

HOUSE APPROVES TARIFF MEASURE

Passes Underwood Bill by Vote of 281 to 139.

PARTY LINES CLOSELY DRAWN

Five Democrats and Fourteen Progressives Oppose Measure, but a Few of the Minority Support It.

Washington, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, proclaimed by the Democratic party as the answer to its platform pledge to reduce the tariff downward, was passed by the house. The vote was 281 to 139, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans for it. Four Progressives supported the measure and fourteen opposed it, while one independent Progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed Democratic donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber, a faint ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of congress.

Republicans who voted for the bill were Cary and Stafford of Wisconsin. Democrats who opposed it were Broussard, Dupre, Lazaro and Morgan of Louisiana, on account of the schedule reducing sugar 25 per cent and sending it to the free list in three years, and C. B. Smith of New York.

Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelly and Ruple of Pennsylvania, Nolan of California and Bryan of Washington, Kent of California, formerly a Republican, but now an independent Progressive. Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his Progressive followers voted with the minority. Representative Copley, a Progressive, did not vote, answering "present" to his name.

Bill Now Goes to Senate.

The tariff fight shifts from the house, with its overwhelming Democratic majority, to the senate, where the party's slim majority of six already has been reduced, as far as this bill is concerned, to four. Unless senators familiar with the progress of such legislation are mistaken there is now little prospect of a final vote on the bill before Aug. 1.

The bill's passage through the senate will be fought every step by a Republican organization, apparently entirely in accord on this subject. Democrats on the senate finance committee, which will handle the bill, express belief that it would go through in practically the same form as it passed the house and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

The subcommittees of the finance committee which have been investigating schedules of the Underwood bill for weeks plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but the wool, sugar and other schedules which brought out the hard fight in the house are not to be touched, according to the present plan.

The income tax and administration features are to stand. Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two senators from Louisiana will not accept the sugar schedule and that they might be willing to combine with others to defeat the whole bill.

A change of two or more Democratic votes would bring about the end of the Louisiana desire. Although there have been reports about the senate that the Democrats intend to allow one more senator to vote against sugar and another to vote against wool leaders of the finance committee refused to confirm it.

TO WAGE WAR ON CANCER

Several Wealthy Women Offer to Endow Society.

Washington, May 10.—Plans for formation of a society for study and prevention of cancer were announced here by Frederick L. Hoffman, a director of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Much of the effort will be of an educational nature.

A number of wealthy women, among them Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Russell Sage and Mrs. Speyer, have offered financial aid, he said, to start the movement.

Mr. Hoffman said that corsets, heat on the hips from the stem of a may pipe, growths caused by tar with those in the pitch industry, eating of too hot food and of brook trout, are among the known and probable causes of the disease.

O'HARA CHARGES INVESTIGATED

Young Woman Explains Affidavit Against Vice Prober.

RELATIONS NOT IMPROPER

Document Signed for Saloon Keeper Who Wanted to Coerce Illinois Lieutenant Governor.

Chicago, May 11.—Miss Maud Robinson, author of the affidavit calling into question the moral conduct of Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara, told her story to the Eitelson committee appointed to investigate the allegations. Asked point blank by Senator Eitelson if her relations with the lieutenant governor had been unduly intimate the witness replied in the negative.

Witness said that she signed the affidavit at the request of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, who assured her that it never would be made public, but would be used only to coerce O'Hara into steering his vice investigation away from Davis.

She said that the paper was meant as a club to be held over O'Hara, according to assurances given her. Later Davis asked her to sign a second affidavit against O'Hara, but upon advice of Fred Mortimer, a lawyer friend of Springfield, she declined to do so.

"I wish emphatically to deny that there was any improper relations between myself and Mr. O'Hara or that the subject was even discussed," she repeated.

Lieutenant Governor O'Hara has issued a statement denying the charges made in the woman's affidavit.

BRYAN LAUDS PEACE PLAN

Believes Wilson's Proposal Long Step in Right Direction.

New York, May 11.—W. J. Bryan, speaking at a dinner in honor of the foreign members of the international conference that is arranging the celebration of 100 years of peace among the English speaking peoples, declared "that the new peace plan offered by President Wilson to all nations is the latest and longest step toward peace." Mr. Bryan said in part:

"It is the purpose of this plan to close the gap and leave no question to become a cause of war. It is the belief of the president that when treaties have been made between this nation and all other nations severally, by which there will be investigations before hostilities begin, that war will become practically impossible."

