of 53 points, while Delano ran up the large score of 17 points, three of which were fouls. Delano lacked life and team work and looked as if the high school on the next evening would have equally as enjoyable time. But Saturday evening Delano showed a complete reversal of form. The high school hasn't been up against such a close guarding team this year. Delano was fast, ever on the alert and always following the ball. The half ended 8 to 10 in favor of Delano. The first part of the second half it looked as if Willmar was not destined to win. But in the last five minutes of play they got together and caged enough baskets to win. The high school surely pulled this game out of the fire. During the first half the local boys seemed unable to get together. As Erickson was on the sick list, this might account for the situation. Holt, who took Erickson's place, played a good game, but lacked Erickson's experience. Taylor got 3 baskets, Branton five, Johnson 2 and the rest was gotten by means of free throws.

Housekeepers' Club Entertains.

One of the prettiest socials of the season was given by the Housekeepers' Club last Saturday afternoon at the Odd Fellows hall.

The shades were drawn and the hall softly lighted with candles in old brass candlesticks. Flags and bunting and old time-honored and valued china and other relics were the decorations.

Mrs. Andrew Larson as Martha Washington looked very quaint in her old time costume and curls, and Philip Haley made a typical George Washington. Mrs. Moore, assisted by Mesdames McKinnon and Foley, poured the tea and served dainty refreshments at a prettily appointed table in true colonial style. Assisting about the rooms in old fashioned costumes were Mesdames Philip Haley, J. R. Petersen, George W. Tyler and C. F. Spencer.

An orchestra composed of Reuben Ekander, Wm. Mooney and Alvin Nordstrom rendered several very pretty selections. Piano duets by Misses Geraldine and Phyllis Haley were well received. Miss Margaret Hicks entertained very pleasantly with piano solos and a medley of patriotic airs. Mrs. B. Y. McNairy sang in a most charming manner several old time ballads so popular in by-gone days, and the Mesdames Breher and Coleman delighted their hearers with pretty vocal duets accompanied by Miss Hanscom.

Church Coffee.

Mesdames Crasswell and Maxwell Lewis will serve coffee at the Lewis' home on Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 4, at three o'clock p. m. All are cordially invited.

Jack's Leghorns.

Jack has been keeping books with his hens and in January finds that they lay 577 eggs, or an average of close to 15 eggs to each hen. To get a little better than 1 1/2 dozen eggs per day from 39 hens during the coldest month in the year is a pretty good record. Who can beat it?

Sheriff Peter Bonde inaugurated a crusade last Friday against pool room keepers in the city who have permitted minors to play at their tables. The cases were all secured Feb. 17 and 18, and the sheriff has a sufficient number of cases on his list to make the pool room men look out closely as to the age of their patrons after this.

The first case was that of A. C. McGrew, who was charged with permitting a 16-year-old high school student to play pool in his place. After some hesitation Mr. McGrew concluded to plead guilty and paid a fine of $10 and costs. James McGrew paid a similar fine on Saturday. We understand the sheriff has eight or nine more counts against the McGrew place which he will hold back if no further complaint is made. Other pool room men who were assessed fines of $10 each and costs in the Municipal court Friday were F. L. Ward, John Ward and A. H. Locke.
