Pioneer Passes.

James Marshall, a survivor of the battle of Acon in the Indian uprising in 1862, and later for many years identified with the grain trade in Minneapolis, died at his home in the latter city on Monday afternoon of this week. He had passed his seventy-eighth birthday on March 4th last. He came into the territory of Minnesota in 1855 in an ox cart and was identified thru an active life time with the development of the grain trade in the Northwest. His brother, Thomas Marshall, who was in the same fight with the Indians, was badly wounded in that fight. Litchfield Review.

The deceased is a relative of Dr. A. F. Mantor of this city.

Wilson-Knutson.

The marriage of Mr. Walter Wilson to Miss Jennie Knudson, both of this village, occurred in the Presbyterian church at St. Cloud Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. The Rev. T. M. Findley of Glenwood, was the officiating clergyman. The bride was dressed in a blue serge suit and a white hat, and the groom wore dark blue.
The groom is the popular mail carrier on Route 1, Spicer, and has by his courteous and efficient services as well as his genial disposition won for himself a host of friends here and among his patrons.
The bride was, until two weeks ago, the editor of this paper, in which work she had been engaged for the past five years. She is a young lady of estimable character and talents, a true woman in every sense of the word and we feel safe in predicting that her husband will be a happy man.
The young couple left later for Osakis, where they will spend their honeymoon. The groom has purchased the Oscar Ored residence in this village, where they will be at home to their friends the first of October.
Their host of friends extend to them, hearty congratulations and wishes for a long, happy and useful life together.—Green Lake Breeze.

For Young Hunters.

It is always safe to think every gun is loaded, until a close inspection has shown it to be empty. Never, under any circumstances, put a loaded gun into a buggy or auto. This practice has cost more lives than the Mexican War.
Never crawl thru a fence with a loaded gun. It takes but a moment to remove the shells and all possibility of accident.
Always carry a gun with the muzzle pointed down into the ground or up into the air. Don't carry over your shoulder, for then you don't know where it is pointing.
Never poke the muzzle of your gun into a companion's ribs, as it causes an uncomfortable feeling, and then, too, it might go off. If you must be careless, let it bump against your own ribs, don't endanger the lives of others.
Don't go hunting with those who do any of the fool stunts listed above.—Maynard News.

Announcement.

Miss Esther Wolberg wishes to announce that she will take a limited number of pupils at her studio at 510 Benson Ave. W on Fridays.

Fashion Week—Twin Cities

Here's An Education In Styles September 22 to 27

The merchants of the Twin Cities are going to answer the Northwest's question of What to Wear and What to Use. They have combined to display for one week all the newest creations of Dame Fashion.

The four corners of the world have been scoured for novelties. Nothing has been overlooked which will be pleasing or comfortable.

This entire collection of apparel, adornment and articles for the home will be attractively arranged by expert designers in a most brilliant exhibition. It will be instructive and beautiful—a great exposition of the changes which have taken place since the days of the candle and the homespun.

The cities will be at their best. The lakes and parks invite you and the theatres will have special attractions for you.