NO EXEMPTION FOR UNIONS

President Wilson Will Sign Sundry Civil Measure.

Washington, May 9.—President Wilson let it be known that when he makes a statement concerning the appropriation in it for enforcing the anti-trust laws, the use of which is prohibited for the prosecution of labor unions or farmers' organizations under the Sherman act.

The president is expected to sign the bill, but will point out that the question of whether labor unions are immune from prosecution under the anti-trust laws is not affected by provision of the appropriation bill.

It is regarded as practically certain that in the December session of congress an effort will be made to revise the anti-trust laws in this regard.

Jap Ambassador Would Settle Land Controversy.

Washington, May 11.—Secretary Bryan and Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, got down to business at an early conference over the California alien land law bill. Japan's protest already has been formally presented and the ambassador is waiting to learn what the United States proposes to do about the bill, which the California legislature and awaiting Governor Johnson's signature.

Added interest is given to the report by the employment of Carmel Thompson, former treasurer of the United States, to take charge of all the Hill ore properties. It is believed that he will head the operating forces of the Hill interests and be the leader of the expected struggle with the Great Steel corporation.

While the trustees are careful to avoid any direct announcement of their apparent intention to operate these properties when the steel combine lease expires, yet the report broadly intimates this is the course they will pursue.

Attorney General Presses Fight for "Pure" Flour.

Washington, May 12.—The fight for "pure" flour has been carried to the supreme court by the department of justice. Attorney General McReynolds and Assistant Attorney General Adkins have filed with the court an application for a review of the decision of the eighth United States circuit court of appeals, which denied the right of the government to condemn flour bleached by electricity by the Alno process.

The controversy turns upon the interpretation of that section of the pure food and drugs act which declares that an article shall be deemed adulterated if it contains any added poisonous ingredient which shall be injurious to health.

ITALIAN SLAYS HIS RIVAL

Jealous Minneapolis Man Also Fatally Wounds Young Woman With Shotgun.

Micka Bruno, Italian, was shot and killed and Martha Rossa, Polish, twenty-five years of age, was shot and fatally wounded in a lovers' quarrel at Minneapolis. The shooting was done by Nick Dritano, according to the police, who say that Dritano has confessed.

According to the police Bruno returned home and found Dritano in the embrace of the woman. He resented it and told Dritano to leave the house. Dritano is said to have agreed. Instead he went into an adjoining room, got a shotgun and fired twice through a curtain separating the rooms.

He does not know, according to the police, how the shots took effect. He carried a second cartridge in his mouth and, as soon as he had fired the first shot, he reloaded the gun and fired again, the police say he told them.

Bruno was dead when the police entered the house. The Rossa woman was rushed in the city ambulance to the city hospital, where she died a few hours later.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL FAMILY

Minneapolis Man Shoots Wife and Child and Ends His Own Life.

Discouraged over his inability to work and a victim of the white plague, Henry Beck of Minneapolis, twenty-two years old, shot and seriously wounded his wife and seven-month-old son, then shot himself. He died almost instantly. The baby probably will die.

Beck was discharged a week ago from the Minneapolis workhouse, where he had been sent for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. When he was found by the police he had only 10 cents and a doctor's certificate in his pocket. The certificate stated that he was unable to work. Police blame drink and dependency for the crime.

Neighbors heard the shots at the Beck home and notified the police. Detectives were sent to the district to watch for Beck, the police being aware that he had ended his own life. When they arrived at the home they were confronted by a ghastly sight.

Before the broken door of Mrs. Beck's room was the body of the husband. The bullet from his own revolver had passed through his heart. On the bed in the room was Mrs. Beck, blood flowing from a wound in her right arm. In her left she clasped Robert, the seven-month-old boy, shot through the left thigh.

Fred D. Sherman, clerk of the board, was appointed assistant commissioner and placed in charge of the office. His salary was raised from $1,800 to $2,400.

This action was the direct result of the statement issued by the commissioner in which he charged State Auditor Iverson and Secretary of State Schmalz, board members, with the desire to "pursue a policy of secrecy" in regard to making public the lists of inquiries concerning Minnesota opportunities.
