We are not going to ship in any more summer goods. While you yet have a good stock of cool things to select from, we shall not have them long.

WHY?

The very lowest prices at which we are now selling our up-grade merchandise will very soon empty our store of every piece of summer goods.

BIG REDUCTIONS

Have been made on all Summer Wash Goods, Gingham, Lawns, Voiles, etc., Shirt Waists, House Dresses and Aprons.

Time works quick changes in the growing girl. Pig-tails and short skirts are soon forgotten in the maturer charms of the debutante.

Sometimes though you will ache for a picture of her as she romped in from school or play.

Think how she would like one too, in the after years—to show her friends and possibly her children. Make the appointment while the thought is fresh in your mind.

Farm notes in the New London Times gives the valuable information that "goats like sunflower leaves". They like tincans and sardine boxes better, how-some-ever.

The country correspondent writes that "this is great corn weather."

... The Duck and the Hen.

You have all noticed that when a duck lays an egg, she waddles off behind the barn and very quietly lays an egg. When a hen lays an egg, she makes noise enough about it so that everyone within a radius of six blocks knows what has happened. What is the result? Everybody eats hen's eggs. It pays to advertise.—Ex.

Hank Hollomolar of DeGruff says that he considers ter-backer very juicyful.

An Afton man raised strawberries this season so large that it took only nine to fill a box. The Raymond News wants to know, never-the-less, how high was the bottom of the box. That might make some difference, alright, alright.

Jessiestreet Gingleson—"What's the matter with that hen of yours, neighbor?"

Cyrus Cacklecop—Rheumatiz. Ye see, she sat down to hatch some of those hail as fell one morning last week thinkin' them was eggs. Bad business that."

Traveler—"Should I take this road to Kerkhoven?"

Native—"Naw, I wouldn't if I was you, stranger. Us folks as live around here needs it ourselves."
